

Harmful Algae Website (<http://www.whoi.edu/redtide/>) Survey:

We would like to update our website to meet the needs of our audience. Please consider answering a few questions to help us improve the site.

1. Check the box that best describes you or represents your area:
 - K-12 student
 - undergraduate student
 - graduate student
 - teacher
 - researcher
 - journalist
 - federal, state, local or tribal public health, resource, water quality, or program manager
 - industry
 - member of the public

2. What type of information are you most interested in? (check all that apply)
 - Red tides/water discoloration
 - Information about HAB species
 - Maps of HAB distributions in the US and world
 - Human Illness
 - Mortality of endangered and protected marine mammals, birds, turtles
 - Fish Kills
 - Photos
 - Current and Past Research Projects
 - Scientific Publications
 - Reports assessing the problem & prioritizing research

3. How difficult is the information on the website to understand?
 - Not difficult
 - Slightly difficult
 - Difficult
 - Moderately difficult
 - Very difficult

Thank you for your input!

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 2 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other suggestions for reducing this burden to Quay Dortch
NOAA/NOS/NCCOS/CSCOR N/SC12 1305 East West Highway, Silver Spring, MD. 20910.

As no personally identifiable information is being collected, there is no assurance of confidentiality. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subjected to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act, unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB Control Number.