If you are pregnant right now, we'd like to interview you once during your pregnancy. We'll also interview you by phone up to ten times during your baby's first two years. Interviews will take place every other month during the first year starting about when your baby is one month old (or starting at three months if your baby is already more than one month old). During your child's second year we'll interview you when your child is thirteen months, fifteen months, eighteen months, and twenty-four months old. The interviews will ask you about your background, your household, your experiences in WIC, your health and your child's health, the choices you make about how and what to feed your baby, your beliefs and advice you've gotten about feeding babies and toddlers, and your family's and child's behavior and habits. Each interview will take about thirty minutes. Allow Us to Seek Birth Hospital Records We will, with your permission, seek information about your baby's birth from the hospital where you gave birth. This will include your baby's health at birth, any complications at birth, and how your baby was fed in the hospital.	C	What Would I Do in the Study? Take Part in Telephone Interviews If you agree to participate in the extension of this study we will contact you when your child is 2½ years old and 3 years old. The interviews will ask you about your background, your household, your experiences in WIC, your health and your child's health, the choices you make about how and what to feed your baby, your beliefs and advice you've gotten about feeding babies and toddlers, and your family's and child's behavior and habits. Each interview will take about thirty minutes. Allow Us to Seek Information on Your Toddler's Length and Weight If your child is no longer receiving WIC at age 3, we may ask you to return to the WIC office to have your child weighed and measured. If you cannot return to the WIC office, we will, with your permission, seek information about your child's height and weight from your child's medical provider.

	If Necessary, Allow Us to Seek a Health Professional's Measures of Child Length and Weight  As long as you remain in WIC, we will get information about your child's length and weight from WIC. But if you stop going to WIC we will ask your permission to get length and weight from either your child's doctor, or if your child hasn't seen a doctor, from a study nurse who will make arrangements with you to come measure and weigh your child. What Are the Benefits of Being In This Study?  There are no direct benefits to you for taking part in this study. The information collected during the study will help the Food and Nutrition Service understand better how WIC mothers choose to feed their babies and toddlers, and how WIC services help mothers with those choices. They will then use this information to continue to improve WIC services for everyone. To thank you for the time you take to be in this study, we will offer you a prepaid MasterCard with $50 sent by mail within two weeks after you join for this first introduction to the study, and $20 for every interview you complete after that. Who Should I Call if I Have Questions?  If you have questions about the study itself and what we are doing, a member of our study team can help you. For those questions, please contact #NAME at XXX-XXX-XXXX. If you have a problem that the study team member couldn't help you resolve, please call Dr. Gail Harrison at 310-825-3738.	What Are the Benefits of Being In This Study?  There are no direct benefits to you for taking part in this study. State Agency HT/WT Administrative Data request form	BB	This document provides specific information about the data Westat needs to obtain from your WIC administrative files for the Feeding My Baby study. We have already discussed with you in some detail the most efficient way to collect this information in your State, and are prepared to work with you to make the process as simple as possible over the next 3 years. Westat will resend these specifications in an email each time we make a data request.	O	As you know, specific data are being requested a few times for participants in the Feeding My Baby study. The data elements requested for each woman and infant/child participant enrolled in the study and the time period for the data collection were defined in Appendix B of the original correspondence. This appendix (an appendix to the Addendum to the original correspondence) is for the Age 3 Extension. It defines the additional data collection.
