Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 20 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other suggestions for reducing this burden to Chris Ellis, NOAA National Ocean Service, at Chris.Ellis@noaa.gov, or contact him at 843-740-1195.

Respondents are not identified on their questionnaires, and any reports will present data in aggregate form only. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subjected to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act, unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB Control Number.

This survey is being conducted on behalf of the NOAA Sentinel Site Program (SSP), which aims to nurture communication and information exchange in sea-level rise science, research and related information. The survey will help the SSP understand how a diverse network of researchers, community members, and natural resource professionals that place great interest in this topic communicate with each other across geography, across agencies, and across professions. This information will identify factors that both hinder and facilitate communication. The end result of this effort is to improve communication in areas that need it. This will, in turn, increase access and awareness of sea-level rise information. The survey should take less than 20 minutes to complete, but you may take as much time as needed. Your participation is voluntary, and you may discontinue the survey at any time. Your contact information and all other responses that you provide will not be shared with others. If you have questions or concerns about the research, please contact Chris Ellis, Social Scientist at the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Charleston SC; chris.ellis@noaa.gov and 843-740-1195.
