INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

FORM I-20M-N. The first time you enter the United States, you must present a Form I-20M-N. It will be returned to you endorsed with an admission number. You must have your Form I-20M-N with you at all times. You must not surrender it when you leave the United States. Failure to have it with you when you apply to reenter the United States will delay your entry into the United States. (If you lose your Form I-20M-N, you must request a new one from a designated school official at your school.

ADMISSION. You must give this Form (I-20 M-N) to the American Consular Officer at the time you apply for a visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements), and to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Officer with evidence of ability to support yourself while pursuing a full course of study when you arrive in the United States. If you are exempt from visa requirements, and you are applying for admission to the United States as an M-1 student, you must give the DHS Officer this form and evidence of your ability to support yourself while pursuing a full course of study.

SCHOOL. If you are applying for entry to the United States for the first time after being issued an M-1 visa, you will not be admitted unless you plan to attend the school specified in that visa. If, before you enter the United States, you decide to attend another school, you will present Form I-20M-N from the new school to an American Consular Officer to have that school specified in your visa.

EMPLOYMENT. You are not permitted to work except for practical training or to engage in business. You may apply for permission to work for practical training only after completing the educational program. Your alien spouse or child (M-2 classification) may not work in the United States.

PERIOD OF STAY. You are permitted to remain in the United States only while maintaining nonimmigrant student status. You must also maintain a valid passport. You may not stay longer than authorized on your Form I-20M-N unless you apply to the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) Form I-539 accompanied by Form I-20M-N for an extension, between 15 and 60 days before the date that your authorized stay expires. You may stay while the application is being processed and, if it is approved, until the expiration of the extension.

SCHOOL TRANSFER. You will not be granted permission to transfer to another school within 6 months of the date you first become an M-1 student, unless you are unable to remain at the school to which you are first admitted due to circumstances beyond your control. If you want to transfer to another school, you must apply on Form I-539 accompanied by your Form I-20M-N. The application must be submitted to DHS USCIS office having jurisdiction over the school from which you wish to transfer. After filing your application, you may attend the new school subject to approval or denial of your application. Your application will be denied, however, if you have not been taking a full course of study at the school you were last authorized to attend.

EDUCATIONAL. You are not permitted to change your educational objective.

REENTRY. If you want to reenter the United States as a nonimmigrant student after a temporary absence, you must be in possession of the following: (1) a valid student visa; (2) a valid passport and either a new Form I-20M-N or your current Form I-20M-N properly endorsed for reentry if the information on the Form I-20M-N is current.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS. If you move, you must submit a notice within 10 days of your change of address to USCIS office on Form AR-11 (available at any USCIS office).

ARRIVAL/DEPARTURE. When you depart from the United States, you must give your "Arrival/Departure Record" (Form I-94) to a representative of the steamship or airline if you leave via a seaport or airport, to a Canadian DHS Officer if you leave across the Canadian border, or to a United States DHS Officer if you leave across the Mexican border. However, you may keep your Form I-94 for reentering United States from Mexico or Canada if you return to the U.S. within 30 days.

PENALTY. If you do not register at the school named in your Form I-20M-N, stop attending school, take less than a full course of study, or accept unauthorized employment, you fail to maintain your status and may be deported from the United States.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE SCHOOL

Failure to comply with the law provides severe criminal penalties for you and your school for failure to comply with the regulations and instructions governing issuance of this form. Failure to comply with 8 CFR 214.3(k) may subject you and your school to criminal prosecution. If you issue this form improperly, provide false information, or fail to submit required reports, DHS may withdraw its approval of your school for attendance by nonimmigrant students.

It Is Your Responsibility:

- A. To complete Page 1 for any alien you have accepted for a full course of study in your school, if that person:
 - (1) Intends to apply for admission to the United States as a nonimmigrant under Section 101(a)(15)(M)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (M-1 classification);

 - (2) Has a spouse or children who wish to join the student in the United States and acquire nonimmigrant (M-2) classification, and there has been no change in the information in items 7 and/or 8 on Page 1. If there has been a change in items 7 and/or 8 on Page 1, a new Form I-20M-N must be issued.
- C. To establish that any student to whom you issue this form:
 - (1) Is able to pay all expenses incurred (and those of any dependents with the student) while in the United States.
 - (2) Meets all requirements for admission to your school. If you want assistance in determining the student's proficiency in English, contact the Cultural Affairs Officer at the Embassy of the student's country.
- D. To be sure that each Form I-20M-N is signed and issued in the United States by a designated school official of your school as defined in 8 CFR 214.3(l). A designated school official who may be authorized by the school to issue this form must be a regularly employed member of the administration whose office is located at the school and whose compensation does not come from commissions for recruitment of foreign students. Individuals whose principal obligation to the school is to recruit foreign students for compensation may not be authorized to issue this form.
- E. To endorse Page 3 of this form at least every 6 months when the student leaves the United States for a temporary absence, if the student will be enrolled in your school immediately after reentry.
- F. To retain all evidence which shows the scholastic ability and financial status on which admission was based, as long as the student is attending your school.
