Section B: Your Preferences for Saltwater Fishing Trips

In this section we want to know about your preferences for different types of saltwater fishing trips. Each question will ask you to compare two single day fishing trips that vary in the following ways:

- Target species: The species of fish you expect to catch on the trip.
- Total number of fish caught per trip: Your expected total catch of the target species. Your total may be restricted by the bag limit and/or the minimum size limit.
- Bag limit: The number of fish of the target species that you are legally allowed to keep per fishing trip.
- Minimum size limit: The minimum length of the target species that you may keep. You are not legally allowed to keep fish that measure less than this length.
- Catch at or above minimum size: Your expected catch of the target species that are equal to or longer than the minimum size limit.
- Trip cost: Includes your personal share of the costs associated with gas, wear and tear on your vehicle, tolls, ferries, parking, access fees, food, ice, bait, and fishing equipment used on this trip.
- Other fish: Any fish you might expect to catch on a fishing trip for the target species (not including the target species).

These definitions are also provided on each of the following pages for your reference. Please refer to them as needed.
