Welcome!

The purpose of the FY 2010 and FY 2011 Survey of State Government R&D is to measure your state's contributions toward scientific advancement and technological innovation. The results of this survey will be used to estimate national totals for R&D in conjunction with other data collected by the National Science Foundation from private industry, academic institutions, and the federal government.

* Warning ****

You have accessed a United States government computer. Use of this computer without authorization or for purposes for which authorization has not been extended is a violation of federal law and can be punished with fines or imprisonment (Public Law 99-474). Violators are subject to having their processes terminated. System usage by an individual accessing the site may be monitored, recorded, and subject to audit. Use of this system indicates consent to monitoring and recording.

Burden Statement

Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless such collection displays a valid Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control number. The OMB control number for this survey is displayed at the top right of the survey "Home" page.

The time required to complete these responses is estimated to be approximately four hours for the state coordinator and one and a half hours for agency respondents.

The burden on state coordinators includes the initial identification of department and agency contacts, monitoring of department and agency responses, and final review and verification of state data.

The burden on agency respondents includes the initial collection of data and the entry of data into the Web application.

Send comments about this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing burden to:

Paperwork Project 0607-0933
U.S. Census Bureau
4700 Silver Hill Road, Stop 1500
Washington, DC 20233-1500.

You may e-mail comments to Paperwork@census.gov; use "Paperwork Project 0607-0933 " as the subject.

Overview for State Coordinator

As Coordinator for your state, we are asking you to:

- Identify and provide contact information for departments and agencies in your state that may have conducted or funded R&D during FY 2010 or FY 2011.
- Work with the selected departments and agencies as they complete the survey.

Below is an overview of the steps you will need to follow to complete this submission.

Step 1 Provide state coordinator contact information

Step 2 Preview questions, definitions, and examples

Step 3 Provide department/agency contact information

Step 4 Notify department/agency contacts

Step 5 Notify the Census Bureau so that the contacts can begin survey

Step 6 Monitor department progress

Step 7 Review and submit data

A) What does R&D mean?

Research and development (R&D) is creative work conducted systematically to:

- 1) extend scientific knowledge, or
- 2) devise new or improved applications

Applications can include materials, products, devices, processes, systems, or services.

Back to top

B) What should be included/excluded in R&D?

R&D includes, but is not limited to, activities that produce:	R&D does NOT include:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ideas that might be patented Findings that could be published in academic journals New or improved products or applications 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Program planning and evaluation Management studies Strategic planning Business development services for new companies Market research or analysis Economic / policy / feasibility studies Routine data collection / dissemination Information systems Routine monitoring / testing General patient services Marketing of products / services Commercialization (includes promoting/producing the products/services from R&D projects)

Examples of classifying R&D in four situations

Activity	It IS R&D...	It is NOT R&D...
Technical assistance	You hire a technical consultant to test the disease resistance for the new fish species you are developing. (The assistance addresses the uncertainty of the science/technology aspects of the product or service.)	You hire a technical consultant to help you design the graphic design for the package to ship your new fish species when you begin offering it for sale to other states. (The assistance addresses the uncertainty of the marketing/production aspects of the product or service.)
Help for new businesses	You provide funding to new businesses to help them with the costs of building prototypes of products they are developing.	You provide funding for new technology companies to help them acquire basic skills to market their new products.
Consulting	You use a consultant to plan testing of a highway pavement material that your transportation research center is trying to develop.	You use a consultant to help you secure health and safety approval for your new pavement material.
Developing a product from your research	You hire a university research center to test a new type of grass you developed to test whether it will survive actual conditions along the coastline.	You hire a law firm to help you with the process for patenting the new grass that you developed.

Back to top

C) What makes it R&D?

What makes it R&D	When it is R&D	When it is NOT R&D
R&D is novel. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> It increases our knowledge of the subject. It hasn't been done before. 	You are testing blood samples as part of a research project to find out the side effects of a new cancer treatment.	You are collecting information from samples of patients to estimate the incidence of chicken pox in the state's population. (You are using a standard approach to estimate the spread of chicken pox.)
R&D creates solutions useful to others. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Others might benefit from the findings. The findings can be generalized to other situations and locations. 	You are testing a pavement on your highways that is currently used only at airports. Other states will want the results.	You are testing pavement on your state's highways to estimate how much you need to budget for pavement replacement over the next five years. (Other states will not benefit from your specific state information.)
The outcome of R&D is uncertain. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The solution isn't obvious to an expert in that field. 	Your research involves monitoring streams to determine whether a new program is increasing the population of a particular type of fish.	You are monitoring streams as part of plan to implement long-term monitoring for a particular type of fish. (The monitoring plan has already been tested and you are certain of the quality of the plan.)

