Upon reviewing your data, we have some items we would like you to check:

- The number of MALE admissions you entered for 2011 is less than or equal to the number of males being held on December 31, 2011. The number of MALE admissions typically exceeds the one-day count on December 31, 2011. Therefore, please review and, if necessary, make any needed edits to your entry.
- The number of MALE admissions you entered for 2011 is less than or equal to the MALE average daily population entered in Question 2. The number of MALE admissions typically exceeds the average daily population for MALES. Therefore, please review and, if necessary, make any needed edits to your entry.
- The number of FEMALE admissions you entered for 2011 is less than or equal to the number of females being held on December 31, 2011. The number of FEMALE admissions typically exceeds the one-day count on December 31, 2011. Therefore, please review and, if necessary, make any needed edits to your entry.
- The number of FEMALE admissions you entered for 2011 is less than or equal to the FEMALE average daily population entered in Question 2. The number of FEMALE admissions typically exceeds the average daily population for FEMALES. Therefore, please review and, if necessary, make any needed edits to your entry.

- On-screen Reporting Capabilities. Upon completion of each jail or prison form, agencies receive an on-screen report that summarizes their responses. This enhancement was implemented after respondents relayed to BJS that a summary of the data responses would allow respondents to assess the completeness of their submission while allowing them to review and edit their entries prior to submission (see Figure 6).
