We are asking people to be in a research study that will help us learn more about what communication campaigns people may have seen and what people think about HIV prevention and testing messages. RTI International, a research company in North Carolina, and ICF International Inc., a research company in Atlanta, GA; are conducting the study. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in Atlanta, Georgia is funding the research. This survey is being administered by Community Marketing Inc.

To see if you are a good match for this study, we will need to ask you some personal questions. Some of the questions will be about your sexual orientation and your HIV status. It is your choice to answer the questions. Your answers will be kept private to the extent allowed by law. You can refuse to answer any question or stop at any time.
