Request for Determination of Eligibility as Nonprofit Sponsor and/or Mortgage

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Office of Housing
Federal Housing Commissioner

OMB Approval No. 2502-0057
(exp. 05/31/2012)

General.

Section 221(d)(3), 231, 232, and 235 of the National Housing Act, as amended, Section 106(b) of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, provided mortgage insurance of financing for nonprofit mortgages. HUD regulations require that:

Nonprofit mortgagors and other nonprofit organizations participating in HUD programs shall be corporations or associations organized for purposes other than the making of a profit or gain for themselves or persons identified therewith and which the Commissioner finds are in no manner controlled by nor under the direction of persons or firms seeking to derive profit or gain therefrom.

The purpose of these instructions and form is to obtain the information necessary to enable HUD to make a determination, prior to issuance of a SAMA or Feasibility letter, that the sponsor of a mortgagor or the mortgagor itself, if the mortgagor has been created, is truly nonprofit in accordance with the definition above and demonstrates probable success in project development and continuing operation. This determination will prevent, insofar as possible, unnecessary outlay of funds for fees, plans, etc., by a sponsor or proposed mortgagor, who may be found ineligible. If found ineligible, the proposed sponsorship will not be eligible as a nonprofit mortgagor for project mortgage insurance. Determination of nonprofit eligibility requires a knowledge of the financial and credit capacity and the motivation of the sponsor and/or mortgagor, the relationship between the sponsor and mortgagor, and the relationship between the mortgagor or sponsor and the various parties or firms concerned with the project and mortgage transaction. There must be a full disclosure of all relationships and of all facts pertaining to each relationship.

Qualifications for Successful Sponsorship

Nonprofit sponsors must have demonstrated continuity, financial and credit capacity and a serious and long range desire to provide housing for elderly or low(er) income families and/or individuals. Churches, labor unions, and fraternal organizations are more likely to have well-established community and social service activity and experience than other types of sponsors. However, a nonprofit group could have been recently formed with a sufficiently broad base of community or neighborhood support so as to assure continuity and financial stability for successful operation of the proposed project.

Factors which suggest weakness include: (1) inadequate financial stability and resources, (2) improper attitude toward obligations, (3) no previous experience, (4) no established roots in the neighborhood in which the proposed project would be located, (5) evidence that a builder, landowner, consultant or other party expecting to directly and/or indirectly benefit financially has initiated the project and influences the sponsorship, (6) lack of assured continuity or support by the nonprofit group as a whole, (7) heavy commitments in other fields which would tax the financial capacity of the group and weaken its support of the proposed project, and (8) lack of professional expertise to develop, build and operate the project successfully. Some sponsors are clearly ineligible without considering factors of strength and weakness, such as a nonprofit foundation controlled by the builder or the builder's family, or by any other person or persons who would derive a profit or fee from the project.

A group with deep roots in the community or neighborhood will probably be stronger than a national or regional organization without established roots in the community. Moreover, such a locally-oriented sponsor is in a better position to have knowledge of the market for the project.

A nonprofit sponsor must be motivated not only by a desire to develop a good project, but also by a concern for the project's continuing successful operation and financial viability. The entire membership of the sponsoring organization, not just a few of its members, must be motivated.

Establishing Eligibility

In order to establish that a nonprofit sponsor is properly qualified to initiate, complete, and operate a housing project for elderly or low(er) income families or individuals HUD requires that:

