1.* Provide a brief history of the resulting foreign bank applicant, including:

- Current and expected ranking by asset size in the home country.
- Number of offices operated domestically and internationally.
- Type(s) of business conducted primarily by the bank and its subsidiaries. Comment on any areas of specialization, including nonbanking and fiduciary business.
- Ownership and corporate structure.
- Home country supervision.

- Provide a list of all business, commercial, or financial enterprises that the resulting foreign bank controls or will control through ownership of more than 25 percent of the stock, or otherwise, and that the bank presently operates or intends to operate within the United States.
- 2.* If the resulting foreign bank is owned or controlled by another foreign bank, also provide the information requested in question 1 for the ultimate parent foreign bank.
 3. If applicable, describe how other offices of the resulting foreign bank, including those in offshore banking centers, will be managed or controlled through the federal branch or agency.
 4. If the appropriate United States regulator has informed the foreign bank applicant that its existing United States operations are considered to be in less than satisfactory condition, the applicant should discuss why it should be permitted to expand its United States presence, notwithstanding that condition.
 5. Discuss any secrecy laws or other impediments that exist that could hinder the resulting foreign bank applicant (and its ultimate parent, if any) from providing information to the OCC, as needed, to determine and enforce compliance with United States law. If impediments exist, explain how the resulting foreign bank applicant plans to provide the OCC with adequate assurances of access to such information.
 6. Describe any planned changes in the federal branch's or agency's policies, procedures, and internal and external audit measures and how those changes will ensure continued compliance with United States law.

Ownership/Management

7. Include a list of any legal entities, persons, or group(s) of persons that own or influence a controlling interest in the resulting foreign bank. An organization chart may be submitted if it portrays accurately the foreign bank's corporate structure and includes the percentage of ownership and names of the various legal entities.

For those persons, groups of persons, or legal entities listed, provide the following information:

- For persons—countries of citizenship, other enterprises owned or controlled, biographical information, present addresses, and references. Include the number and percentage of shares owned, controlled, or held with power to vote, including those held by the person's spouse and dependents.

Include the number and percentage of each class of the foreign bank applicant's shares owned, controlled, or held with power to vote by the corporation.

- For sovereign governments or entities of sovereign governments— information on how and to what extent the government controls the normal business functions of the foreign bank applicant; the services the applicant bank provides to the general public on behalf of the government; and the duties and functions the applicant bank provides for, or on behalf of, the sovereign government. Include the number and percentage of each class of the applicant's shares owned, controlled, or held with power to vote by the government.
8. If management at the federal branch or agency will change, provide biographical reports, or in streamlined submissions a resume, detailing the relevant experience of each of the three proposed senior officers and the principal foreign exchange trader, if any.
 9. Provide details of criminal offenses involving, or supervisory actions against, any member of the board of directors of the resulting foreign bank, or any officer, employee, or advisory member of the proposed federal branch or agency, who has been convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty or breach of trust in any court of any sovereign nation or instrumentality thereof.
 10. Discuss how the resulting foreign bank will serve as a source of financial and managerial strength for the federal branch or agency. If the resulting foreign bank's home country maintains foreign exchange restrictions or other capital export controls, detail the limitations that such restrictions or controls would place on the bank's ability to serve as a source of strength for its United States banking interests.

Include information on all contingent liabilities (for example, standby and commercial letters of credit, guarantees, commitments to grant or purchase loans and securities, and contracts to purchase/sell foreign exchange).
 - Parent only and consolidated profit and loss statements, showing separately each principal source of revenue and expense, year-to-date through the end of the most recent fiscal quarter, the comparable quarter of the preceding year, and for the most recent three fiscal years.
 - On a consolidated basis, a breakdown of risk-based assets as of the end of the most recent fiscal quarter, showing each principal group of on- and off-balance sheet assets and the relevant risk weights. Also, identify the components of tier 1 and tier 2 capital under the risk-based capital guidelines and provide calculations of the applicant's tier 1 and total capital to risk-based assets.

12 CFR 3 outlines the accounts the OCC considers as capital. Describe those items on the resulting foreign bank's balance sheet that correspond to the indicated capital accounts in 12 CFR 3, and explain where they are presently carried on the annual statement of condition.

- Current information that will enable the OCC to judge the quality of the resulting foreign bank's assets. The information should be presented for the consolidated organization and, if available, include, but not be limited to:
 - Delinquencies.
 - Nonaccrual assets.
 - Assets acquired in satisfaction of debts previously contracted.
 - Loans with reduced interest charges.

Applicant's definitions of the previously mentioned terms should be provided.
