

NEH Website Evaluation Form

My colleagues at NEH are in the process of redesigning NEH's website. One of their goals is to make the website more user friendly, especially for first time grant applicants. They are seeking feedback on how usable the current NEH website is and what grant applicants might want to see in a new version. Please explore the website (www.neh.gov) while putting yourself in the shoes of a potential grant applicant and share your impressions.

Your responses are voluntary. We will only use your responses to improve the appearance and functionality of NEH's website, and may share them for this limited purpose with a third party website design firm that is assisting us with this project.

Please share your general experiences and impressions using www.neh.gov.
