Introduction:

Good morning/afternoon. My name is _____. I am calling from James Bell Associates (or ICF International), an evaluation firm based in Arlington, VA. As you may know, James Bell Associates and ICF International have been contracted by the Children's Bureau to conduct an independent evaluation of the Children's Bureau's Capacity Building Centers.

Directions to interviewer - please inform the interviewee:

This evaluation addresses the role of the Children's Bureau Capacity Building Centers in helping States, Tribes, and Court Improvement Programs (CIPs) to enhance the capacity of their child welfare systems. The Leadership Interview is an important component of the evaluation. We are conducting this survey with all State CW directors as well as Tribal directors and CIP directors who receive capacity building services from the Centers.

Your participation in this interview is voluntary but critical to this evaluation. We anticipate that our discussion with you today will require at most 60 minutes. Your privacy is important to us. In order for us to have an accurate account of your responses, we would like to record this interview. The recording will be destroyed as soon as we transcribe it. We will remove all identifying information from the transcript. Responses that you provide will be combined with answers from other respondents and will not be associated with your agency/CIP or you as an individual respondent. Do we have your permission to record this conversation?

We are going to ask you about the factors that influence your decisions to use the services of the CB's Capacity Building Center, contextual factors that influence your CIP, and your experiences with the services you have received from the Capacity Building Center for Courts.
