

BURDEN HOURS FOR PRODUCERS TO PROVIDE REQUIRED INFORMATION

September 30, 2011

The following table lists the burden hours FSA and RMA estimate it will take respondents to provide the required information upon full implementation of ACRSI. Upon full implementation the agencies estimate that 90 percent of the total estimated respondents will utilize the web-based single source reporting system to report their information or download the information directly using their precision-ag or farm management system. Therefore, there will be no travel time burden for these respondents. FSA and RMA estimate that 10 percent of the total estimated respondents will report information by personally visiting either the FSA Service Center or their crop insurance agent office, and having that office share the data with the other agency. Therefore, travel time burden is estimated for this 10 percent.