1. The sponsor:
  - a. have the financial capacity not only to develop and build the project, but also have financial support which will remain with the project during the term of the mortgage;
  - b. is prepared by written resolution of its officers, directors or trustees to acknowledge the responsibilities and obligations of sponsorship and continuing ownership, and this position reflects the will of its members;
  - c. agrees that all pledges made for the investment requirement must be converted to cash prior to initial endorsement or initial closing;
  - d. has the necessary longevity to continue on through the full term of the mortgage.
2. The sponsor:
  - a. is reliable on the basis of its credit and community oriented reputation and performance or that of its principals. To determine reliability, consideration will be given to any previous experience the sponsor has had in providing housing or related social or community services;
  - b. fully understands the responsibilities and obligations, including financial, that attach to sponsorship of a project and its continuing successful operation;
  - c. either has within its own organization or has made arrangements to provide for the necessary management and other professional skills essential for the successful development, completion and long term operation of the proposed project. A knowledge of social services resources and principles of tenant participation is implicit in the effective management of such projects.
3. The principals and membership of the nonprofit sponsor organization must be prepared to explore in depth with the HUD Field Office Manager or his/her designee the financial arrangements for the project. HUD is concerned about the availability of funds to meet financial requirements such as discounts, both interim and permanent, any required operating deficits, change orders, problems connected with land acquisition, selection of architect and contractors, construction, rent-up and management.

4. The sponsor:

a. is acting on its own behalf and is not, either knowingly or unwittingly, under the influence, control, or direction of any outside party seeking to derive profit or gain from the proposed project, such as a landowner, real estate broker, contractor, or consultant. A nonprofit sponsor may not borrow or accept funds from such parties.

b. has a currently effective ruling from the Internal Revenue Service of the United States, which established its status as a tax-exempt, nonprofit organization, or is entitled to such status without a specific ruling.

Capacity of Sponsor

The proposed project should not be beyond the financial and managerial capacity of the sponsor. One would not expect a small bank to underwrite a major industrial financing venture. Similarly, it is not reasonable to expect a small church or other group to assume financial, managerial and ownership responsibility for a large project. Project sponsorship and management must be in keeping with the financial and managerial capabilities of the sponsoring organization.

If a well-motivated and reliable sponsor proposes a project beyond its capabilities, a meeting should be scheduled with the sponsorship to discuss the need for co-sponsors which would permit the combining of capabilities to the extent necessary to satisfy the requirements of the proposal, or the size of the project should be reduced. Such a meeting should include the membership and governing board of the nonprofit sponsor as well as representatives from Mortgage Credit, Housing Management, and the Office of the Director, Housing Development Division.

Responsibilities of Sponsorship

Some nonprofit sponsors may assume that the responsibility for the project, particularly in time of stress, rests with HUD, the builder, or someone other than themselves, and that their role as sponsor is merely to lend their name to the project. If this attitude exists, it must be dispelled. Sponsors must understand that it is their project, and must evidence a serious intent to provide a continuing financial support and effective management. Sponsors must act in prudent business manner as would be expected of any project owner.

The FHA commitment and mortgage insurance are predicated upon HUD's evaluation: (1) that there will be sufficient financial support from the nonprofit mortgagor along with mortgage proceeds plus required escrows to develop and build the project and to provide funds for estimated operating deficits during the initial rent-up period, change orders, cost overruns and other unexpected cost associated with the development and construction, and (2) that the rental or project income will be sufficient to meet all operating expenses and mortgage payments during the full term. Nonprofit sponsors must understand, however, that owning and operating a project can involve difficult and trying problems, including the possibility that some unforeseen circumstances could cause project funds to run short. Nonprofit sponsors should understand that HUD would expect them to cope with these problems at the time of need by all means at their disposal, such as promotional help, contributive management or services, and appeals to membership or affiliated organizations.

HUD insists upon a financial as well as a moral and social commitment from nonprofit sponsors. There must be a full understanding of responsibility on the part of the nonprofit sponsor. Sponsors must, of course, also establish that they have the capabilities to meet expenses prior to the drawdown of mortgage funds, including expenses for architectural services, legal and other professional services, etc. Such expenses need not be covered by the sponsor's funds alone. They may be met through assured advances from such other parties as a bank, a Federal, State or municipal fund to advance seed money, a foundation, a church hierarchy, or another nonprofit organization in accordance with item number 4a, in the section of this form entitled "establishing eligibility."
