REVISIONS, Summary of:

-- May 2013. These instructions apply only to reports with as-of dates on or after December 31, 2013.

As a consequence of the recent global financial crisis, international reporting standards for collecting and reporting economic and financial data were enhanced. TIC B forms are consequently revised to reflect the new standards.

The following changes apply to all TIC B forms:

(a) The "who must report" section of the instructions is revised. Beginning with the reports as of December 31, 2013, the organizations required to file the TIC B forms will include all types of U.S.-resident financial institutions (including, but not limited to banks, other depository institutions, brokers/dealers, bank/financial holding companies, investment banks, insurance companies, credit card issuers, money market funds, pension funds, private equity funds, hedge funds, trusts, finance companies, mortgage companies, commodity brokers and dealers, investment advisors and managers, loan brokers). More specifically, all financial institutions that previously filed TIC C forms (form CQ-1 and form CQ-2) will file TIC B forms beginning with the reports as of December 31, 2013. Those financial institutions changing from filing the TIC C forms to filing the TIC B forms will not be required to file the TIC C forms after the reports as of November 30, 2013.

(b) The instructions for these forms have been updated to add guidance for reporting on the new "of which" rows described in (g) through (l) below and the new section and columns described in (l).

(c) The General Instructions have been reorganized and contain new guidance on reporting accrued interest and insurance/reinsurance business, and on where to report.

(d) Several sections of the instructions, including the glossary, incorporate changes to clarify the reporting requirements, such as the consolidation/ combination rules, valuation rules, and reporting the location of foreign counterparties.

(e) Except for the TIC BQ-3, the list of countries for reporting the location of foreign counterparties will be increased by six. This is the result of deleting Netherlands Antilles (3720-6), removing "Montenegro" from "Serbia and Montenegro (1321-8)," and adding Kosovo (1347-1), Montenegro (1362-5), Bonaire, Sint Eustatius and Saba (3616-1), Curaçao (3618-8), St. Martin and St. Barthelemy (3647-1), Sint Maarten (3619-6), and South Sudan (5339-2).

(f) Changes to Form BC: 1. As a result of the action in (a) above, the title of Form BC is changed to "Report of U.S. Dollar Claims of Financial Institutions on Foreign Residents." 2. In the "of which" items at the end of the form, a new row has been added to collect "Claims on Foreign-Resident Non-Bank Financial Institutions." Data are reportable in columns 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9. 3. In the memorandum section at the end of the current form, the eight rows are changed to eight "of which" rows that have the same eleven columns as do the other rows in the form. The first, fourth and fifth "Of Which" rows (8102-7, 8144-2, 8146-9) are unchanged and data are reportable in column 10. In the second "of which" item for "Total

U.S. – Resident Bank Debt; Loans to Banks” (8141-8), data are reportable in columns 3, 6, 9 and 10. This item previously collected data for only the “Grand Total” column (Column 10). 3. I. General Instructions

A. Organization of the Instruction Book

This instruction book covers the Treasury International Capital (TIC) "B" report forms (Forms BC, BL-1, BL-2, BQ-1, BQ-2, and BQ-3). It is divided into the following sections:

- Section I (General Instructions) - The general instructions describe the purpose of the TIC B forms and a variety of administrative issues, including the authority under which the data are collected and confidentiality conditions. The general instructions also describe the treatment of issues common to all of the TIC B forms, including exemption levels, who should report, accounting issues, and the determination of the location of the foreign resident. Finally, information on the submission of reports is provided.
- Sections II-VII (Specific Form Instructions) - These sections explain the specific reporting requirements for each TIC B form. The specific instructions include the kinds of information that should be reported and instructions relating to the columns and memorandum rows for each form. To avoid excessive repetition, the instructions and definitions build upon the information in the general instructions, the glossary, and the appendices.
- Section VIII (Glossary) - The glossary presents definitions, discussions of accounting issues, and other topics that require more extensive treatment than is practical to include in the body of the instructions.
- Section IX (Appendices) – Provides the following appendices:
 - Flowcharts that show reporting requirements graphically.
 - Geographical Classification List: Country and organizational codes for reporting on the TIC forms.
 - Foreign Official Institutions List: Certain foreign institutions classified as "official" for reporting on the TIC forms.

The forms and a copy of these instructions are available on the Internet at the U.S. Treasury's website <http://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/data-chart-center/tic/pages/forms-b.aspx>.

B. Introduction

1. Purpose and Notice Under Paperwork Reduction Act

The purpose of the Treasury International Capital B forms is to gather timely and reliable information on the levels of, and changes in, U.S. international portfolio capital positions. This information is needed for the preparation of the U.S. Balance of Payments Accounts and the U.S. International Investment Position, as well as for the formulation of U.S. international financial and monetary policies. The data are also needed to enable the United States to comply with standards for providing data on cross-border financial positions, including adherence to the International Monetary Fund's Special Data Dissemination Standard. Aggregate data are published in the Treasury Bulletin and the Federal Reserve Bulletin and are available on the Treasury website at <http://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/data-chart->

center/tic/pages/index.aspx. Some aggregate data are also provided to the Bank for International Settlements for its use in compiling widely-used international statistics.

