1 INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to list all the data elements collected online through the Fellowship Management System (FMS). The FMS online application module is a streamlined mechanism for applicants of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) fellowships to submit their information online and track statuses of the application processes (e.g., all required materials received, invited for interviews). The FMS is a robust flexible framework and the FMS Application Module is tailored successfully for various CDC fellowships:

- Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS)
- Public Health Informatics Fellowship (PHIF)
- CDC-Hubert Global Health Fellowship (Hubert)
- CDC Epidemiology Elective Program for senior medical and veterinary Students (Epi-Elect)
- Prevention Effectiveness Fellowship (PEF)
- Public Health Associate Program (PHAP)

The Preventive Medicine Residency and Fellowship (PMR/F/F) program is not using the FMS to collect applications from the nonfederal respondents as the applicants are federal employees; PMR/F is not reflected in this document.

1.1 Document Structure

This document is broken down by the major pages of the FMS Application. In this document, each page of the FMS Application has sections and some sub-sections. In addition, application instructions, login, and registration pages are included. Appendix A provides examples of emails generated by FMS for the EIS application process. The application instructions and emails provided in this document are examples from EIS; instructions and emails in the FMS Application are tailored to each CDC fellowship's requirements, eligibility criteria, information, and timeline.

The main screenshots of the Application pages, sections, or subsections are from EIS with additional screenshots of additional data elements collected by other CDC fellowships.

Following the screenshots in each section is a table that shows the status of the collection of data elements by each CDC fellowships. The following labels indicate the status of the collection:

- “Yes” indicates that the fellowship collects the information and that applicants are required to submit this information.
- “Opt” indicates that the fellowship collects the information and that it is optional for applicants to submit this information.
- “-” indicates that the fellowship does not collect this information.

In addition, the table shows the data values of each data element, and for ones that have a list of dropdown values, the data value category is hyperlinked to its list located in Appendix B.

The following table (Table 1.1 -a) provides an overview of the major pages and sections in the FMS Application module used by each fellowship program. The “Yes” indicates that the fellowship uses the page or section, whereas, the “-” indicates that the fellowship does not use the page or section.

Letters of Recommendation < Return to Status Page

Four letters of recommendation are required with the EIS application. Select persons who are familiar with your academic achievements, future aspirations, personal qualities, and professional attributes. Provide them with a copy of the PDF Instructions for Letters of Recommendation.

One letter must be from a faculty member or supervisor.

For U.S physicians only: You must submit a Dean's letter from your medical school as one of the four letters.

For the remaining letters, select any other appropriate professional.

All letters must be submitted in English.

All letters must be specific to your EIS application and dated within the last 6 months.

Once you submit your online application, track receipt of your Letters of Recommendation in the Track Your Application Section.

16.3 Interview Invitation for US Applicants

Thank you for applying to the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) program beginning July 2015. EIS offers a unique opportunity to learn and practice applied epidemiology as an important member of the CDC team. EIS officers serve in many important roles — from leading field investigations, to conducting epidemiologic analyses of existing data bases, to designing, implementing, and evaluating surveillance systems. The EIS model is TRAINING THROUGH SERVICE and offers an intense, high-energy program.

As the next step in the application process, you are invited to interview at CDC in Atlanta, Georgia. The EIS program is not able to provide reimbursement for any expenses associated with your travel to interview in Atlanta.

In considering whether to interview, please review the following EIS requirements:

- Commitment to a full-time, 2-year program beginning in July
- Flexibility and willingness to work in any of the five EIS assignments you will rank
- Complete attendance at the following:
 - o EIS conference (April 20–24, 2015). This conference occurs before the 2-year assignment begins. Expenses for conference travel will be paid for by the EIS program
 - o Summer EIS course (4 weeks in July)
 - o Regional and national conferences and other meetings, as required
- Termination of previous work and school responsibilities
- Ability to travel on short notice as needed by CDC (most travel lasts less than one month)
- Flexibility in work days and hours to ensure rapid response to public health problems and to meet training requirements (you may be required to work some weekends or holidays)

The interview process takes a full day. The interviewers will inquire about the depth of your interest in public health, epidemiology, and the EIS program. In addition, they will assess personal qualities such as communication and interpersonal skills, professionalism, maturity, flexibility, motivation, and enthusiasm. We encourage you to find out as much as you can about CDC and the EIS program prior to your interviews. We have included an EIS assignment book from last year to assist you.

