

NOAA RECREATIONAL FISHING SURVEY

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 10 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other suggestions for reducing this burden to Rob Andrews, NOAA Fisheries Service, 1315 East-West Hwy., Silver Spring, MD 20910.

This is a voluntary survey, and responses are kept confidential as required by section 402(b) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act and NOAA Administrative Order 216-100, Confidentiality of Fisheries Statistics, and will not be released for public use except in aggregate statistical form without identification as to its source. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subjected to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act, unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB Control Number.

This survey on recreational saltwater fishing is being conducted for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The survey is interested in collecting information about people who have been recreational saltwater fishing. It's important for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to understand how often and where people fish so as to be able to improve recreational saltwater fishing for everyone.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How did you get my address?

Your address was either randomly selected from a database of licensed anglers in your state or you completed the South Atlantic Survey of NOAA Services within the last two months. Addresses were selected using scientific sampling methods. You and your household represent many other households in your part of the State.

Nobody in my house fished in the last few months. Should I still respond to the survey?

Yes. It is important that everyone who receives this questionnaire complete it and return it. For this survey to be scientific, we need basic information about all households selected for the survey whether they fished recently or not.

Why can't you interview another household instead of mine?

For the results to be scientific, we need all households who receive this questionnaire to complete the questionnaire and send it back.

Who is sponsoring the survey?

This study is being sponsored by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). NOAA's mission is to understand and predict changes in the Earth's environment and conserve and manage coastal and marine resources to meet our Nation's economic, social and environmental needs

How will the information I provide be used?

Your answers will help the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration improve its stewardship of marine resources.

How much time will this survey take?

On average, it should take less than 10 minutes to complete, including reviewing instructions, and answering the questions.

I have other questions. Who can I talk to?

Questions about completing this questionnaire can be directed to Rob Andrews at 301-713-2328.
