 - Exp. Date: 01/31/2019
 - Public reporting burden of this collection of information is estimated to average 3 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to CDC/ATSDR Reports Clearance Officer, 1600 Clifton Road NE, MS D-74, Atlanta, Georgia 30333; Attn: OMB-PRA (0920-0840)
 - Thank you for agreeing to talk to me about the Prevention Strategies Youth Focus Group Project, sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Over the next 3 days we will talk about relationships, sexuality, and health. Who are we? A group of guys who are attracted to other guys, and me, the facilitator.
 - As the facilitator, my job is to:
 - Explain what we are doing
 - Set up some ground rules
 - Start discussions/ask questions
 - Make sure that everyone has a chance to answer
 - Keep us moving along so that we can talk about a number of important issues
 - The reason that we are doing this project is because we want to make sure that all youth have access to information, support, and resources that help them to feel good about themselves and to take care of their health.
 - We invited you to be in our discussion group because we want to understand what it is like for young men who are attracted to other guys to:
 - find boyfriends and/or girlfriends
 - make decisions about sex
 - communicate with parents/guardians, doctors/nurses, and teachers about sexuality and health
 - Here are some things to keep in mind:
 - We can have some things in common and also have different ideas, opinions, and experiences. Some people have had sex already, some have not. Some people like girls and guys, some like guys only. Let's respect our differences. And, let's try to understand where someone is coming from and why.
 - In a discussion group like ours, there are no wrong answers. So, let's respect each other's reality and opinions. Let's try to hear and understand where someone is coming from. That might mean asking someone to explain about a comment he has made. For instance, "That's interesting, can you say more about that?" or "I'm not following, can you explain?"
 - If at any time you would like to talk with the moderator privately, you can use the chat function.

OK, let's talk about parents/guardians.

If your parent/guardian had a conversation about sex with you, what did they say? What was helpful about it? What could have been better?

Write your response here

Imagine an ideal conversation about sex between a parent/guardian and a guy your age who is sexually attracted to other guys. What would the parent/guardian say?

Write your response here

Has your parent/guardian had a conversation like this with you? If no, would you like them to?

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `https://insideheads.hatchtank.io/activity.asp?IsTable=0&IsSummary=0&ActivityId=10`. The page title is "Sex III" and it is labeled "Day 2". The interface includes a navigation bar with the "ih" logo and icons for home, notifications, search, share, download, settings, and user profile. Below the navigation bar, there are filter buttons for "Filter by Segment" and "Filter by Demographics", and view options for "Discussion View", "Table View", and "Summary View". A large text box contains a welcome message: "Welcome to Day 2 of our discussion. Thank you for your time and candid responses. Today we start with a few questions on the same topic." To the right of this message is a prominent blue "Respond" button. A sidebar on the right side of the page lists a navigation menu with sections for "Day 1", "Day 2", and "Day 3". Under "Day 1", items include "Super Powers", "Forming Relationships", "Sex I", and "Sex II". Under "Day 2", items include "Sex III" (highlighted with a green arrow), "HIV Prevention 1", "HIV Prevention 1.2", "HIV Prevention 1.3", and "HIV Prevention 2". Under "Day 3", there is a "Help" button.

Let's talk about health providers, doctors and nurses.

Tell us about a time you had a conversation about sex with your doctor/nurse. What do you talk about? What was helpful about it? What could have been better?

Write your response here

Now, imagine an ideal conversation about sex between a doctor or nurse and a guy your age who is sexually attracted to other guys. What should the doctor or nurse say or do?

Write your response here

Sometimes we learn about sex from people and places other than parents/guardians, at school, or from doctors/nurses. These other sources include: on-line, TV/movies, porn, friends, sexual partners, and church. Have you learned about sex from any of these sources? If so, which were helpful? Why? What did you like about them? What could have been better?

Write your response here

As a young man who is attracted to guys, is there anything about sex that you would like to know? What is it? How would you like to get that information? Who would you like to get that information from?

Write your response here

One final question before we wrap up this topic. People have and don't have sex for a number of reasons. What are the main reasons you have not had sex?

If anyone is feeling sad or stressed or upset in any way, please let me know so that our team can check in with you. Also everyone should know about the Trevor Project because it is an important resource for any LGBT youth who is feeling like hurting him or herself. The telephone number is (866) 488-7386.

Thank you so much for your thoughts and ideas! What you've shared will help us develop resources for young people.

Our goal is for all youth to have access to information, support, and resources that enable them to feel good about themselves and their sexuality and to take care of their health.