2. Organization of the TIC B Forms

The TIC B forms, the data collected, and frequency of each form are as follows:

The Treasury Department has estimated the average burden associated with the collection of information on each B form per respondent, but these will vary widely across reporting institutions: (a) BC/BC (SA): an overall average burden of 9.33 hours, based on 17 hours for each major respondent and 8.5 hours for each other respondent. (b) BL-1: an overall average burden of 6.5 hours, based on 12 hours for each major respondent and 6 hours for each other respondent. (c) BL-2: an overall average of seven and one-half hours, based on eleven hours for each major respondent and five and one-half hours for each other respondent. (d) BQ-1: an overall average of two and one-fifth hours, based on four hours for each major respondent and two hours for each other respondent. (e) BQ-2: an overall average of 6.25 hours, based on 10 hours for each major respondent and 5 for each other respondent. (f) BQ-3: an overall average of 4 hours per respondent. These estimates include the time it will take to read the instructions, gather the necessary facts, and fill out the forms. Comments concerning the accuracy of these burden estimates and suggestions for reducing reporting burden should be directed to the IA Office of Program Services, U.S. Treasury Department, Washington, D.C. 20220,

3. Authority and Penalties

These reports are required by law (22 U.S.C. 286f; 22 U.S.C. 3103; E.O.10033, as amended; 31 C.F.R. 128.1(a)). Failure to report can result in a civil penalty of not less than $2,500 and not more than $25,000. Willful failure to report can result in criminal prosecution and upon conviction a fine of not more than $10,000; and if an individual, imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any officer, director, employee, or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violation may, upon conviction, be punished by a like fine, imprisonment, or both (22 U.S.C. 3105 (a) and (b); 31 C.F.R. 128.4 (a) and (b)).

4. Confidentiality

Data reported on these forms will be held in confidence by the Department of the Treasury, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the Federal Reserve Banks acting as fiscal agent of the Treasury. The data reported by individual respondents will not be published or otherwise publicly disclosed; information may be given to other Federal agencies, insofar as authorized by applicable law (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.; 22 U.S.C. 3101 et seq.). Aggregate data derived from reports on these forms may be published or otherwise disclosed only in a manner that will does not specifically identify any individual respondent.

5. Other Statistical Reports

- The TIC C forms are filed by all U.S. entities other than financial institutions. On the TIC C forms, these entities report positions with unaffiliated foreign-resident entities that are either short-term securities or non-securities.
- The TIC D form is filed by all major U.S.-resident participants in derivatives markets. This form is designed to obtain data on holdings of, and transactions in, financial derivative contracts with foreign residents. Data are collected in aggregate form to facilitate timely reporting.
- The TIC SLT form is filed by all U.S.-resident custodians, issuers and end-investors. On the TIC SLT form, these entities report aggregate consolidated holdings of long-term U.S. securities for the accounts of foreign residents, foreign securities for the accounts of U.S. residents (their own account or their customers) and all securities issuances by the U.S.-resident units of their entity to foreign residents that are not held by a U.S. resident custodian.
- The TIC S form is filed by all entities that purchase (or sell) long-term securities directly from (or to) foreign residents. This form is designed to obtain data on foreign residents' purchases and sales of all long-term securities (including equities and shares of mutual funds). Data are collected in aggregate form to facilitate timely reporting.

- To improve the accuracy of the TIC system and collect information on positions in securities, detailed security-by-security data are collected on a less frequent basis. Two data collection systems are used:
 - Foreign Holdings of U.S. Securities, Including Selected Money Market Instruments (Form SHL) - Approximately every five years, all significant U.S. resident custodians of short-term debt, long-term debt, and equity securities are required to provide detailed security-by-security information on foreign holdings of U.S. securities. Also required to report are significant U.S. issuers of bearer bonds and U.S. issuers of securities that are held by foreign residents but not through U.S. custodians. In the years between these benchmark surveys, the largest of these reporters are required to submit this security-by-security information annually (Form SHLA).
 - U.S. Ownership of Foreign Securities, Including Selected Money Market Instruments (Form SHC) - Approximately every five years, all significant U.S. resident custodians of foreign securities and U.S.-resident end investors holding securities without using U.S.-resident custodians are required to report detailed security-by-security information on their holdings of foreign securities. In the years between these benchmark surveys, the largest of these reporters are required to submit this security-by-security information annually (Form SHCA).
- The Treasury Foreign Currency (TFC) forms are designed to obtain data on the assets, liabilities, and forward positions of large U.S.-resident institutions (both banking and non-banking) in specified foreign currencies.
- Direct Investment - Data on cross-border Direct Investment are collected by the Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Department of Commerce. The data collections are designed to obtain comprehensive data on the transactions and positions between affiliated U.S. and foreign companies (“multinational companies”), and on the overall operations of multinational companies. To be affiliated, a U.S. company must own or control 10 percent or more of the voting securities of an incorporated foreign business (or an equivalent interest in an unincorporated foreign business), or a foreign company must own or control 10 percent or more of the voting securities of an incorporated U.S. business (or an equivalent interest in an unincorporated U.S. business).

1. Insurance/Reinsurance Business

Insurance and reinsurance companies should report unearned premiums and unpaid claims (including claims incurred but not yet reported) with unaffiliated foreign residents as follows:

Reporting should be by the company that deals directly with the foreign counterparty. Thus, if a U.S. insurance broker or other intermediary is responsible for obtaining/placing the contract with the foreign counterparty, the reporting should be by the U.S. intermediary, not the underwriter/reinsurer.

2. Consolidation/Combination Rules

U.S.-resident banks (Section C) including those owned by a bank holding company (BHC), financial holding company (FHC), or savings and loan holding company (SLHC) should consolidate all of their United States resident branches and subsidiaries including their International Banking Facilities (IBFs), except for their owned or controlled Banks, insurance underwriting subsidiaries, pension funds, and securities brokers and dealers. (Positions of Bank subsidiaries, insurance underwriting subsidiaries, pension funds, and security brokers and dealers are reported on separate TIC "B" forms.)