Back to top

D) What are sources of R&D funding (Question 1)?

State	State appropriations and grants, tobacco settlement funds, state lottery proceeds
Federal	Grants, contracts, and appropriations from the United States government
All other	Grants and contracts from: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Companies Nonprofit organizations Other state governments City, county, regional, or other local governments

Back to top

E) What does R&D performer mean (Question 1)?

Performers are the people who conduct R&D.

Internal Performers:	Within your department/agency <ul style="list-style-type: none"> R&D performed by your department's/agency's employees Services performed by others in support of an internal R&D project (e.g., lab testing) Administration/management of external R&D project
External Performers:	Those outside your department/agency who perform R&D under the administrative oversight or control of your department/agency. This may include projects for your department/agency, as well as your extramural research programs.
Academic institutions	Public or private universities and colleges
Companies and individuals	Companies or individuals under contract for research projects or that received grants for research projects
Others	Nonprofit organizations Other departments/agencies within your state Other state governments City, county, regional, or other local governments Federal government

Back to top

F) What expenditures should be included/excluded?

Expenditures are amounts paid for current operations (Question 1 through 4) and capital outlays (Question 5).

Respondents to this survey will be asked to report expenditures by performer of R&D. Please refer below for guidance on the types of expenditures to report for internal and external performers.

Expenditures for your Department/Agency as Performer (Internal)

Include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Salaries, wages, and benefits Supplies Purchased services (e.g. lab testing) Travel Indirect or overhead costs for R&D activities Equipment 	Do NOT include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Agency and other fiduciary fund expenditures Intra-agency transactions Non-cash payments

Back to top

Expenditures for Academic Institutions, Companies or Individuals, or Others as Performers (External)

Include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Grants Payments for contracted R&D projects Reimbursable costs for R&D projects 	Do NOT include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pass-through grants over which you have no administrative oversight or control Direct appropriations to state universities that are used for R&D activities over which you have no oversight or control. (That information is reported by universities on NSF Survey of Higher Education Institutions.)

Back to top

G) What is the definition of Fiscal Year?

Fiscal Year 2010 is your state’s fiscal year ending in 2010.

Fiscal Year 2011 is your state’s fiscal year ending in 2011.

For example, if you are on a July - June fiscal year, Fiscal Year 2010 would be your July 1, 2009 to June 30, 2010 fiscal period.

Back to top

H) What is the definition of basic research (Question 2)?

It may be helpful to compare the three components of R&D —basic research, applied research and development. Report all three types of research for Questions 1, 3, 4 and 5. Report only basic research for Question 2.

Below are definitions and examples.

Basic Research (Question 2) is conducted primarily to acquire new knowledge. It can be pure basic research without a specific product or process in mind, or it can be oriented basic research to produce a broad base of knowledge for future research.

Applied Research is conducted with a specific practical objective.

Development is the systematic use of the knowledge or understanding gained from research directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, or methods, including the design and development of prototypes and processes.

Examples
Basic research	Applied research	Development
You are studying the properties of blood to determine what affects coagulation.	You are conducting research on how a new chicken pox vaccine affects blood coagulation.	You are testing a newly developed chicken pox vaccine with various ages of school children before implementing it statewide.
You are studying the properties of molecules under various heat and cold conditions.	You are conducting research on the properties of particular substances under various heat and cold conditions with the objective of finding longer lasting components for pavement.	You are testing a newly developed pavement under various types of heat and cold conditions prior to using it on your state’s highways.
You are studying the heart chambers of various fish species.	You are examining various levels of a toxic substance to determine the maximum safe level for fish in a stream.	You are designing a new system for monitoring a stream that will try out the results of your recent research in a real world situation.

Back to top

I) What is the definition of "construction and acquisition of facilities" (Question 5)?

Construction and Acquisition of Facilities Used Primarily for R&D includes major costs for construction and purchase of buildings to be primarily used as R&D facilities. Include new construction, major renovations, and purchase of land or buildings.

Department/Agency Contact Information

Contact information for departments/agencies identified for last year's survey is provided in the "Preselected Agency" list below. This information will be used by the Census Bureau to contact these departments/agencies with instructions for accessing and completing the survey questions online.

- Please verify the preselected information, or you may make changes by clicking on the department/agency name.
- Use the "Add Department/Agency" button at the bottom of this page to identify and provide information for additional agencies you think should also participate in the FY 2010 and FY 2011 survey.

All departments/agencies will answer a short screener question to determine if they had qualifying R&D expenditures for FY 2010 and FY 2011.

Please DO NOT add academic institutions to the list of department/agencies since they are surveyed separately.

If you would like to delete a department/agency on your state's list, please click on the department/agency name.
