You must be able to verify some information

- Have a valid E-mail address,
- Have a Social Security number,
- Have a U.S. mailing address, and
- Be at least 18 years of age.

You can create an account only to gain access to your account. Without your consent, you cannot use this online service to access the information of:

- With whom you have a business relationship; or
- For whom you are an appointed representative.

Unauthorized use of this service may subject you to criminal or civil penalties, or both.

What will we do with your information?

We use the information you give us to verify your identity. We verify the information you give us against our records. We also use Experian, an external authentication service provider, to help us verify your identity. Experian verifies the information you give us against their records. We do not share your Social Security number with Experian. Experian keeps your information only for the time period permitted by Federal laws, Regulations, or guidelines. We use Experian's fraud prevention services to help protect your information.

When we make a verification request to establish your account to help verify your identity. As a result, you may see a soft inquiry on your credit report. This will show an inquiry by the Social Security Administration. Soft inquiries do not affect your credit score. Soft inquiries are displayed in the version of the credit report that is provided to lenders. The soft inquiry will not appear on your credit report. The soft inquiry will be removed from your Experian credit report after 25 months. You will not generate additional soft inquiries by logging in to your account.

What happens if you provide false information?

You may be subject to criminal or civil penalties, or both, if you provide false information or create an account or engage in unauthorized use of this service.

Who is responsible if the device you use is compromised?

You assume responsibility for the disclosure of your personal information if you are using to access the MySocialSecurity application or website. You also understand that Social Security is not responsible for the disclosure of your information due to your negligence or for the wrongful acts of others.

I agree to the Terms of Service.

Reset or Disable Extra Security

No longer have this cell phone number?
If you cannot use the cell phone number on your account, we can send a letter with instructions for changing or removing your phone.

Your privacy:
For details on your information, you to read Statement.

To reset your cell phone, you will need to:

- enter a mailing address for your reset instructions,
- provide one additional item of information that we can verify, and
- wait 5 to 10 business days for your reset letter to arrive in the mail to complete the process.

Terms of Service

What will we do with your information?

We use the information you give us to verify your identity. We verify your records. We also use Experian, an external authentication service. Experian verifies the information you give us against their records. We use your cell phone number with Experian. Experian keeps your information only for the purposes of the Regulations, or guidelines. We use Experian's fraud prevention services.

When we make a verification request to establish your account, Experian may check your credit report to help verify your identity. As a result, you may see a soft inquiry on your Experian credit report. This will show an inquiry by the Social Security Administration on the date of the request. Soft inquiries do not affect your credit score and are not reported to lenders. The soft inquiry will not appear on your TransUnion, and will generally be removed from your Experian credit report. If you have registered for an online account, you will not generate a credit report for our services.

What happens if you provide false information or misrepresent yourself?

You may be subject to criminal or civil penalties, or both, if you provide false information or create an account or engage in unauthorized use of this service.

Who is responsible if the device you are using is not adequately safeguarded?

You assume responsibility for the disclosure of your personal information if the computer or other device that you are using to access the MySocialSecurity application does not adequately safeguard your information. 6. Add Extra Security – Terms of Service – p.102 in Internet screen package

What is extra security?
Each time you sign in, we'll send you a text message on your cell phone. Show me how it works.

To enable this feature, you will need to:

- have a cell phone with text messaging,
- provide one additional item of information that we can verify, and
- wait 5 to 10 business days for your upgrade letter to arrive in the mail to complete the process.

Terms of Service

What will we do with your information?

We use the information you give us to verify your identity records. We also use Experian, an external authentication service, to verify the information you give us against the information in Experian's credit reports. Experian keeps your information confidential and does not share it with other companies, except as required by law, Regulations, or guidelines. We use Experian's fraud prevention services to help protect your information.

When we make a verification request to establish your identity, we may request a credit report to help verify your identity. As a result, you may have a hard inquiry on your Experian credit report. This will show an inquiry by the Social Security Administration on the date of the request. Soft inquiries do not affect your credit score and are not reported to lenders. The soft inquiry will not be shared with TransUnion, and will generally be removed from your credit report after 12 months. If you have registered for an online account, you will not be affected by this inquiry.

What happens if you provide false information?

You may be subject to criminal or civil penalties for both, if you knowingly provide false information to sign in or create an account or engage in unauthorized use of the MySocialSecurity application.

Who is responsible if the device you are using is not adequately safeguarded?

You assume responsibility for the disclosure of your personal information if the computer or other device that you are using to access the MySocialSecurity application does not adequately safeguard your information. You also understand that Social Security is not responsible for the disclosure of your information due to your negligence or for the wrongful acts of others.
