The next question is about whether or not you have adults you can count on – to encourage you, or help you with any serious problems that come up.

8. Could you go to a parent or to another relative (not a parent) with a serious problem?

- No
- Yes

The next questions ask about “dating.” By “dating,” we mean spending time with someone you are seeing or going out with. Examples of this might include hanging out at the mall, in the neighborhood, or at home or going somewhere together like the movies, a game, or a party. It doesn't have to be a formal date or something you planned in advance and it may be with a small group. The term "date" includes both one-time dates and time together as part of long-term relationships.

9. Do your parents allow you to date?

- Yes
- No

10. Have you ever DATED someone, including, for example, someone you spent time with or someone you are/were seeing or going out with?

- Yes
- No → If No, skip to Question 25

11. Do your parents know where you are when you are out on a date?

- Always

25. The following questions refer to times when you and the person you are dating have disagreements. We want you to answer these questions about a dating partner if you have one now or have had one in the last 4 months. But if you do not have a current or recent (in the last 4 months) boyfriend or girlfriend, please think about a close friend, either a boy or a girl.

Please remember that by "dating," we mean spending time with someone you are seeing or going out with. Examples of this might include hanging out at the mall, in the neighborhood, or at home or going somewhere together like the movies, a game, or a party. It doesn't have to be a formal date or something you planned in advance and it may be with a small group. The term "date" includes both one-time dates and time together as part of long-term relationships.

- a. The person I am thinking about when filling out this questionnaire has these initials: _____.
