2015 SDR Sample Allocation
and Selection Tables

At the summary level and by strata defined by fine field of degree

2015 SDR Expansion Sample Design 2.4b2 Summary Sample Allocation and Selection Tables

Design Approach: Fresh New sample:

(1) The frame contains all eligible cases, including the 2013 panel cases; (2) sample stratified by fine field of degree with 216 strata; (3) sample allocated to the fine field strata through a two-step process: an equal allocation to all fine fields to meet 5% margin of error at 90% confidence in first step, and a proportional allocation to the 15-category SDRFLD15 in the second step; (4) panel cases are oversampled through probability proportional to size (PPS) sampling; (5) Women and underrepresented minorities (URM) are also oversampling through PPS (6) systematic PPS sampling within stratum with implicit stratification.

Stratification: Fine field of degree

Oversampling: Women, URM, and 2013 Panel

NOTES: The 20th century cases includes individuals who received their doctorate degree before academic year 2001. The 21st century cases includes individuals who received their doctorate degree in academic years 2001 to 2011 and are not consider new cohort cases. For the 2015 SDR, the new cohort includes individuals who received their doctorate degree in academic years 2012 and 2013.

* FFOD strata with less than 8 available cases in the frame are excluded from this count.

AY = Academic year of doctorate award.

CV = Coefficient of variation.

DEFF = Design effect.

FFOD = Fine field of degree as defined by the Survey of Earned Doctorates, the census survey administered to all research doctorate graduates at U.S. institutions.

ISDR = International Survey of Doctorate Recipient cases; cases that are predicted to be residing out of the U.S. or one of its territories.

NA = Not applicable.

NH = Non-Hispanic.

NSDR = National Survey of Doctorate Recipient cases; cases that are predicted to be residing in the U.S. or one of its territories.

URM = Underrepresented minority including Hispanics any race, and non-Hispanic blacks, Native Americans, Pacific Islanders, and multiracial individuals.