(Positions of Bank subsidiaries, insurance underwriting subsidiaries, pension funds, and security brokers and dealers are reported on separate TIC "B" forms.)

Securities brokers and dealers, including those securities brokers and dealers owned by a BHC, FHC, or Bank, should consolidate all of their U.S.-resident subsidiaries except for their owned or controlled pension funds and insurance underwriting subsidiaries. (Positions of insurance underwriting subsidiaries and pension funds are reported on separate TIC "B" forms.)

Insurance companies, including insurance underwriting subsidiaries owned by a BHC, FHC, Bank, securities broker and dealer, or all other financial institution should prepare consolidated B reports for their insurance underwriting subsidiaries in the United States. Insurance companies should only report debt with unaffiliated foreign entities. Financial companies that are subsidiaries of insurance companies but are not insurance underwriting subsidiaries should prepare their own consolidated B-reports.

Pension funds, including pension funds owned by a BHC, FHC, Bank, securities broker and dealer, or all other financial institution should prepare consolidated B reports for their pension fund subsidiaries in the United States. Pension funds should only report debt with unaffiliated foreign entities. Financial companies that are subsidiaries of pension funds but are not pension funds should prepare their own consolidated B-reports.

Banking Edge Act and Agreement corporations should report for all of their branches and subsidiary companies including their International Banking Facilities (IBFs), excluding the parent organization. For further information, see the consolidation rules in the General Instructions of the FR 2886b, the Quarterly Consolidated Report of Condition and Income for Edge and Agreement Corporations (available at <http://www.federalreserve.gov>).

United States branches and agencies of a foreign bank located in the same state and within the same Federal Reserve District should submit a consolidated report for these offices, including their International Banking Facilities (IBFs), to the Federal Reserve Bank in whose District they operate. U.S branches and agencies of a foreign bank that are located in either different states or different Federal Reserve Districts, should submit separate reports to the Federal Reserve Bank(s) in whose District they operate.

“All Other Financial Institutions” should prepare consolidated B reports for themselves and their U.S. resident subsidiaries except for their owned or controlled securities brokers and dealers, insurance underwriting subsidiaries, and pension funds. (Positions of security brokers and dealers, insurance underwriting subsidiaries, and pension funds are reported on separate TIC “B” forms.)

All U.S. resident companies that are owned 50 percent or more of the voting securities, or an equivalent interest (control) should be consolidated. Trusts and Variable Interest Entities (VIEs) for which the reporter is the trustee or primary beneficiary should be included as governed by ASC – 810.

3. Forms to be Used to Report Cross Border Positions

Reporters sometimes have difficulty deciding what types of organizations and what part of an organization should file the different types of Treasury International Capital (TIC) reports. The types of reporters and the corresponding TIC reports that should be filed are summarized in the table below.

TIC Reporting for Various Reporter Types

4. Exemption Levels

Exemption levels are applied to the consolidated reportable claims and liabilities of the reporting entity using the consolidation rules described above. For example, in applying the exemption rules, the establishing Bank should include its International Banking Facilities (IBFs).

A reporter is exempt from any form (or part) shown in the following table if: (a) the total reportable claims/liabilities for all geographic areas (Row 9999-6) to be reported in that form (part) are less than the amount in the “Grand Total” column below; and (b) its total reported claims/liabilities for every individual geographic area are less than the amount in the “Individual Country Data” column below.

However, once the exemption level for a form or part is exceeded, the reporter should continue to submit the form or part for the remainder of the calendar year.

Exemption Levels for TIC Reporting

D. Accounting Issues

1. General

All amounts should be reported gross, using settlement date accounting. Securities should be reported in millions of U.S. dollars at the face value. All other instruments should be reported in millions of U.S. dollars at the outstanding contractual amount less any impairments or accrued interest (if applicable). Accrued interest receivables and payables should be reported separately. Do not enter decimals or negative values in any cell of a form. Claims with negative balances should be reported as liabilities; liabilities with negative balances should be reported as claims.

Data reported on all TIC B reports should be the balances outstanding at the “close of business” as of the last business day of the period covered by the reports. The time designated as the close of business should be reasonable and applied consistently.

2. Foreign Currency Denominated Positions

For foreign currency-denominated positions reported on the BQ-2 and BQ-3, report the U.S. dollar equivalent of the foreign currency amounts, converted by using the closing spot exchange rate on the as-of date of the report.

3. Charge-offs

Respondents should deduct from claims any charge-offs or specific reserves where there has been an identified loss. Charge-offs or specific reserves made during the reporting period should be totaled and reported on Form BC in the row titled “Assets written off this reporting period” (row 8200-9) only in the initial period when they are established. Claims should not be reduced by any general or valuation reserves.

E. Reporting the Location of Foreign Counterparties

1. Countries and Other Areas

Positions with foreign residents should be reported for the country or geographical area in which the direct counterparty legally resides (e.g., the country of incorporation, or, for a branch, of license). Do not report positions based on the currency of denomination of the instrument, the country of the parent institution of the counterparty (i.e., nationality), the country of issuance of the instrument, or the country of a guarantor (i.e., ultimate risk). Please note: branches of U.S. residents located outside the U.S. are foreign residents. U.S.-resident branches of foreign banks are U.S. residents.

2. Examples

- A respondent has a reportable liability denominated in yen to a British company located in Italy. A Spanish bank guarantees the liability. The liability should be reported for the location in which the direct counterparty resides (Italy), not the location of the guarantor (Spain) or the nationality of the counterparty (United Kingdom).

