- (4) No

* "Federal personnel" are referred to in the DoD IT Portfolio Repository (DITPR) as "Federal employees."

b. If "No," ensure that DITPR or the authoritative database that updates DITPR is annotated for the reason(s) why a PIA is not required. If the DoD information system or electronic collection is not in DITPR, ensure that the reason(s) are recorded in appropriate documentation.

c. If "Yes," then a PIA is required. Proceed to Section 2.

f. Authority to collect information. A Federal law, Executive Order of the President (EO), or DoD requirement must authorize the collection and maintenance of a system of records.

(1) If this system has a Privacy Act SORN, the authorities in this PIA and the existing Privacy Act SORN should be the same.

(2) Cite the authority for this DoD information system or electronic collection to collect, use, maintain and/or disseminate PII. (If multiple authorities are cited, provide all that apply.)

(a) Whenever possible, cite the specific provisions of the statute and/or EO that authorizes the operation of the system and the collection of PII.

(b) If a specific statute or EO does not exist, determine if an indirect statutory authority can be cited. An indirect authority may be cited if the authority requires the operation or administration of a program, the execution of which will require the collection and maintenance of a system of records.

(c) DoD Components can use their general statutory grants of authority ("internal housekeeping") as the primary authority. The requirement, directive, or instruction implementing the statute within the DoD Component should be identified.

32 CFR 219.115, Protection of Human Subjects and DoDD 3216.02, 4.5 and 5.3, "Protection of Human Subjects and Adherence to Ethical Standards in DoD-Supported Research," March 25, 2002.

g. Summary of DoD information system or electronic collection. Answers to these questions should be consistent with security guidelines for release of information to the public.

(1) Describe the purpose of this DoD information system or electronic collection and briefly describe the types of personal information about individuals collected in the system.

The mission of the human research protection program is to foster and oversee research and development activities by promoting policies and procedures that facilitate timely and effective reviews of research and ensuring that approved research is conducted in accordance with applicable rules and ethical guidelines to protect the rights and welfare of the participants, including service members, employees, and their families. The purpose of this system is to track individual researchers to ensure that everyone engaged in the performance of research at the DoD member institutions is properly trained and qualified.

Personally identifiable information (PII) that may be collected include:

Name

Address

Phone numbers

Personal E-mail address

Employment information

Education information

Information will be collected from and about any category of individuals that uses this system to submit a research proposal.

According to DoD Directive 3216.02, the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness has delegated responsibilities with respect to matters affecting medical research to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs) (ASD(HA)). Therefore, the system is centrally managed and owned by HA.

System POC:

Program Manager, Research Regulatory Oversight

5113 Leesburg Pike

Suite 901

Falls Church, VA 22041

The system will be accessed by all participating sites. The system is accessible to the public via the web; however, investigators will only have access to their own information.

(2) Briefly describe the privacy risks associated with the PII collected and how these risks are addressed to safeguard privacy.

Potential mishandling of PII is low. The privacy risks associated with the PII collected are unauthorized access, inaccurate information entered into the application/form, and unauthorized disclosure of PII.

Safeguards:

Force Health Protection and Readiness (FHP&R) has a mandatory requirement, tracked by itself, for all individuals to complete Department of Defense (DoD) Information Assurance (IA) training as well as Privacy Act training. System access is monitored by system administrators and routinely checked for requirements of access. All users of the system are required to justify their access via their supervisor. Security Safeguards are in place to mitigate the risks.

A dedicated IA team addresses security posture of data center and the application that resides within. As a result the application and its supporting database are being built/maintained to Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA) standard Security Technical Information Guides (STIG) requirements. The application is hosted in a secure, access controlled facility, and staffed with experienced system administrators and IA personnel who have the appropriate security clearances. All personnel, including contractors and vendor personnel, are required to obtain and maintain FHP&R security badges, Common Access Cards (CAC), Army Knowledge Online (AKO)/Defense Knowledge Online (DKO) accounts and to adhere to the security requirements of the FHP&R data center secured facility. Access to servers is provided on a need-to-know basis and to authorized authenticated personnel only. Defense-in-depth security layers, including but not limited to, Firewall, Host Bases Security System (HBSS), Intrusion Detection System (IDS), Access Control Lists, Secure Socket Layers (SSL) such as Hypertext Transfer Protocol Secure (HTTPS) and, CAC and password authentication, are in place to protect the software application, back end database and associated systems. Records are maintained in a secured area. Password authorization and monitoring are the responsibility of the system managers.

The system provides two-factor DoD authentication from any site including CAC and passwords, by leveraging Single Sign-On capabilities via AKO/DKO. Access to personal information is restricted to those who require the data in the performance of the official duties, and have received proper training relative to the Privacy Act and Information Assurance.
