this program is a failure. the govt is completely ineffective in these programs. their record of doing anything to save anybody is useless and wasteful. this agency would do more good attending hearings of the usda where the usda and fda allow all kinds of toxic chemicals and crap to be fed to the american public. diet is important as a first step. this agency sits on its butt and lets very very unhealthful things go on at both agencies. it is in a position to rebut alot of the crap going on with our food, but this agency does nothing. it sits on its butt and spends our tax dollars on these totally ineffective campaigns. i want to see the focus instead on bringing health concerns to the crap that goes into our food, like pepsi just being approved to put some new kind of sweetener in our food. certainlyly this agency sits on its butt and does nothing to bring in infromation to thess eharings on the 248 toxic chemicals we already carry in our bodies and what they are doing to our bodies. this agency is a total waste. it acts as a fat cat bureaucracy and under its administration, the us has fallen from no 1 in the world in health to no 27 despite the fact taxpayers have barreled trillions of dollars to this agency. no, i do not support this wasteful, useless campsign. this comment is for thepublic record, jean public