- A respondent has a reportable claim on a Cayman Islands branch of a U.S. bank. The claim should be reported for the location in which the direct counterparty resides (Cayman Islands), not the location of that bank's head office (United States).

3. Determining Residency

Counterparty residence is determined by the country of legal residence (e.g., the country of incorporation, or, for a branch, of license). For example:

- Partnerships, trusts, and funds are residents of the country in which they are legally organized. (For example, pension funds of International and Regional Organizations are residents of the country of residence of the pension fund.)
- Banks, BHCs, FHCs, SLHC, foreign banking organizations (FBOs), securities brokers and dealers, corporations and subsidiaries of corporations are residents of the country in which they are incorporated (not the country of the head office or primary operations).
- Bank branches are residents of the country in which they are licensed (not the country of the head office).
- Individuals are residents of the country in which they are domiciled.
- Entities or individuals that file an IRS Form W-8, indicating that they are foreign residents, are treated as such, unless they are residents of Puerto Rico or U.S. territories, such as Guam. Residents of Puerto Rico and U.S. territories are U.S. residents. If an IRS form is not available, the mailing address can be used to determine residency.
- Exceptions:
 - International and Regional Organizations (See Appendix I) are residents of the International and Regional Organizations areas, not the countries in which they are located. Positions with the Red Cross and the Institute of International Finance are reported as International (Note: These institutions are "other foreigners", not Foreign Official Institutions.)
 - Positions with the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), the European Central Bank (ECB), the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank (ECCB), the Bank of Central African States (BEAC), and the Central Bank of West African States (BCEAO), should each be reported opposite their name in the List of Foreign Economies and Organizations.
 - Positions with branches or agencies of Foreign Official Institutions should be reported opposite the country that owns the Foreign Official Institution. (A list of Foreign Official Institutions is located in Appendix C.)

F. Submission of Reports

1. Where to Report

Banks, Savings and Loan Holding Companies (SLHC), Bank Holding Companies and Financial Holding Companies (BHCs and FHCs) should file with the Federal Reserve District Bank in which the reporter is located, unless instructed by the Reserve Bank in the District in which the entity has its head office. Securities brokers and dealers (including securities brokers and dealers owned by Banks or BHCs, FHCs) and all other financial institutions should file their reports with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, regardless of location. Data may be submitted through the Internet. The Reporting Central System is fast, easy to use, and secure. You can submit reports quickly and easily either using online data entry or via spreadsheet file transfer. Reporting Central provides a confirmation of data receipt at the Federal Reserve Bank and checks the validity of your submission. Reporting Central saves time and delivery costs, avoids possible mail delays, and eliminates paper and fax transmissions. For more information on Reporting Central, log on to <http://www.frbervices.org/centralbank/reportingcentral/index.html> or call your Federal Reserve Bank contact for TIC reporting.

2. Due Dates

The dates by which the TIC B reports must be received are as follows:

TIC B Reporting Due Dates
Form	Frequency	Date to be received
BC BL-1 BL-2	Monthly	No later than the 15 th calendar day following the last day of the month
BQ-1 BQ-2 BQ-3	Quarterly	No later than the 20 th calendar day following the last day of March, June, September, and December

If the due date of a report falls on a weekend or holiday, the due date is the following business day.

3. Alternative Methods of Reporting

Data may also be reported on computer printouts in the same format as the printed reports. The Federal Reserve Bank to which the report is to be filed must approve proposed computer printouts in advance of the first submission.

4. Signature Requirements

The cover page of the TIC B forms (which can be printed by the respondents from the TIC website at <http://www.ustreas.gov/tic/forms.html>) must be signed by a duly authorized officer of the institution. For electronic filers, the signature page should be retained by the reporter.

5. Reporter ID Number

Each reporting entity has been assigned an "RSSD ID" number by the Federal Reserve System. To ensure proper processing, this ID must be entered in the space provided on each form. If you do not know your RSSD ID number, please call the Federal Reserve Bank to which your reports are submitted.

6. Record Keeping Requirement

Reports must be retained for 3 years from the date of submission.

7. Review of Data and Requests for Revised Data

Federal Reserve System staff review data submitted on the TIC forms. As a result of their review and editing procedures, Reserve Bank staff may ask reporters to explain unusual changes or submit revisions, as necessary. Since these data are extremely time-sensitive, respondents should respond as quickly as possible to these requests.

A. What To Report

1. Reportable Customers' Liabilities

Report all U.S. dollar-denominated liabilities of U.S. residents to foreign residents of the types listed below:

a. Custody Items

Include liabilities of U.S. residents which a reporter holds in custody for the account of foreign residents. Reportable custody items are:

c. Loans Placed Overseas

3. Reporting of Securities

U.S.-resident custodians should report all short-term negotiable securities (see glossary for definition of securities) held for foreign residents (whether issued by the reporter or another U.S. resident) on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (Part 2) (if foreign currency-denominated).

If a TIC B reporter issues a short-term negotiable security directly in a foreign market, and a U.S.-resident custodian is not used, the reporter should report the security on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (Part 2) (if foreign currency-denominated) as if the reporter were acting as the U.S. custodian.

By contrast, if a TIC B reporter issues a short-term non-negotiable security directly in a foreign market, the reporter should include the security on the BL-1 (if U.S. dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (Part 1) (if foreign currency-denominated). The BL-2 and BQ-2 (Part 2) should only include short-term non-negotiable securities held in custody for foreign customers other than the reporter.