On the day of your interview, you will participate in five 30-minute interviews. These will consist of interviews with one to two EIS program staff epidemiologists and representatives from other CDC programs. The EIS Interview Request form, with a list of CDC program areas, is attached.

If you are interested in interviewing, complete and return the EIS Interview Request form to EISInterviewCoord@cdc.gov. Your interview date will be confirmed by e-mail. You are encouraged to schedule your interview as soon as possible.

Please report to the EIS office by 7:30 a.m. on your interview day. The office is located at 2400 Century Parkway NE, Atlanta, GA 30345 (map and hotels in the area included). Be prepared to show a picture ID when entering the building (e.g., U.S. driver's license, passport). If you have questions about the interview process call the EIS interview coordinator at 404-498-6110 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. (EDT) Monday through Friday.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Simone, M.D.
Acting EIS Chief

16.4 Interview Invitation for International Applicants

Thank you for applying to the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) program beginning July 2015. EIS offers a unique opportunity to learn and practice applied epidemiology as an important member of the CDC team. EIS officers serve in many important roles—from leading field investigations, to conducting epidemiologic analyses of existing data bases, to designing, implementing, and evaluating surveillance systems. The EIS model is TRAINING THROUGH SERVICE and offers an intense, high-energy program.

As the next step in the application process, you are invited to interview at CDC in Atlanta, Georgia. The EIS program is not able to provide reimbursement for any expenses associated with your travel to interview in Atlanta. Because of the domestic nature of the program, only a limited number of non-U.S. citizens are selected.

In considering whether to interview, please review the following EIS requirements:

- Commitment to a full-time, 2-year program beginning in July
- Flexibility and willingness to work in any of the five EIS assignments you will rank
- Proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, and understanding English
- Complete attendance at the following:
 - o EIS conference (April 20–24, 2015). This conference occurs before the 2-year assignment begins. Expenses for conference travel will be paid for by the EIS program
 - o Summer EIS course (4 weeks in July)
 - o Regional and national conferences and other meetings, as required
- Termination of previous work and school responsibilities
- Ability to travel on short notice as needed by CDC (most travel lasts less than one month)
- Flexibility in work days and hours to ensure rapid response to public health problems and to meet training requirements (you may be required to work some weekends or holidays)

For non-U.S. citizens to participate in interviews, security clearance for entry into the CDC building MUST be completed 15 days prior to your scheduled interview. You will receive an e-mail from CDC's Office of Safety, Security, and Asset Management (OSSAM) Visitor Management System. We advise you to respond to this e-mail immediately to receive security clearance in a timely manner. On the day of your interview, you will be required to show your passport when entering the building.

Interviews take up to one full day. The interviewers will inquire about the depth of your interest in public health, epidemiology, and the EIS program. In addition, they will assess personal qualities such as communication and interpersonal skills, professionalism, maturity, flexibility, motivation, and enthusiasm. We encourage you to find out as much as you can about CDC and the EIS program prior to your interview. We have included an EIS assignment book from last year to assist you in this process.

On the day of your interview, you will participate in five 30-minute interviews. These will consist of interviews with one to two EIS program staff epidemiologists and representatives from other CDC programs. The EIS Interview Request form, with a list of CDC program areas, is attached.

If you are interested in interviewing, complete and return the EIS Interview Request form to EISInterviewCoord@cdc.gov. Your interview date will be confirmed by e-mail. Schedule your interview as soon as possible.

Please report to the EIS office by 7:30 a.m. on your interview day. The office is located at 2400 Century Parkway, NE, Atlanta, GA 30345 (map and hotels in the area included).

If you have questions about the interview process call the EIS interview coordinator at 404-498-6110 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. (EDT) Monday through Friday.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Simone, MD
Acting EIS Chief
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

You will need to bring a valid, picture ID to enter the building (e.g., U.S. driver's license, passport). Plan to be available for interviews until 5 p.m. EST.

If you have further questions or need to reschedule your interview, please respond to this e-mail.

16.6 Interview Confirmation for International Applicants

Your EIS Interview is scheduled on InteviewDate

This is contingent upon the successful completion of your security clearance.

