USDA Food Connect

Terms of Service

Please read the following Terms of Service for the F&CC web site, and then select I Agree (located at the bottom of the page).

Vendors, manufacturers, processor, brokers, and distributors that participate on this web site do so voluntarily. These companies and not USDA are responsible for the accuracy of the information that they provide and for meeting all applicable local, state, or federal requirements for the production and sale of the food item. This web site contains information regarding food products including ingredient, nutritional, and packaging data. The vendors who are offering these products for sale provide the products and nutritional information found on this site do so voluntarily. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), Agriculture Marketing Service (AMS), Farm Services Agency (FSA), National Marine Fisheries Service, Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration (GIPSA), and Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), do not endorse or recommend any product grown, manufactured, processed, brokered, or distributed by the companies found on this site.

This site further contains email addresses and web links, or Uniform Resource Locator (URL), and Fact Sheet connections to those vendors or to the vendors designated contact or agent. The vendor offering the product information provided these links, or URL addresses.

While USDA will exclude any vendor that has been found to have provided materially incorrect information, or fails to satisfy the plant sanitation inspection requirements, the inclusion of any vendor, or vendor's product on this web site does not constitute an endorsement by USDA of the firms or product compliance. Most information presented on the USDA Commodity web site is considered public domain information. Public domain information may be freely distributed or copied, but use of appropriate byline/photo/image credits is requested.

Additionally, this disclaimer applies to the recipe exchange of the site. The recipe exchange is an open forum for foodservice professionals, vendors, manufacturers, processor, brokers, agricultural commodity associations, and distributors to provide recipes with ingredient, nutritional, and preparation instructions. While USDA provides this forum, USDA does not constitute an endorsement of any recipe or its contents.

Commercial Endorsement Disclaimer

The use of trade, firm, or corporation names in this publication (or page) is for the information and convenience of the reader. Such use does not constitute an official endorsement or approval by the United States Department of Agriculture of any product or service to the exclusion of others.

USDA Food & Commodity Connection Privacy Policy

This is a public web site. Any information you provide should be considered as public information. The information you provide when registering is available as statistical information in the database and can be accessed by other registered users. Personal information is not statistical information. We will not actively disseminate the information you provided to any entity. Unless subject to the exclusions specified in the Freedom of Information Act or otherwise prohibited by law, however, all information collected and maintained by USDA related to this web site may be subject to release.

Once registered, we will collect no other personal information about you when you visit our web site unless you choose to provide that information to us. We will however, collect certain general information to note the number of visits, along with other information as noted below to help us make our site more useful to visitors. This information collected is for statistical use.

- The Internet domain or the IP address from which you access our web site. Your Internet domain is your Internet Service Provider (ISP), such as "xcompany.com" if you use a private Internet access account, or "yourschool.edu" if you connect from a university's domain. The IP address is a number assigned (usually at random) to your computer by your ISP whenever you access the Internet.
- The type of browser and operating system used to access our site.
- The date and time you access our site.
- The pages you visit.
- If you linked to the USDA Commodity Web site from another Web site, the address of that Web site.

We do not track or record any other information about your searches during your individual visits.

Links to Other Sites

Our web site has links to many other web sites. Once you access another site through a link that we provide, you are subject to the policy of the new site. USDA makes no guarantees of any kind regarding the content of non-USDA web sites.

Web Site Security

For site security purposes and to ensure that this service remains available to all users, this government computer system employs software programs to monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information, or otherwise cause damage. Except for authorized law enforcement investigations, no other attempts are made to identify individual users or their usage habits. Raw data are used for no other purposes. Unauthorized attempts to upload information or change information on this service are strictly prohibited and may be punishable under the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act of 1986, the National Information Infrastructure Protection Act and other applicable laws.

Mission Statement

To provide a communication and information source for schools, other procurement groups, and the companies that supply them. To maximize the exposure of services provided by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) to its customers, and to maximize USDA's customer participation.