Although negotiable certificates of deposit are not considered securities for the TIC reports, they are treated in a manner similar to short-term negotiable securities. All foreign-held negotiable certificates of deposit of U.S. depository institutions (regardless of maturity) whether issued by the reporter or by another U.S. depository institution should be reported on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2, Part 2 (if foreign currency-denominated), if the reporter is the U.S. custodian or if no U.S. custodian is used.

A reporter acting as an administrative agent for a syndicated loan to a U.S. resident that includes foreign creditors should report the U.S. resident's loan liability to foreign residents on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (Part 2) (if foreign currency-denominated).

Only the amount of the loan facility that is drawn down on the as of date of the report should be reported. (Undrawn commitments should be excluded from the TIC reports.) Report only the portion of the loan drawn by the obligor's U.S. offices. Loans extended to foreign affiliates of U.S. borrowers should be excluded.

Loans to U.S. residents where a reporter's foreign office acts as an administrative agent for the syndication should be excluded. These loan liabilities should be reported directly by the U.S. resident borrower on the TIC BL-1 or CO-1 as appropriate.

- Negotiable certificates of deposit of any maturity issued by either the reporter or another U.S. resident depository institution and held by the reporter for foreign residents.

b. Liabilities to Managed Foreign Offices

- Liabilities of U.S. residents, other than those subject to TIC B reporting, to managed foreign offices of the reporter. Managed foreign offices are offices for which a majority of the responsibility for business decisions (e.g., decisions with regard to lending, asset management, funding, or liability management), or the responsibility for recordkeeping for that foreign office resides at the reporter.

c. Loans Placed Overseas

- Foreign holdings of loans and loan participations to U.S. residents that are serviced by the reporter, whether held by affiliated or non-affiliated parties.
- Liabilities of U.S. residents to foreign residents from loan syndications in which the reporter is the administrative agent.

d. Short-term negotiable securities issued by the reporter directly in a foreign market where no U.S. custodian (other than the reporter) is used.

(Refer to the flowcharts in Appendix A that outline reporting responsibility for customer liabilities.)

2. Specific Exclusions

- Long-term securities (no contractual maturity or an original maturity of over one year), including equities and any long-term notes, bonds, and debentures.

- Precious metals (e.g., gold, silver) and currencies held in reporter's vaults for foreign residents.
- Assets, including short-term securities held in custody for customers, which have been temporarily received by foreign residents as collateral under resale agreements or similar financing agreements.
- U.S. dollar-denominated liabilities. (These should be reported on the BL-2).
- Short-term non-negotiable securities issued by your own institution. (These should be reported on the BL-1, if U.S. dollar-denominated or on the BQ-2, Part 1, if foreign currency-denominated.)

3. Reporting of Securities

All short-term negotiable securities (see glossary for definition of securities) held for foreign residents (whether issued by the reporter or another U.S. resident) are reported on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2, Part 2 (if foreign currency-denominated) by U.S. custodians.

If a reporter issues a short-term negotiable security directly in a foreign market, and a U.S. resident custodian is not used, the reporter should report the security issue on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 Part 2 (if foreign currency-denominated) as if the reporter were acting as the U.S. custodian.

By contrast, if a TIC reporter issues a short-term non-negotiable security directly in a foreign market, the reporter should include the security on the BL-1 (if U.S. dollar-denominated) or BQ-1 (Part 1) (if foreign currency-denominated). The BL-2 and BQ-2 (Part 2) should only include short-term non-negotiable securities held in custody for customers.

Although negotiable certificates of deposit are not considered securities for the TIC reports, they are treated in a manner similar to short-term negotiable securities. All foreign-held negotiable certificates of deposit of U.S. depository institutions (regardless of maturity) whether issued by the reporter or by another U.S. depository institution should be reported on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2, Part 2 (if foreign currency-denominated), if the reporter is the U.S. custodian or if no U.S. custodian is used.

4. Reporting of Syndicated Loans to U.S. Residents Placed Overseas

A reporter acting as an administrative agent for a syndicated loan to a U.S. resident that includes foreign creditors should report the U.S. resident's loan liability to foreign residents on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (Part 2) (if foreign currency-denominated).

Report only the amount of the loan facility that is drawn down as of the report date. (Undrawn commitments should be excluded from the TIC reports.) Report only the portion of the loan drawn by the obligor's U.S. offices. Exclude loans extended to foreign affiliates of U.S. borrowers.

Exclude loans to U.S. residents where a reporter's foreign office acts as an administrative agent for the syndication. The U.S. resident borrower should report these loan liabilities directly on the TIC BL-1 or CQ-1 as appropriate.

IX. Glossary

Administrative Agent

An institution responsible for administering a loan, acting on behalf of all lenders, and acting as a conduit for all payments in a loan syndication. An administrative agent should report drawn loan syndications to U.S. resident borrowers owed to foreign residents on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or the BQ-2 (if foreign currency-denominated).

American Depositary Receipt (ADR)

Negotiable certificates, typically issued by a U.S.-resident company for securities (usually shares of stock) issued by a foreign corporation. The securities are backed by the foreign securities, which are held in a custodial account, either at the issuing bank or by an agent. The ADRs themselves may be held in U.S. or foreign banks. ADRs are considered foreign securities and, purchases and sales of ADRs, by U.S. residents are reportable on the TIC S report. (To avoid double counting, the custodial holdings of the foreign securities are not reportable.) ADR holdings are not reportable on the TIC B reports.

