UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE DAIRY PROGRAMS

APPLICATION FOR QUALIFICATION OF

COOPERATIVE MILK MARKETING ASSOCIATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 608c OF THE AGRICULTURAL MARKETING AGREEMENT ACT OF 1937, AS AMENDED

INSTRUCTIONS

General. Applications for qualification of a cooperative marketing association under the Federal milk order program are made for several purposes. One is to determine whether an association is entitled to certain privileges and exemptions; another is to establish an association's authority to speak for its members in producer referendums; a third is to confirm that the members of an otherwise qualified association have authorized it to collect the amounts due them from the milk handlers to whom they deliver; and a fourth is to determine whether a qualified association is adequately rendering specified marketing services to producers under a particular milk order.

Letter of Application. A partial letter of application is attached and needs only to be completed. If your application is not for all of these purposes, or relates to the rendering of marketing services under more than one order, the letter should be modified accordingly. The application letter should be signed by an authorized representative of your Association and mailed.

Information to be Submitted. The material that should be submitted in support of your application is of two kinds: (1) copies of certain documents, and (2) information regarding your organization and operations. A list of documents to be submitted appears on page 2.

Use of Guide. Matters to be covered in your informational report are listed under several headings in the guide that follows. Some questions may be answered on the guide. Other questions requiring more space should be answered on a separate sheet of paper. Your statements should be complete and should follow the numbering in the guide. Add any information you consider pertinent.

General Requirements. The general requirements for qualification are:

- The association must include members engaged in the production of Grade A milk.
- The members must be acting together in marketing milk that is regulated by a Federal milk order, or proposed order.
- Be a cooperative marketing association of producers, qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act" (7 U.S.C. 291, 292).
- Have its entire organization and all of its activities under the control of its members.
- Have full authority in the sale of its members' milk.

Information in DIVISION A should show whether your Association is in fact controlled by its members. Loss of member control may occur if there is (1) undue influence by a dealer or its representatives, by other nonmembers, by a clique, or by inactive members; (2) if management people have conflicting interests; (3) if the bylaws are not followed; or (4) if members do not participate substantially in directing Association affairs.

Information in DIVISION B should bring out whether your Association observes the statutory limitation on voting or dividend payments. It should show also whether voting rights are restricted to active producer members

Information in DIVISION C should describe your marketing function or functions An association may engage in marketing without physically handling the product. Any one of the following activities may identify the applicants as a milk marketing association:

- Operating a milk plant that receives members' milk.
- Sale of milk pursuant to written contracts between the association and its handler customers.
- Purchase by handlers of members' milk deliveries, not from members as individuals but from the association.

Other information requested in this division relates to the association's method of distributing earnings, and to the association's services for the mutual benefit of its members.

Information in DIVISION D is to be provided by associations that operate milk plants. It should give a general view of the applicant's physical marketing of members' milk. It should also show the reliance placed upon others in credit and leasing arrangements, the relative handling of nonmembers' products and the identity of the Federal orders under which the plants are regulated.

If your Association applies for the marketing services exemption, you should show in DIVISION E that you actually perform the services. They are those of rendering market information to producers, verifying the weights of their milk deliveries, and sampling and testing the milk for butterfat content. Each one is important. The statements and descriptions given here should be detailed enough to provide a complete picture of your Association's performance

- 2. Bylaws, including amendments.
- 3. Samples of each type of stock certificate.
