

List of Text Message Questions

1. If you could find out one thing from your genome, what would it be?
2. What interesting traits or characteristics related to things like appearance, health, personality or abilities run in your family?
3. What's unique about your genome?
4. Is there anything about your genome that you want to remain a mystery?
6. Are your behaviors influenced by your genome?
7. What do you hope scientists discover about health and medicine using genomics?

PollEverywhere Text Response

"Thank you! To see poll results or participate in research, visit <http://research.nhgri.nih.gov/SocialGenome>

--

Powered by PollEverywhere.com"

Note: First time users of PollEverywhere will receive the following message from PollEverywhere:

"We noticed it's your first time participating! FYI: Your phone number is completely private, and we'll never spam you.

--

Powered by PollEverywhere.com"

Mock up sample of text message questions and surrounding language

We want to learn from you!!

The National Human Genome Research Institute wants to know what you think about how genomics relates to your life.

Your answers will help us build the word clouds displayed on this screen and on our website: www.genome.gov/xxxx.

Question: If you could ask your genome one question, what would it be?

Text "GenomeQuestion" and your response to the number 22333

Please do not include your name, or any identifying information in your response. You must be over 18 to respond. By texting you affirm that you are 18 years or older

Question: If you could ask your genome one question, what would it be?

What would you ask? Text "GenomeQuestion" and your response to the number 22333

Please do not include your name, or any identifying information in your response.
You must be over 18 to respond. By texting you affirm that you are 18 years or older