PARTICIPANT INFORMED CONSENT FORM

This study is sponsored by money from the Family and Youth Services Bureau and is being conducted by _____ in cooperation with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The goal of this study is to find out how we can best help runaway and homeless young people. We want to know what kind of experiences homeless young people have had. We will use this information to identify the services that will best help young people who do not have a regular place to live. If you are between the ages of 14 and 21 and don't have a regular place to live right now, we would like to ask you to be part of our study. Whether you say yes or no will not make any differences in the services you can get from any service agency.

If you want to participate in this study, we will want you to be part of a focus group. The focus group will consist of a group of four to six young people & two group organizers. The focus group will last approximately 1.0 – 1.5 hours. During the focus group, the organizers will ask the group questions. You can share as much or as little as you want for each question. The focus groups will be tape-recorded so the conversations can be transcribed, or typed. The recording will be stored on a server at UNL and destroyed after the study is finished. You will be given a $20 gift card for participating in the focus group.

During the focus group you will be asked questions about where you have been staying, why you left home, what has happened to you since you haven't had a regular place to live, and your daily activities. I will ask you about the types of services and supports you have used while you don't have a regular place to stay.

Some of the questions may bring back bad memories or make you feel sad, but you don't have to answer questions that you don't want to. You can leave the focus group at any time, but you won't receive the $20 gift card unless you participate in the focus group for most of the session (for at least 30 minutes). If you withdraw from this study, any of the information collected up to the point of withdrawal may still be used in order to protect the integrity of the information collected.

Privacy

Everything you say during the focus group will be kept private by agency staff & UNL. By agreeing to be part of the study, you and the other young people in the focus group agree to not discuss with anyone else things said during the focus group after the focus group ends. We cannot guarantee that someone attending the focus group will not share your answers, so only share what you are comfortable telling others. The people who will see the transcription of the focus group will not know your name. Any forms you sign, like this consent form, will be kept in a locked file away from the focus group transcriptions. Although the information you provide will be private, there are three things that the interviewer is required to tell someone else about, including your caretaker and/or public agencies.

1. Any case of suspected physical or sexual abuse and/or neglect of children must be reported to Child Protective Services. This may be yourself or a sibling or someone you know that you tell us about.
2. If you tell me you are going to hurt yourself badly, or I think you might try to kill yourself, I will get help for you. If the researchers have very serious concerns, they will need to report the situation to the appropriate authorities.
3. If you say that you are aware of serious harm that may be done to someone else, the interviewer is required to take steps to protect that person, which includes reporting the situation to the appropriate authorities.

Risks and Benefits

Some questions may make you feel upset during or after a focus group. If that happens, please let one of the organizers know and he or shee will contact a staff person at the agency to help you. The benefits from participating in this study are: 1) You will be providing important information that will help agencies develop and sustain programming specific to homeless youths' needs, 2) You will be able to share your life experiences, 3) You will be able to provide information about the needs of homeless youth in your area, 4) Interviewers will provide you with an information card for services available in the area.

Contact Information

This study is completely voluntary. You decide whether or not you would like to be involved. You may ask any questions concerning this research and have those questions answered before agreeing to participate or anytime. If you have any additional questions of concerns, you may call the principal investigator, Les Whitbeck, at (888) 567-5285. If you have questions about your participation in this study that have not been answered by this individual, or to report any concerns, you may contact the UNL Institutional Review Board, at (402) 472-6965.
