

REQUEST FOR EMERGENCY OR TERM ACCESS TO NATIONAL SECURITY INFORMATION

You are being considered for emergency or limited term access to National Security Information. Prior to receiving that information, you are required to sign a Non-Disclosure Agreement. Eligibility for access to classified information may be granted when there is an urgent need, provided that an imminent threat to national security exists and such access is commensurate with the standards established in Executive Order 13549. In such cases, a fixed date for expiration shall be identified and access to classified information shall be limited to information related to the particular event or threat. This access is not to be considered a security clearance.

This is a legally binding document between you and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). It outlines your three lifetime obligations that occur as a result of receiving access to classified information. (For individuals with prior clearances – you have already agreed to abide by these obligations when you were initially indoctrinated and then debriefed.)

Lifetime Obligations:

Safeguarding Protected Information: This means that you are required to protect all classified and unclassified information to which you have access. There are three levels of classification:

- Top Secret - compromise can cause exceptionally grave damage to national security
- Secret – compromise can cause serious damage to national security
- Confidential – compromise can cause damage to national security

REQUEST FOR EMERGENCY OR TERM ACCESS TO NATIONAL SECURITY INFORMATION

Divulging classified information may be considered espionage and is prosecuted under Title 18 of the United States Code, under sections 793, 794, and 798.

- 793 prohibits the gathering, transmitting or loss of defense information
- 798 prohibits the unauthorized disclosure of codes, ciphers, etc. of the U.S. government or a foreign government (e.g. our 2nd party partners). The penalties for 793 & 798 are $10,000 per offense and heavy fines.
- 794 prohibits the gathering and delivering of defense information to a foreign government. The penalty for 794 is life in jail or the death penalty.

Prepublication Review: If you plan to discuss or publish anything related to what you learn as a result of your briefing or your affiliation with the FBI, the content must be reviewed by the FBI. You must contact the FBI's Records Management Division, Record/Information Dissemination Section, 540-868-4500 or 202-324-3000. This includes publication in a resume, articles, internet postings, books, etc.

Reporting Unauthorized Disclosures: If you divulge classified information to an unauthorized person or if you become aware of someone else divulging classified information, you must report it immediately. Also, if someone tries to solicit protected information from you, report it immediately. Contact: FBI Security Division, Security Program Unit, 202-651-2245, or your local FBI field office's Chief Security Officer.

Privacy Act Statement

The FBI is authorized to collect the information on this form pursuant to one or more of the following authorities Executive Order 12968 (as amended), Access to Classified Information (August 2, 1995), Executive Order 13467, Reforming Processes Related to Suitability for Government Employment, Fitness for Contractor Employees, and Eligibility for Access to Classified Information (June 30, 2008), Executive Order 13526, Classified National Security Information (December 29, 2009), Executive Order 13549, Classified Information Programs for State, Local, Tribal and Private Sector Entities (Aug 18, 2010), Executive Order 13587, Structural Reforms to Improve the Security of Classified Networks and the Responsible Sharing and Safeguarding of Classified Information (October 7, 2011), and Executive Order 13636, Improving Critical Infrastructure Cybersecurity (February 12, 2013). The FBI is authorized to collect your Social Security Number pursuant to Executive Order 9397 (November 30, 1943), as amended by Executive Order 13478 (November 18, 2008). The information provided will be used by the FBI to conduct a background investigation to determine your eligibility for emergency access to National Security information. Your disclosure of the requested information is voluntary. However, failure to provide all of the requested information will prevent completion of your background investigation and will adversely affect your eligibility for emergency access to National Security information. The information provided will be maintained in the FBI Central Records System (CRS), Justice/FBI-002, notice of which was published in the Federal Register on February 20, 1998 (63 FR 8671). The information provided may be disclosed in accordance with the routine uses identified in that notice or as otherwise authorized by law.
