Application for Mediation Services
National Mediation Board (NMB)

A. JUSTIFICATION:

1. Section 5, First, of the Railway Labor Act, 45 U.S.C., 155, First, provides that both, or either, of the parties to a labor/management dispute may invoke the mediation services of the NMB. Congress has determined that it is in the nation's best interest to provide for governmental mediation as the primary dispute resolution mechanism to resolve collective bargaining disputes in the railroad and airline industries.

2. The extension of this form is necessary considering the information provided by the parties is used by the NMB to structure a mediation process that will be productive to the parties and result in a settlement hopefully, without resort to a strike or lockout. The NMB has been very successful in resolving labor disputes in the railroad and airline industries. Approximately 97 percent of all labor disputes we have handled since 1934 have been resolved without an interruption of transportation services. This success ratio would possibly be reduced if the NMB was unable to collect the brief information on the Application for Mediation Services.

3. There is no improved technological method for obtaining this information. The burden on the parties is minimal in completing the one-page Application for Mediation Services.

4. There is no duplication in obtaining this information. The information sought in the Application for Mediation Services constantly changes and is known at any given time only to the labor and management parties involved. Thus, there is no similar information reliable available elsewhere.

5. This collection does not impact small businesses or other small entities.

6. Although the Application for Mediation Services is required by 29, C.F.R. 1203.1, parties determine when to submit the applications. The NMB has no ability to control the frequency of applications or the technical or legal obstacles, which would reduce the burden.

7. The information requested by the NMB is consistent with the general information collection guidelines of C.F.R. 1320.6. The NMB has no ability to control the data provided or timing of the invocation. The burden on the parties is minimal in completing the Application for Mediation Services.

9. No payments or gifts have been provided by the NMB to any respondents of the form.

10. Under the NMB's regulations, particularly 29 C.F.R. 1208.5, the invocation of mediation is releasable to a requestor of that information. The parties are aware, therefore, that this information is not confidential.

11. There are no questions of a sensitive nature on the form.
