Vessel Account Renewal

Renewal Deadline Date: November 30, 2012

You may want to print this page to assist you in the renewal process.

The Federal Pacific Coast Groundfish Regulations (50 CFR §660.140) require vessel accounts to be renewed between October 1 and November 30 each year. All vessel account renewal requests must be completed and submitted online through your vessel account.

If you do not renew your vessel account, or the renewal request is not complete as of November 30, 2012, NMFS will inactivate your vessel account on December 31, 2012. Any QP or IBQ pounds in your vessel account will expire, and surplus QP or IBQ pounds will not be available for carryover. Submission of all required Economic Data Collection (EDC) surveys is mandatory to complete renewals.

You must have Adobe Reader installed to complete your IFQ renewals. Please go to this website to download Adobe Reader if you do not currently have it.

Information entered as a part of the online renewal will not be saved or submitted until the renewal is certified on the final certification screen. If you open the renewal screen and exit before the final certification, no information will be saved and you will need to start over.

Please note that if you are not the current owner of the vessel listed on the vessel account, you cannot renew the vessel account. You must be the current owner of the vessel to renew the vessel account.

If you also have a quota share (QS) permit and/or other vessel accounts, you must renew each separately by logging into each account. YOU MUST CLOSE YOUR WEB BROWSER BETWEEN EACH RENEWAL.

As part of various rulemakings related to the Pacific Coast groundfish fishery, the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) is required to analyze the effect of such regulations. To assist with these Regulatory Impact Reviews (RIR)/Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (IRFA), NMFS must determine if permit and license owners participating in the fishery are big businesses or small businesses as defined by the Small Business Administration.

Small businesses. The Small Business Administration has established size criteria for all major industry sectors in the US, including fish harvesting and fish processing businesses.

- A business involved in fish harvesting is a small business if it is independently owned and operated and not dominant in its field of operation (including its affiliates) and if it has combined annual receipts not in excess of $4.0 million for all its affiliated operations worldwide.
- A seafood processor is a small business if it is independently owned and operated, not dominant in its field of operation, and employs 500 or fewer persons on a full time, part time, temporary, or other basis, at all its affiliated operations worldwide.
- A business involved in both the harvesting and processing of seafood products is a small business if it meets the $4.0 million criterion for fish harvesting operations.
- A wholesale business servicing the fishing industry is a small business if it employs 100 or fewer persons on a full time, part time, temporary, or other basis, at all its affiliated operations worldwide.
- For marinas and charter/party boats, a small business is one with annual receipts not in excess of $7.0 million.

Small organizations. The Regulatory Flexibility Act defines small organizations as any nonprofit enterprise that is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

Small governmental jurisdictions. The Regulatory Flexibility Act defines small governmental jurisdictions as governments of cities, counties, towns, townships, villages, school districts, or special districts with populations of less than 50,000.

Are you a small business, small organization, or small governmental jurisdiction according to the standards outlined above?

Please indicate below.

Is the vessel owner a small business according to the standards outlined above?

Yes No
