TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION:

Design for Accessibility Needs Assessment Survey

PURPOSE:

This survey is being administered in the context of a Cooperative Agreement between the National Endowment for the Arts and the Institute for Human Centered Design. The purpose is to develop and implement a comprehensive and interactive Web site, called Design for Accessibility, that integrates new and existing cultural accessibility resources.

This survey solicits information from a diverse range of target audiences within the arts and cultural fields about their current staffing and training to meet responsibilities for ensuring equal opportunities for people with disabilities. The survey asks how responsible parties are currently finding information and technical assistance about accessibility in cultural environments and the challenges they face in finding needed information. Finally the survey asks respondents to identify features they would like to see on the Web site.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

The respondents include State and Regional Arts Agencies, State Humanities Councils, State Libraries, non-profit arts organizations, arts service organizations, and design trade organizations. The recipients are executive directors and we anticipate that the actual respondents will be a mix of executive directors, administrative staff, and designated 504/ADA Coordinators in the organizations.
