Your district has agreed to take part in the School Health Policies and Practices Study (SHPPS) 2012, a research project sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Conducted every six years since 1994, the study measures the characteristics of eight components of school health.

You were identified as the person best able to address questions about district-level programs and practices regarding Faculty and Staff Health Promotion, Health Education, Health Services, Healthy and Safe School Environment, Mental Health and Social Services, Nutrition Services, and Physical Education and Activity. Your participation in this study will involve responding to a web-based questionnaire about each of these topics. Completing the questionnaires may take up to 20-40 minutes each.

Your participation is voluntary and you may stop participating at any time. You have the right to refuse to answer any question. Your participation will be treated in a confidential manner unless otherwise compelled by law and the information you give us will be combined with the responses of staff in other districts in a summary report that does not identify you. There are no risks or benefits to you for participating.

If you have any questions about the study, please call Dr. Nancy Brener of the CDC at 770-488-6184 or Alice Roberts of ICF Macro at 800-287-1815. A review board at CDC has determined this study to be exempt from the human subjects review process. If you have any questions about your rights as a study participant, you can call 1-800-584-8814. Leave a message with your name and phone number, and refer to CDC protocol #4623. Someone will call you back.

Thank you.

Your Questionnaires

You have been identified as the most knowledgeable respondent in your district in the content area(s) listed below. To enter the questionnaire and begin responding, click on the questionnaire title. If you have been identified to respond to more than one content area, you may complete the questionnaires in any order.

- Use your mouse to click on the best response option based on what you know about your district's programs and practices.
- Do not use the browser's back button to navigate through the questionnaire. Please use the arrows at the bottom of each page.
- You will be automatically logged out after 40 minutes of inactivity. You may log back in using the same access code to continue completing the questionnaire, starting from the place where you left off.
- Your answers will automatically be saved as you advance through the questionnaire.
- In some places in the questionnaire, you will see this icon: . This indicates a help statement. The purpose of a help statement is to further clarify a word or phrase by providing a definition or other clarification.
- Unless otherwise indicated by the words "MARK ALL THAT APPLY," select only one answer choice for a given question. In the event you are asked to mark all that apply, you may select as many answer choices as are appropriate for the question.
- You may notice that the numbering of the questions may not progress sequentially as you advance through the questionnaire. This is due to skip patterns resulting from previous answer choices. This is intentional, and requires no action or resolution on your part.
- Some questionnaires have been broken into multiple modules. You may have been selected as a respondent for one or more of these modules. Please note that some of these modules may appear to skip through a large number of questions. This is because those questions are handled in other modules. No action or resolution is required on your part.
- On questions in which a response option is chosen that says "Specify," you will be given the opportunity to type into a text field. Please use this field to indicate an answer choice that was not captured by existing answer choices.

If you need to log out of the questionnaire before you have fully completed it, you will be returned to your stopping point when you log back in with your access code.