Security clearance for non-U.S. citizens is required for you to enter the building on the day of the interview. This process must be completed 15 days prior to your scheduled interview.

You will receive an e-mail from the Visitors Management System for an International Visitor Requests at CDC. Respond to this e-mail immediately to receive security clearance in a timely manner.

On the day of your interview, report to the EIS Program office by 7:30 a.m. EST. The EIS Office is located at 2400 Century Parkway, NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30345; the EIS telephone number is 404-498-6110.

You will be required to show a valid passport to enter the building. Plan to be available for interviews until 5 p.m. EST.

If you have further questions or need to reschedule your interview, please respond to this e-mail.

16.7 Acceptance Letter

Congratulations! On behalf of the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) Selection Committee, you have been selected for the final phase of appointment as an EIS Officer. In considering your decision, please review the criteria below to ensure you can make a two-year commitment to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) as an EIS Officer.

EIS officers must meet the following requirements:

- Rank and match to at least six EIS assignments.
- Be flexible in your work days and hours in order to provide rapid response to public health problems and meet training requirements. You may be required to work some weekends and holidays.
- Able to travel on short notice as needed by CDC (most emergency travel lasts less than one month).
- Accept assignment to CDC, a state/local health department, or other EIS approved federal health position.
- Attend 3 Annual EIS Conferences
 - You are required to attend conference in Atlanta, GA, April 20 – 24, 2015, prior to your July start.
 - Full conference attendance and participation in the assignment interview/match is required.
 - Interviews for assignment matches will take place Friday, April 24, 2015; match notification is sent via email on Monday, April 27, 2015.
 - Travel must be arranged by the EIS office for you to receive reimbursement for travel expenses.
 - The second and third conferences occur during your EIS assignment.
- Attend the following courses and meetings during your 2-year assignment:
 - Summer EIS Course: July of your first year
 - Two Fall Courses: dates TBD
 - Tuesday Morning and Post-Tuesday Morning Seminars; remote access available for officers outside Atlanta.
 - National and regional conferences and other meetings as required
 - EIS Rounds as required
- Terminate previous work and school responsibilities.

Please note that your appointment is contingent upon verification of credentials and a favorable background check. If applicable, the following must also be confirmed:

- US citizens or US permanent resident must provide proof of a valid, unrestricted license if required for your discipline (physician, veterinarian, nurse, dentist, etc.).
- Confirmation of qualifying degree if in progress at the time of application. A final transcript showing the conferred qualifying degree must be received by mid-June. Degrees requiring a dissertation must submit proof of defense to the EIS program by March 30, 2015. Acceptable proof of defense includes either official school transcript or letter from Department Chair/Dissertation Advisor).

If you have questions or concerns about meeting any of the above requirements, please contact the EIS program at 404-498-6110, prior to responding to this offer.

Reply within 1 week of the date of this e-mail/letter by accessing the EIS Application at <https://fms.cdc.gov/Legacy/Application/EIS>. Use the same login information (e-mail address and password) that you used to apply.

After you log in, click the link to review your appointment letter. This provides information regarding salary and benefits. Proceed to the decision screen and indicate your decision, demographic, and conference travel information. If eligible, you may also see a question about interest in a Prematch assignment. Prematch means you can be matched to a particular field assignment in January and need not wait until the April EIS Conference. Select the “see all Prematch assignments” link for information about the Prematch process and detailed position descriptions. Indicating interest in a Prematch assignment(s) does not guarantee a Prematch placement.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Simone, MD

16.8 Invitation to Match Letter

* Do not reply to this e-mail. It was sent from an unattended mailbox, and replies are not reviewed. ****

Dear $strFname$ $strLname$,

Congratulations! Your decision to join the 2015 EIS class and your personnel preference was received. The travel information you submitted will be used to process your itinerary from April 20-24, 2015, for attendance and assignment matching at the 64th Annual EIS Conference. Additional preconference information will be sent to you via e-mail in mid-February.

If there are any questions about the information you submitted, someone from the EIS program will contact you directly. Please monitor your e-mail for correspondence from us and do not hesitate to contact the EIS program if you have any questions or concerns, 404-498-6110.

We look forward to seeing you in Atlanta this April.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Simone, MD
Acting EIS Chief