Policy Statement

- This is a public web site. There are no restrictions on viewing any information placed on the site by registered users.
- Vendors, manufacturers, processors, brokers, or distributors who place their products or information on this site do so voluntarily.
- This site is limited to those food products that vendors, manufacturers, processors, brokers, or distributors wish to be made available to the foodservice community. Vendors, manufacturers, processors, brokers, or distributors agree to uphold this policy. The Department will remove all non-food items from the site.
- It is the responsibility of the vendors, manufacturers, processors, brokers, or distributors, and not the Department, to enter, maintain, and ensure the accuracy of the data and information they provide for each product listed by that entity. The vendors, manufacturers, processors, brokers, or distributors participating on this site agree to promptly address and correct any information found to be inaccurate; failure to do so may result in that party being removed from the web site.
- All food products listed on this site must be, or must have been manufactured or processed at facilities that are under the mandatory review of the Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS)(9 CFR Part 381), or under mandatory Food and Drug Administration (FDA), inspection (fluid milk plants only), or from a facility that has passed an USDA plant sanitation audit in accordance with the minimum review period for the appropriate commodity group. Before a vendor's product becomes visible on this site the vendor is required to demonstrate that the facility that produced the listed product has met these requirements.

Commodity Area	Minimum Survey Cycle
Dairy Products	Biannual
Shell Egg	Quarterly
Processed Fruits, Vegetables and Nuts	Annual
Fresh Fruits and Vegetables	Annual
Water Foods	Quarterly
Processed Grain	Biannual
Distributors warehouse	Annual

- Vendors must maintain their eligibility to participate in U.S. Government procurement.
- It is the responsibility of the vendor, manufacturer, processor, or distributor to be current on its USDA plant audit.
- If FSIS suspends service to a vendor's, manufacturer's, processor's, or distributor's facility, or if such facilities fail to pass the applicable USDA sanitation audit, that company and their product information will remain in the database but will no longer appear on the site. When FSIS restores its service, or the facility passes the applicable USDA plant survey, the company and its products will reappear on the site.
- No vendor, manufacturer, processor, or distributor may use the site to Spam mail. Spamming may cause the offending vendor to be suspended from the USDA site.
- USDA reserves the right to remove any party from this web site for failure to adhere to the terms and conditions of this web site for such other reason as USDA deems appropriate.

USDA Food & Commodity Connection

USDA feels very strongly about not allowing spamming in our community. As such, we have developed our own anti-spamming policy to protect our customers and future customers from such tactics.

Spam is ...

Spamming is defined as, "...flooding the Internet with copies of the same message, in an attempt to force the message on people who not otherwise choose to receive it. Most 'Spamming' is commercial advertising, often for dubious products, get-rich-quick schemes, or quasi-legal services. 'Spamming' costs the sender very little to send - most of the costs are paid for by the recipient or the carriers rather than the sender."

"There are two principal types of 'Spamming', and they have different effects on Internet users. Usenet 'Spamming' is a single message sent to 20 or more Usenet newsgroups. Usenet 'Spamming' is aimed at 'lurkers'; people who read newsgroups but rarely or never post and give their address away. Usenet 'Spamming' robs users of the utility of the newsgroups by overwhelming them with a barrage of advertising or other irrelevant posts. Furthermore, Usenet 'Spamming' subverts the ability of system administrators and owners to manage the topics they accept on their systems."

"E-mail 'Spamming' targets individual users with direct mail messages. Scanning Usenet postings, stealing Internet mailing lists, or searching the Web for addresses often creates E-mail 'Spamming' lists. E-mail 'Spamming' typically cost users money out-of-pocket to receive. Many people - anyone with measured phone service - read or receive their mail while the meter is running creating additional costs. Also, it costs ISP's and online services to transmit "Spammed" information, and these costs are transmitted directly to subscribers."

Our spam policy encompasses not simply E-mail, but also Usenet newsgroups, message boards, chat rooms and instant messaging systems. Some of these media are not considered spamming in the traditional Internet sense, however we feel they are methods of abusing the Internet to deliver to unknown users unsolicited information. Additionally, we do not want our message to be distributed by the handing out of pamphlets, leaflets and flyers or by any other means that infringes upon the private property, rules, regulations or laws of any third party.

What happens to spammers?

Individuals who are caught spamming will immediately be suspended from the web site.

Reporting Spammers

Report spam by e-mail to our abuse monitoring team USDA Food Quality Assurance. We promise to investigate claims as soon as possible and to take appropriate action based on our findings.

Under United States law, it is unlawful "to use any telephone facsimile machine, computer, or other device to send an unsolicited advertisement" to any "equipment which has the capacity (A) to transcribe text or images (or both) from an electronic signal received over a regular telephone line onto paper." The law allows individuals to sue the sender of such illegal "junk mail" for $500 per copy. Most states will permit such actions to be filed in Small Claims Court. Here is the text of the federal law:
