Informed Consent Form for One-on-one Interviews

You are being asked to take part in a research study. This consent form tells you about the study and what you will be asked to do. You can choose to take part in the study or not. If you choose to take part, you will need to sign this form.

Purpose of the Research

Surveys are used to collect information on the health and wellbeing of Americans. The surveys help to develop programs to improve the health and health care of people living in the United States.

Before health surveys are conducted, the questions are tested with people of different backgrounds. It is important that the material makes sense, and that everyone understands it the same way. The National Center for Health Statistics conducts these tests for the surveys it sponsors and for other survey programs. If you agree to take part in this test, we will ask you to read the material. Then, we will ask you to explain what you were thinking and what you think the material is trying to convey.

The materials that we are working on today is about survey research privacy pledges.

Your interview will show us how to improve the material. In the future, we may also study your interview along with interviews from other projects. This type of study will teach us about the different kinds of problems people have in understanding this material and help us improve it in the future.

Procedures

An interviewer will ask you read a privacy pledge in an informed consent document. Then, the interviewer will ask you to explain what you were thinking about the privacy pledge that you read. The interviewer will ask you if there were any words that were confusing and if you understood what was being asked.

The interview will last no more than 60 minutes, and we will give you $40. You will also be asked to fill out a personal information sheet.

You may find that some of the material we are testing is sensitive. You may choose not to answer any question for any reason. If you do not want to answer a question, say so, and we will move on to the next one. You may also stop the interview at any time. While the interview is going on, researchers from the Center for Questionnaire Design and Evaluation Research (CQDER), who are working on the project may watch the interview.

If you have questions about how the project works, contact Ms. Karen Whitaker by phone at (301) 458-4569, or by mail at NCHS, Room 6330, 3311 Toledo Rd., Hyattsville, MD 20782.

Recordings

We would like to video record your interview. The recording allows us to more carefully study and improve the questions. At the bottom of this form, you will be asked if you are willing to have the interview recorded. If you agree, you may still ask to stop the recording at any time, and we will turn off the machine. If you decide to stop recording, we will ask your consent to retain the portion already recorded. When the interview is finished, you may watch the recording.

If you agree to record the interview, we will keep it in a locked room either in a secure storage cabinet or on a password-secured computer that is not connected to the internet. When in use all recordings will be in the safe keeping of a staff person from the Center for Questionnaire Design and Evaluation Research (CQDER).

At the end of the interview, we may ask you for special permission to play the recording in a more public setting. For example, the interview could be played at a conference or for students who want to learn how to write survey questions. If you do not agree to this special permission, we will not allow anyone other than staff working directly on this project to watch the recording.

Privacy

We are required by law¹ to tell you what we will do with the recording. We must also tell you how we will protect your privacy.

Audio and video recordings are stored in a locked room or secured by a password. All recordings are labeled by a code number, date, time, and project title. The recording is never labeled with your name or other personal facts.

Materials with personal facts (such as names or addresses) are also stored in a locked room. Only CQDER staff has access to this material.

Your name or other personal facts that would identify you will not be used when we discuss or write about this study. People working on this project, however, may recognize you or your voice.

If you have questions about NCHS privacy laws and practices, contact Eve Powell-Griner, Ph.D., Confidentiality Officer at 1-888-642-4159.

Benefits and Risks

There are no direct benefits from taking part in this study.

The possible risks of taking part in this study are minimal. We will take all possible steps to protect your privacy. You do not have to give us any information that you do not want to, and you can choose not to answer any question in the interview. You may also stop at any time and still receive the full $40.

If you have any questions about this study, please call the office of the Research Ethics Review Board at the National Center for Health Statistics, toll-free at 1-800-223-8118. Please leave a brief message with your name and phone number. Say that you are calling about Protocol #2010-19-XX [Note: The amendment number will be inserted into the form once NCHS ERB approval has been received]. Your call will be returned as soon as possible.