Brady Bonds

Collateralized dollar-denominated bonds issued by a foreign government or central bank in exchange for loans under the Brady Plan. Brady Bonds are considered long-term debt securities and are excluded from the TIC B reports. These securities should be reported on the TIC S report.

Brokerage Balances

Cash balances: 1) held by U.S. residents in brokerage and margin accounts with foreign residents; and 2) held by foreign residents in brokerage and margin accounts at U.S.-resident entities. Brokerage balances should be reported gross and include funds that may be freely withdrawn or held to support positions in futures, securities or other financial instruments. The following are examples that generate cash balances in brokerage balances:

- Cash proceeds from selling securities short.
- Cash margin or collateral placed to support open positions in futures (initial, maintenance and margin) or options on exchanges, over-the-counter derivatives, and excess cash margin or collateral retained from previous settlements of positions.
- Cash margin lent to foreign for their purchases of securities.
- Cash interest and dividends on securities that have been pledged as collateral with foreign residents. Brokerage balances held at foreign entities should be reported on the BC (if they are the reporter's own dollar claims), on the BQ-1 (if they are U.S. dollar-denominated customer claims of a reporter), or on the BQ-2 (if they are foreign currency-denominated claims). Liabilities to foreign residents from brokerage balances should be reported on the BL-1 (if they are the reporter's own dollar liabilities) and on the BQ-2 (if they are foreign currency denominated liabilities).

Commercial Paper

A promissory note either unsecured or backed by assets such as loans or mortgages. They are usually sold at a discount and customarily have a fixed maturity of 270 days or less. Holdings of commercial paper should be reported on the B reports at face value, as a short-term security.

Credit Balances

Liabilities to a third party that are incidental to, or that arise from, the exercise of banking powers, including the payment of checks and lending of money. They must be no larger than necessary for the specific transaction. Credit balances are reported as deposits on the BL-1 and as demand deposits on the BQ-3.

Custodian

A bank or other organization that manages or administers the custody or safekeeping of stock certificates, debt securities, or other assets for institutional and private investors.

Deposits

The unpaid balance of money or its equivalent received or held by a bank in the usual course of business and for which it has given or is obligated to give credit, either conditionally or unconditionally, including balances in a checking, savings, or time account, or which are evidenced by its certificate of indebtedness, or other similar name, or a check or draft drawn against a deposit account and certified by the bank, or a letter of credit or a traveler's check on which the bank is primarily liable. U.S. deposits held by foreign residents (other than negotiable certificates of deposit) should be reported on the BL-1 (if U.S. dollar-denominated) or the BQ-2 (Part 1) (if foreign currency-denominated). U.S. negotiable certificates of deposit held by foreign residents should be reported on the BL-2 (if U.S. dollar-denominated) or the BQ-2 (Part 2) (if foreign currency-denominated). Non-negotiable deposits held by U.S. residents at foreign banks should be reported on the BC (if it is the reporter's own U.S. dollar-denominated claim), on the BQ-1 (if it is the U.S. dollar-denominated claim of a customer of the reporter), or in the appropriate column of the BQ-2 for the reporter's own or customer's foreign currency-denominated claim. (Also see glossary entry for Negotiable Certificate of Deposits.)

Depository Receipts

See American Depository Receipts ("ADR"). Related types of depository receipts, such as Global Depository Receipts, are reported in the same manner as ADRs

Derivative Contracts

A derivative contract is a financial instrument or other contract with all three of the following characteristics:

- It has: (a) one or more underlyings; (b) one or more notional amounts; and (c) payment provisions. These terms determine the amount of the settlement or settlements, and, in some cases, whether or not a settlement is required.
- It requires no initial net investment, or an initial net investment that is much smaller than would be required for other types of contracts that would be expected to have a similar response to changes in market factors.
- Its terms require or permit net settlement, it can readily be settled net by a means outside the contract, or it provides for delivery of an asset that puts the recipient in a position not substantially different from net settlement.

Derivative contracts are excluded from the B reports. Embedded derivatives that are not bifurcated under FAS 133 should not be separated from the host contract and should be reported on the TIC B reports. However, if an embedded derivative is bifurcated, the derivative should be excluded from the B reports.

Development Banks

Entities owned by national governments other than the United States and are established to promote economic development of sectors of the economy, such as trade, housing, agriculture, finance and industry. Claims on and liabilities to development banks are reportable on the TIC B reports. Unless the development bank also performs the functions of a foreign official institution, development banks should be reported as private banks, even if owned by the government. (For further information, see the instructions for "type of foreign counterparty," on the specific instructions for the form in question.)

Direct Investment

Investment in which a resident of one country obtains a degree of influence over the management of a business enterprise in another country. The criterion used to define direct investment is ownership of at least 10 percent of the voting securities of an incorporated business enterprise or the equivalent interest in an unincorporated business enterprise. U.S. direct investment abroad represents the ownership or control, directly or indirectly, by one U.S. resident (U.S. parent) of at least 10 percent of a foreign business enterprise, which is called a foreign affiliate. Foreign direct investment in the United States represents the ownership or control, directly or indirectly, by one foreign resident (foreign parent) of at least 10 percent of a U.S. business enterprise, which is called a U.S. affiliate. For guidance on how to apply the direct investment criterion in the case of a limited partnership, see "Limited partnerships and direct investment" below.

Direct investment transactions and positions include the equity that gives rise to control or influence and intercompany lending, i.e., debt between affiliated enterprises. However, debt between selected affiliated financial intermediaries is not classified as direct investment because it is not considered to be so strongly connected to the direct investment relationship.

