1 INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to list all the data elements collected online from the applicants that wish to apply for the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) program. The data element differences between EIS and other CDC fellowship programs are documented in Appendix B. The data elements are grouped by the high level entities in the system.

The Fellowship Management System (FMS) online application system is a streamlined application for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) fellowships where the applicants can submit their information online as well as track the various statuses of the application (i.e., all materials received, whether they are invited for interview). FMS is a robust flexible framework and has been successfully tailored for the various CDC fellowships including EIS.

1.1 DOCUMENT STRUCTURE

This document is broken down by the major sections of the application process. The application instructions and login & registration pages are documented as the separate sections. A section has its own chapter that is further divided by subsections where applicable. Each section/subsection contains:

- Table that lists the data elements (columns name), columns label, high level entity, list of values and the figure numbers.
- Screen-shots to illustrate the instructions and label of the data elements.

The consolidated lists of values are documented in Appendix C.

The emails generated by system are documented in Appendix A, and the data element differences between the EIS and other programs are documented in Appendix B.

15.4 INTERVIEW INVITATION FOR US APPLICANTS

Thank you for applying to the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) program beginning July 2011. EIS offers a unique opportunity to learn and practice applied epidemiology as an important member of the CDC team. Because EIS officers serve in many important roles--from leading field investigations, to conducting epidemiologic analyses of existing data bases, to designing, implementing, and evaluating surveillance systems--EIS is an intense, high-energy program. The EIS model is training through service.

As the next step in the application process, you are invited to interview at CDC in Atlanta, Georgia. The EIS Program office is not able to provide reimbursement for any expenses associated with your travel to interview in Atlanta.

In considering whether to interview, please review the following EIS requirements:

- Commitment to a full-time, 2-year program beginning in July
- Flexibility and willingness to work in any of the five EIS assignments you rank
- Complete attendance at the following:
  - Spring EIS Conference (April 11 through 15, 2011). This Conference occurs before the 2-year assignment begins. Expenses for conference travel will be paid for by the EIS Program
  - Summer EIS course (4 weeks in July)
  - Regional and national conferences and other meetings, as required
- Relocation to an EIS assignment at least 50 miles away from current residence
- Termination of previous work and school responsibilities
- Ability to travel on short notice as needed by CDC (most travel lasts less than one month)
- Flexibility in work days and hours to ensure rapid response to public health problems and to meet training requirements (you may be required to work some weekends or holidays)

The interview process takes a full day. The interviewers will inquire about the depth of your interest in public health, epidemiology, and the EIS program. In addition, they will assess personal qualities such as communication and interpersonal skills, professionalism, maturity, flexibility, motivation, and enthusiasm. We encourage you to find out as much as you can about CDC and the EIS program prior to your interviews. We have included an EIS assignment book from last year to assist you.

On the day of your interview, you will participate in five 30-minute interviews. These will consist of interviews with: a) a member of the EIS Selection Committee; b) an EIS Field Assignments Branch supervisor; and c) representatives from other CDC programs. The EIS Interview Request form, with a list of CDC program areas, is attached.

If you are interested in interviewing, complete and return the EIS Interview Request form to EISInterviewCoord@cdc.gov. Your interview date will be confirmed by e-mail. You are encouraged to schedule your interview as soon as possible.

Report to the EIS Program office by 7:30 a.m. on your interview day. The EIS Office is located at 2400 Century Parkway, NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30345 (map and hotels in the area included). Be prepared to show a picture ID when entering the building (e.g., U.S. driver's license, passport). If you have questions about the interview process call the EIS interview coordinator at 404-498-6110 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. (EST) Monday through Friday.
