A. INTRODUCTION

Hello, my name is _____. Today, I will be asking you some questions for the FACES Family Engagement Study. Information from this study will be used to help Head Start better serve all children and their families. I will ask some questions about your experiences related to working with families in your Head Start program. I will also ask you several questions about your background and about the ways the program helps to support children's learning and development. When thinking about development, I'd like for you to consider children's learning, behavior, and physical health and well-being.

This interview will last approximately one hour. All of the information that you share with me will be kept private. Your name will not be attached to any of the information you give us. No one from your program will see or hear your responses.

During the interview, I will be taking some notes about our discussion. You may stop me at any time and you may ask me to go back to earlier questions to change your answers. There are no right or wrong answers to these questions. To help me keep track of your responses to the questions, I will audio record our conversation. Again, this information will not be shared with anyone from your program; it is just meant to serve as a record of what you and I discussed. Is that okay?

Do you have any questions before we begin the interview?

B. OPPORTUNITIES FOR FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

I would like to begin by asking you about ways the program encourages families' involvement in activities that support their child's learning and development. This includes activities that parents participate in at the program, at home, or in their community.

B1. What are some of the activities that your program offers for getting families involved at the program?

- IF POLICY COUNCIL OR COMMITTEES NOT MENTIONED, ASK:

B1A. What types of leadership activities does the program encourage families to get involved in?

B2. Does the program encourage parents to suggest activities they'd like to be involved in at the program?

- IF YES, ASK:

B2A. What are some of the ways parents are encouraged to share their ideas?

B3. Beyond what you have already mentioned, does the program encourage parents to share their opinions about program policies and procedures in other ways?

- IF YES, ASK:

B3A. How so?

B4. What are some types of things that your program suggests families do outside of the program to support their child's learning and development? This includes activities parents can do with their child at home or in their community.

B5. Thinking about the activities we have discussed so far, how is information about these opportunities shared with families?

Now, I'd like to hear about ways your program tries to work with and engage specific types of parents or families. For each of the groups that I will ask about, I'd like to hear if your program offers information or activities to get parents and families involved in program activities and in their child's learning and development.

B6. What are some ways that your program tries to engage families from different cultural and language backgrounds?

C. PROGRAM SUPPORTS FOR FAMILY ENGAGEMENT AND SERVICE RECEIPT

Now, I would like to ask you a few questions about the resources and support staff members receive from the program for working with families and getting them engaged in the program and in their child's learning and development.