The financial intermediaries covered by this case are:

- deposit-taking corporations;
- securities brokers and dealers;
- financial and bank holding companies;
- investment funds; and
- other financial intermediaries.

However, insurance companies and pensions funds are financial intermediaries that are not covered by this case and their debt positions with their affiliates are part of direct investment.

Since insurance companies and pension funds are not covered by this case, insurance companies and pension funds should only report debt positions with unaffiliated foreign firms.

Therefore, all direct investment transactions and positions should be excluded from the TIC system. These transactions and positions should instead be reported to the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA). U.S. residents in direct investment relationships are required to file reports with BEA unless exempt.

Foreign Resident

Any individual, corporation, or other organization located outside the United States. A corporation incorporated outside the United States is a foreign resident even if it has no physical presence outside the United States. Foreign residents include:

- Foreign governments and any subdivision, agency or instrumentality thereof, including all foreign official nonbanking institutions, even if located in the United States (e.g., an embassy, consulate, or other diplomatic establishment of a foreign country). (However, all U.S. subsidiaries of foreign corporations are U.S. residents.)
- Entities that have filed an IRS Form W-8, indicating that the individual or entity is a nonresident alien or foreign entity not subject to certain United States information return reporting or to backup withholding rules.
- Any corporation or other organization located outside the United States, including the branches, subsidiaries, and other affiliates of U.S. entities located abroad.
- Individuals, including citizens of the United States, residing outside the United States.

EXCEPTION: Official international or regional organizations or subordinate or affiliated agencies thereof, created by treaty or convention between sovereign states, even if located in the United States, including the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD or World Bank), the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the United Nations (UN), are also considered foreign residents.

Foreign-Resident Custodian

A custodian located outside the United States, including a foreign affiliate of a U.S. custodian. Reporters should determine the location of a custodian according to the country where the custodian is incorporated, or otherwise legally established, not according to the country of custodian's parent firm, and not according to the location of the custodian's operations center.

Foreign Subcustodian

A foreign institution that holds in safekeeping foreign securities for a U.S. resident custodian.

Insurance Technical Reserves

Insurance technical reserves are liabilities of the insurance companies to policyholders and beneficiaries which represent the amounts identified by insurance companies to account for the prepayment of insurance premiums and reserves for unpaid claims incurred but not yet paid. These reserves quantify the outstanding loss liabilities for insurance claims which have been reported and not paid or which have been incurred but not reported (IBNR).

International Banking Facilities (IBFs)

A set of asset and liability accounts, segregated on the books of the United States establishing entity. IBFs are permitted to hold only assets and liabilities of foreign residents, residents of Puerto Rico and United States territories and possessions, other IBFs, and United States and foreign offices of the establishing entity. (See Federal Reserve Regulation D for more information.) The assets and liabilities of IBFs should be combined with those of the U.S. banking offices on the TIC B reports in all rows, except the IBF memo rows on the BC, BL-1 and BQ-2 reports.

Loans

A loan is generally an extension of credit resulting from direct negotiations between a lender and a borrower. The loan may have originated through direct negotiations with the borrower or it may have been originated by another lender that directly negotiated with a borrower. Loans may take the form of promissory notes, acknowledgements of advance, due bills, invoices, overdrafts, acceptances, and similar written or oral obligations. Loans include:

- Acceptances of other banks purchased in the open market
- Customer's liability to the reporting institution on drafts paid under letters of credit for which the bank has not been reimbursed
- Paper pledged by the bank whether for collateral to secure bills payable or for any other purpose
- Factored accounts receivable
- Participations (acquired or held) in a single loan or pool of loans or receivables (see discussion of Participations)
- Drawn syndicated loans (see instructions in the BL-2 and BQ-2 for more information and reporting instructions)
- Repurchase/resale agreements, where securities have been transferred in return for cash balances

Loans exclude those instruments that meet the definition of a security. (See glossary entry for Securities). Loans are reportable on the TIC B reports, regardless of maturity.

Loan Servicing Arrangements, Loan Servicer

An arrangement whereby one party (the loan servicer) agrees to collect payments from borrowers on behalf of the holder(s) of the loan. The loan servicer may be the originator of the loans, or may be another institution. The loan servicer/administrative agent should report the outstanding loans to U.S. resident borrowers owed to foreign residents on the BL-2 (if U.S. dollar-denominated), or the BQ-2 (if foreign currency-denominated).

Nationalized Banks

Institutions owned by foreign central governments that are classified as banks in their respective countries. Nationalized banks are classified as foreign private commercial banks, unless they function as foreign official institutions.

Negotiable Certificates of Deposit

Certificates of deposit evidenced by a negotiable (transferable) instrument or deposit in book entry form evidenced by a receipt or similar acknowledgement issued by the bank, that provides on its face that the amount of such deposit is payable to bearer or any specified person (e.g., deposit notes, bank notes). Negotiable certificates of deposit are not considered securities on the TIC reports. All foreign-held U.S. negotiable certificates of deposit (regardless of maturity) whether issued by the reporter or by another depository institution should be reported on the BL-2 (if dollar-denominated) or BQ-2 (if foreign currency-denominated). U.S. held foreign negotiable certificates of deposits should be reported on the BC or BQ-1 (if dollar-denominated), or the BQ-2 (if foreign currency-denominated).

