Dear «First_Name»:

Thank you so much for participating in the Feeding My Baby Study! We are forever grateful to you for helping us learn about the health and nutrition of children enrolled in WIC as infants and for sharing with us the decisions you made to help your child grow and be healthy. The information you have provided will be used by the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to improve services for American families. You should feel very proud of your contribution to this landmark study.

If you want to read the study findings, they are available on the FNS website at:

We wish the very best to you and your family!
