MEMORANDUM FOR: REVIEWER of 1220-0189

FROM: Bryandt Rose Dickerson

Division Chief, National Compensation Survey Office of Compensation and Working Conditions

Bureau of Labor Statistics

SUBJECT: Non-substantive Change Request for the

Occupational Requirements Survey (ORS)

Clearance is being sought for the Bureau of Labor Statistics' (BLS) Occupational Requirements Survey (ORS) program for revisions to some ORS questions that describe the mental and cognitive demands of work. The BLS plans to starting using these revised questions for collection in late May 2016. Information on ORS data collection was included in Part A, Section 12 of the most recent Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Clearance for ORS (1220-0189) which was approved on August 26, 2015. This clearance package covers the first three years of ORS collection which started in 2015 and ends in 2018.

These changes are the result of many debriefings of our field economists; testing of revised cognitive questions in FY 2015 (approved by OMB on May 1, 2015); and some initial collection results from 2015. The FY 2015 test provided further information on respondents' perception of the wording. As a result of this information , a collaborative effort was undertaken by BLS and the Social Security Administration (SSA) to revise the cognitive questions.

Most ORS data are collected by conversational interviews. When asking questions, field economists do not rely on a scripted interview, instead, they ask probing questions to obtain the information.

BLS expects that the revised cognitive questions will not create any additional respondent burden, beyond the burden hours already approved. The revised cognitive questions have changed some of the response options. BLS field economists complete the forms as note taking devices during the data collection interviews. The collection forms are not questionnaires that respondents complete. Attachment A documents the questions that have changed.

Approval is sought for revising forms OMB_ORS_Form_Gov_4PPD-4G and OMB_ORS_Form_Priv_4PPD-4P. (Attachments B and C)