Non-Bank Financial Institutions (NBFIs)

Businesses and institutions other than "banks" and "public," as defined above, that are primarily engaged in proprietary investments and/or in the provision of financial services to other organizations and households. These services include, but are not limited to financial intermediation services whose functions are predominantly: the extending of credit for business purposes, brokerage services, underwriting services, financial management services, credit origination services, credit card services, insurance services, and pension services. Types of non-bank financial organizations include, but are not limited to:

- Securities brokers/dealers
- Bank holding companies (BHCs)
- Financial holding companies (FHCs)
- Insurance companies
- Money market funds
- Pension funds
- Investment banks
- Private equity funds
- Credit card issuers
- Hedge funds

- 551111 bank holding companies
- 551112(part) financial holding companies, insurance holding companies

For data reporters who use the GICS classification system for their counterparties, here are the codes for entities that are NBFIs: [The Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) system was developed by Morgan Stanley Capital International and Standard & Poor's, and the web site is at: <http://www.msci.com/products/indices/sector/gics/>]

- 4020 diversified financials
- 4030 insurance
- 404020 real estate investment trusts (REITS)

Overdraft

An overdraft exists when a depository institution honors a check or draft drawn against a deposit account in which insufficient funds are held. Overdrafts should be reported gross and not netted against good balances. Overdrawn accounts at foreign banks are reported on the BL-1. Foreign customers' overdrawn accounts are reported on the BC.

Own Foreign Offices

Own foreign offices are foreign offices (banking and nonbanking) of the reporter, including any foreign office indirectly owned through a U.S. subsidiary depository or non depository financial institution. In addition, reporters owned by a foreign resident should include its direct foreign parent and any non U.S. branches or agencies as own foreign offices. Reporters should exclude offices of the reporter's parent's non-banking or banking subsidiaries as own foreign offices.

Therefore, the reporter should include as own foreign offices the following if applicable:

1. The reporter's own non U.S. offices
2. The reporter's own foreign parent bank
3. The foreign parent banks non U.S. bank branches and agencies
4. The reporter's own U.S. depository institution's and/or non depository institution's foreign resident offices

Participations

A loan agreement whereby one bank contracts with other banks to participate in making a loan to a borrower. Each participant should report the amount of its own share in the participated loan. (Also see the BL-2 instructions for the reporting of syndicated loans.)

Policyholder

A policyholder is the party that owns an insurance policy.

Prepaid Insurance Premiums

Prepaid insurance premiums are the consideration paid by policyholders to insurance underwriters in exchange for the provision of defined future benefits or for the indemnification against specified insured losses. The portion of premiums associated with the unexpired portion of the term of coverage should be reported as liabilities of U.S. – resident insurance underwriters to foreign-resident policyholders.

Reinsurance Recoverables

Reinsurance recoverable represent reimbursements expected by U.S.- resident insurance underwriters, under reinsurance contracts governing underwriting coverage ceded to a foreign – resident insurer, for paid and unpaid claims, claims settlement expenses, and other policy benefits.

Repurchase/Resale Agreements

A repurchase agreement is a transaction involving the sale of financial assets by one party to another, subject to an agreement by the seller to repurchase the assets at a specified date or in specified circumstances. A resale agreement (also known as a reverse repurchase agreement) is a transaction involving the purchase of financial assets by one party from another, subject to an agreement by the purchaser to resell the assets at a specified date or in specified circumstances.

Except as otherwise noted below under the discussion of ASC Topic 860, Transfers and Servicing, all repurchase and resale agreement transactions with foreign residents in which cash balances are provided as part of the transaction, are to be reported as borrowings from, or loans to, foreign residents collateralized by the underlying assets. In each case the amount of cash received/provided should be reported. In particular:

- U.S. dollar-denominated funds received from foreign residents from repurchase agreements are reported as liabilities on the BL-1, by country, and in memorandum row 8400-7. (The transfer of the securities should be excluded from purchases or sales on the TIC S Form.)
- U.S. dollar-denominated funds lent to foreign residents through resale agreements should be reported as claims on either the BC or BQ-1. (The receipt of the securities as collateral should be excluded from purchases or sales on the TIC S Form.)
- Funds denominated in foreign currency received or lent under repurchase agreements with foreign residents should be reported on the BQ-2.

Please note that all repurchase agreements should be reported gross (i.e., ASC Subtopic 210-20 should not be applied).

If a repurchase agreement does not qualify as a secured borrowing under ASC Topic 860, Transfers and Servicing, the selling institution should account for the transaction as a sale of financial assets and a forward commitment to repurchase the security. Similarly, if a resale agreement does not qualify as a borrowing under ASC Topic 860, Transfers and Servicing, the purchasing institution should account for the transaction as a purchase of financial assets and a commitment to sell. In these cases, the transfer of the securities should be reported on the TIC S and the exchange of cash should be excluded from the TIC B forms. Securities lending agreements in which one security is loaned in return for another are not reportable on the TIC forms.

Securities

Securities are any bill, note, bond, debenture, equity or similar instrument that is commonly referred to as a security, excluding certificates of deposit. (In cases where it is not clear if a specific instrument is a security, contact the Federal Reserve Bank to which you submit your TIC reports.) Securities may be negotiable (tradable in secondary markets) or non-negotiable (not tradable in secondary markets).

Securities are classified as short-term (original maturity of one year or less) or long-term (original maturity of more than one year). Long-term securities include securities with no stated maturity, including equity securities such as common stock, preferred stock, certificate of interests, partnership interests, and mutual fund shares. Long-term securities are excluded from the TIC B forms and should be reported only on the TIC S form.

Short-term securities, which include money market instruments such as Treasury bills, short-term agency securities, commercial and finance paper, discounted bankers' acceptances, and short-term notes, should be reported on the TIC B forms, following the instructions in Sections A and B of this booklet for each form. A summary of these reporting requirements follows:
