VI. Document Accessibility

The Census Bureau is committed to making online forms and other public documents on its Internet server accessible to all. Currently, we are reviewing our websites and making modifications to those pages which are not in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. We use Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) to create pages that are generally accessible to persons using screen reading devices, and we are careful in our construction of HTML documents to ensure maximum accessibility. We include alternate text describing graphics.

Many Census Bureau Internet documents are in ASCII or HTML formats. These documents are accessible to persons using screen reading software. We also have a large number of documents in Adobe Acrobat PDF (Portable Document Format) files. Currently, many people using screen reading devices cannot read documents in PDF format, specifically those that were created from a scanned hard copy.

Adobe Systems, Inc. is producing various products designed to make Adobe Acrobat documents accessible to persons using screen reading software. Adobe's accessibility web pages describe their efforts.

To better serve those with visual disabilities whom are having difficulty accessing PDF documents; you may contact us directly for further assistance at 301-763-INFO (4636), 800-923-8282, or by submitting a request at <https://ask.census.gov>.

VII. Third Party Websites & Applications

The Census Bureau has a presence on several social media/Web 2.0 platforms (Facebook, YouTube, Twitter and Flickr) and clearly contain the Census Bureau's official logo. Each of these web sites provides visitors with a unique way to communicate with the agency. Some may allow visitors to log in, create profiles and save information in those profiles. We do not collect any personally identifiable information about you through your use of these social media/Web 2.0 platforms. We may collect non-identifying information, such as city, state, and zip code of visitors to these web sites for statistical, research, and promotional purposes only. Further, the Census Bureau has no control over the third-party's use of this information and is not liable regarding the third-party's safeguarding your information. These web sites have their own privacy, security and accessibility policies.

The Census Bureau will from time-to-time use a third-party web site or application (hosted service) to conduct customer satisfaction surveys and/or feedback forms. These surveys and/or feedback forms do not collect personally identifiable information. The results from these surveys or forms are used to conduct primary research into the quality of the Census Bureau programs and products. The results collected will be used strictly for internal program management purposes to assess staff work, material design and development and to enhance planning efforts for current and future surveys and censuses.

VIII. Security & Third Party Links

Security, Intrusion, and Detection

To ensure that computer service remains available to all users, this government IT system employs software programs to monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information, or otherwise cause damage to our computer system. websites identified as representing an actual or potential security threat to Census Bureau information and/or information resources are blocked. Further, websites that are known to violate Census Bureau, Department of Commerce, and/or Federal guidelines regarding access to certain types of websites and/or content are blocked, for example:

- Websites hosting malware/spam
- Websites involved in the compromise of other government agencies
- Adult content websites
- On-line storage and file sharing websites
- Freeware/Shareware websites
- Websites attacking Census Bureau systems (attempting to identify and exploit vulnerabilities in Internet facing systems)

Data are Encrypted at all Times

Our secure servers use "HTTPS", Hypertext Transfer Protocol over Secure Socket Layer, to ensure the encrypted transmission of data between your browser and the U.S. Census Bureau. This means that instead of sending readable text over the Internet, both your browser and our server encode (scramble) all text using a security key. That way, personal data sent to your browser or data you send back are extremely difficult to decode in the unlikely event it was intercepted by an unauthorized party.

All browsers connecting to our secure server must use a minimum encryption key size of 128 bits. If you cannot connect to our secure server and you are using an older browser, please upgrade to a newer browser capable of using the required encryption key size. In addition to data being encrypted while transmitted, all data are strongly encrypted when stored on our servers (even if stored temporarily).

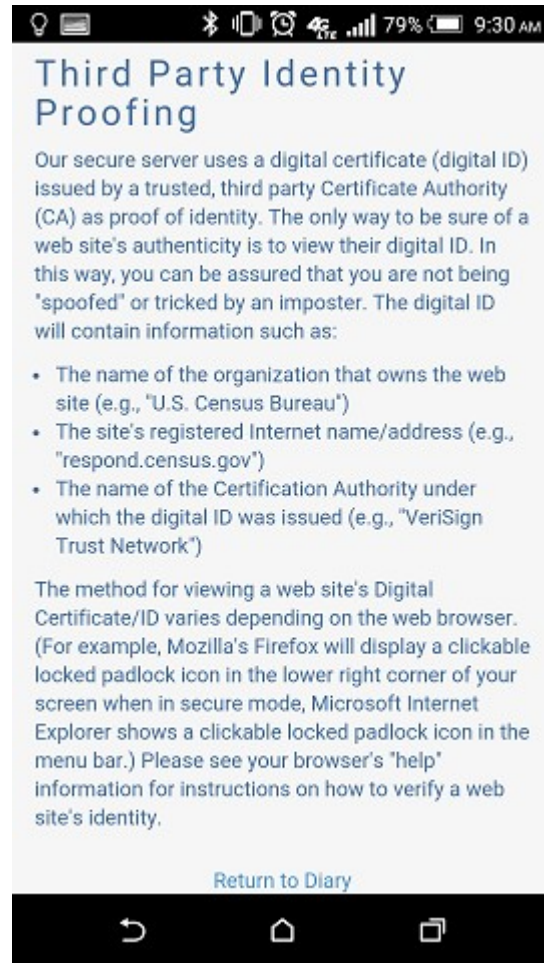

Third Party Identity Proofing

Our secure server uses a digital certificate (digital ID) issued by a trusted, third party Certificate Authority (CA) as proof of identity. The only way to be sure of a web site's authenticity is to view their digital ID. In this way, you can be assured that you are not being "spoofed" or tricked by an imposter. The digital ID will contain information such as:

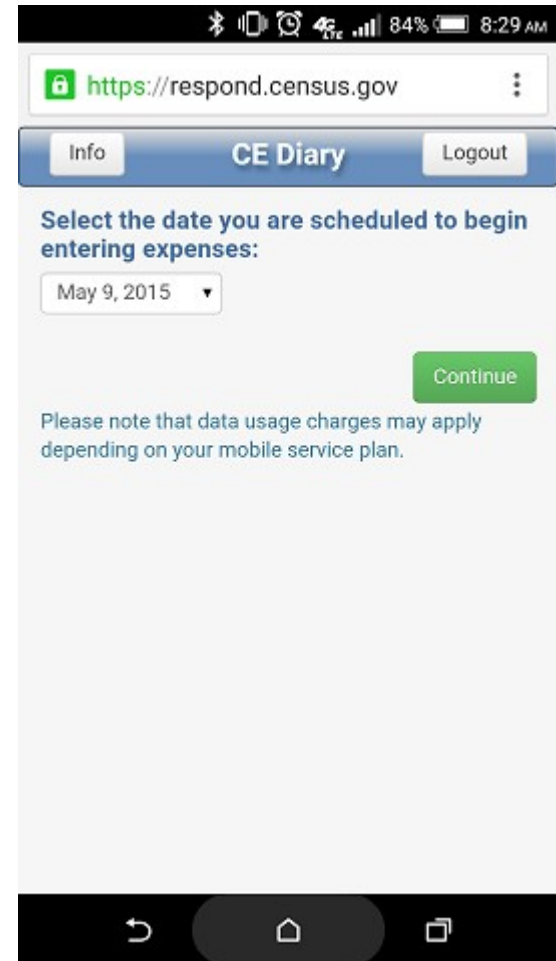

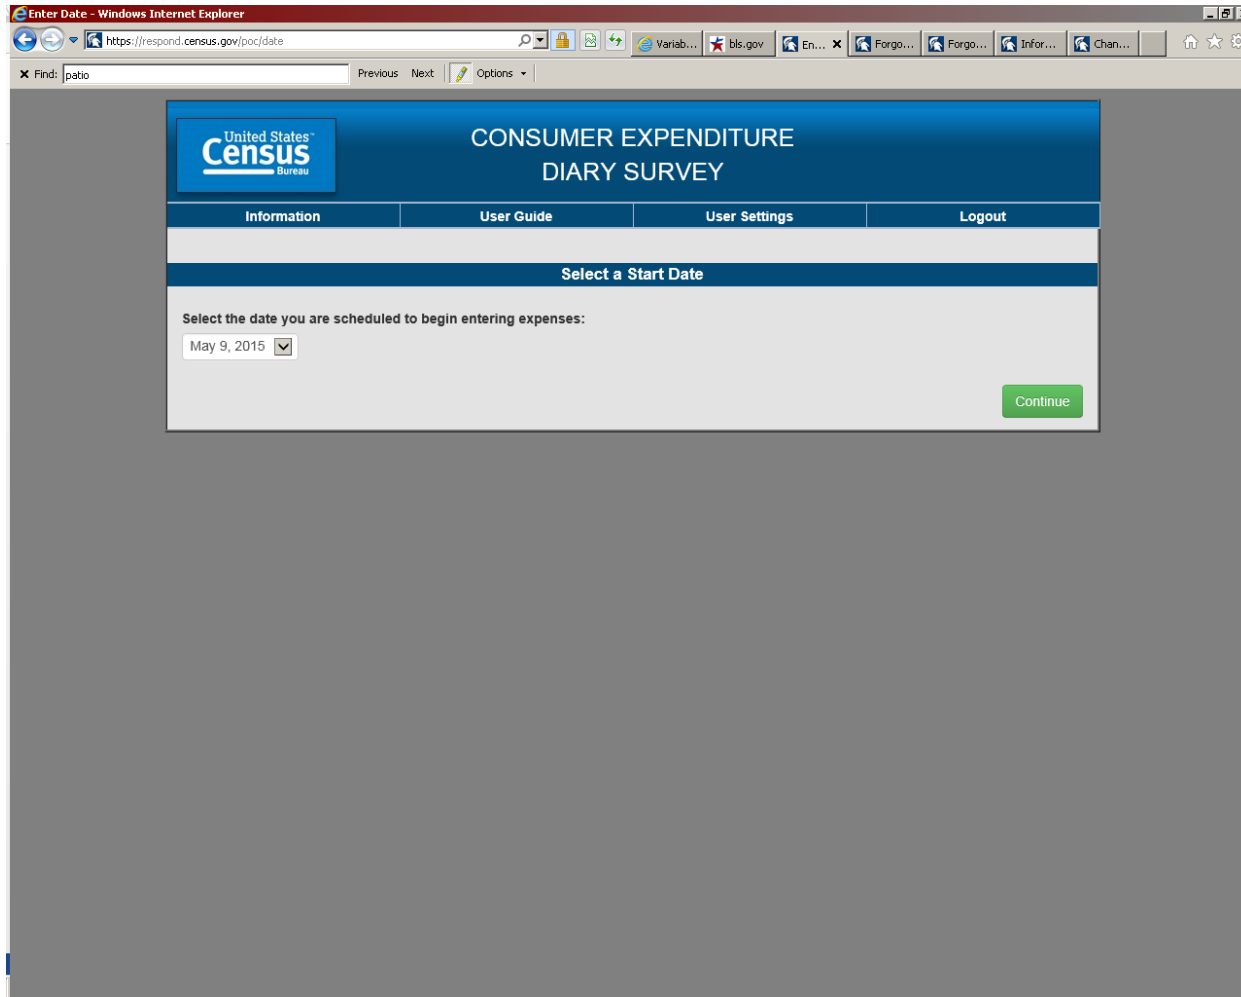

- The name of the organization that owns the web site (e.g., "U.S. Census Bureau")
- The site's registered Internet name/address (e.g., "respond.census.gov")
- The name of the Certification Authority under which the digital ID was issued (e.g., "VeriSign Trust Network")

The method for viewing a web site's Digital Certificate/ID varies depending on the web browser. (For example, Mozilla's Firefox will display a clickable locked padlock icon in the lower right corner of your screen when in secure mode, Microsoft Internet Explorer shows a clickable locked padlock icon in the menu bar.) Please see your browser's "help" information for instructions on how to verify a web site's identity.

