IDU Survey for Young Adults

INTRO_1. Thank you for joining our study. We are doing this study to understand how people get infected with hepatitis C while injecting drugs. We hope to use this information to help people who inject drugs stay safe in the future. Our goal is to reduce the risk of infection associated with injecting drugs.

Before you begin, we want to ask you to help us with a problem we have in studies like this one. For a lot of different reasons, people who take surveys about using drugs sometimes feel uncomfortable telling us they did things that other people might disapprove of. For example, it is pretty common for people to say they haven't ever used somebody else's needle to inject drugs even when they know they have. They don't tell the truth because they are worried that people will disapprove or think less of them or that they will get into trouble. Not everybody does this, but some people do, and that makes the study results harder to understand.

It would be very easy to fill out this survey and not give fully honest responses. In fact, nothing would happen to you if you did. However, this study will be so much more useful and helpful for people who inject drugs if you give us the best and most truthful information that you can. Remember, your name is not connected to this survey in any way and no one will ever know how you answered these questions. You will not get into trouble for answering these questions truthfully. So, we would like to ask you to help us with this study by trying to always give accurate responses even if the questions are hard to think about. Thank you so much for your time in helping us.

The survey will take 45 minutes and will now begin.