What is the Consumer Expenditure Survey?
The Consumer Expenditure Survey collects information from the Nation's households and families on their buying habits (expenditures), income, and household characteristics. The strength of the survey is that it allows data users to relate the expenditures and income of consumers to the characteristics of those consumers. The survey consists of two components, a quarterly Interview Survey and a weekly Diary Survey, each with its own questionnaire and sample.

In the Diary Survey, respondents are asked to keep track of all their purchases made each day for a 1-week period. For more information on the CE Surveys, visit the CE website at www.bls.gov/ce.

How are data from the Consumer Expenditure Survey used?
Data from the Consumer Expenditure Survey are used in a number of different ways by a variety of users. One important use of the survey is for the periodic revision of the Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index (CPI). The Bureau uses survey results to select new market baskets of goods and services for the CPI, to determine the relative importance of CPI components, and to derive new cost weights for the market baskets. Researchers find the data useful in analyzing the demand for groups of goods and services. The data allow them to track spending trends of different types of consumer units. Government and private agencies use the data to study the welfare of particular segments of the population, such as those consumer units with a reference person aged 65 and older or under age 25, or for low-income consumer units. Economic policymakers use the data to study the impact of policy changes on the welfare of different socioeconomic groups. Researchers use the data in a variety of studies, including those that focus on the spending behavior of different family types, trends in expenditures on various expenditure components including new types of goods and services, gift-giving behavior, consumption studies, and historical spending trends.

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "Frequently Asked Questions - Windows Internet Explorer". The address bar shows the URL "https://respond.census.gov/poc/faqs". The page header features the United States Census Bureau logo and the title "CONSUMER EXPENDITURE DIARY SURVEY". Below the header is a button labeled "Close and Return to Info Menu". The main content is titled "Frequently Asked Questions" and lists 13 questions and answers regarding the survey process.

1. How detailed should my descriptions be?
Please refer to the examples in your Web Diary reference card or within the actual Web Diary itself. Each section of the Web Diary has a list of examples of how detailed your expenses should be recorded.

2. How should I record multiple quantities?
If the items are identical, you can combine them on the same line and enter the total cost of all the items. See examples below.

3. How should I record pre-payments such as a subway fare card?
Record the expense when you pay for it, not when you use it.

4. How should I record credit card purchases?
Record the individual expense on the day that you use your credit card to pay for something, not on the day you pay your entire credit card bill.

5. Should I record automatic deductions taken from my paycheck or bank account?
Yes, record automatic deductions (such as health insurance premiums taken out of your account or paycheck) only if they are deducted that week. Include them in the section called All Other Products, Services, and Expenses (Section 4).

6. Should I record typical monthly bills?
Yes, record typical monthly bills only if you pay them during the week(s) that you have the diary. Include them in the section called All Other Products, Services, and Expenses (Section 4).

7. What should I do when I use coupons, discount cards, or loyalty cards?
Subtract the discount from the original price and include the amount that you paid.

8. Can I just give you receipts instead of entering the information in the Web Diary?
We would prefer that you enter your own expenses, however you may give receipts to your field representative.

9. How should I record items if I don't know whether it includes tax?
Record the amount paid.

10. What if I make a contribution or charitable donation?
Record money contributions or donations in the section called All Other Products, Services, and Expenses (Section 4).

11. What about gift certificates or gift cards?
If you buy a gift certificate to give to someone, write down the cost of it under the appropriate section (e.g. a certificate to a clothing store would go under Clothing, Shoes, Jewelry, and Accessories (Section 3) and a certificate to a department store would go under All Other Products, Services, and Expenses (Section 4)). If you buy something using a gift card, enter the full amount for your purchase ignoring the gift card.

12. What do I do about returns & exchanges?
If an item is bought and returned during the diary week, it can be cleared from the Web Diary by clicking the delete button to the far right of the item's expense row. If it was bought outside the week and returned during the week, do not record this expense. If an item is exchanged during the week, change the entry. If the new cost is different, simply delete the old cost and enter the new cost.

13. Should I record subsidized/reimbursed expenses?
