“SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

“This Act may be cited as the ‘Crime Victims With Disabilities Awareness Act’.

“SEC. 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

“(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

“(1) although research conducted abroad demonstrates that individuals with developmental disabilities are at a 4 to 10 times higher risk of becoming crime victims than those without disabilities, there have been no significant studies on this subject conducted in the United States;

“(2) in fact, the National Crime Victim’s Survey, conducted annually by the Bureau of Justice Statistics of the Department of Justice, does not specifically collect data relating to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(3) studies in Canada, Australia, and Great Britain consistently show that victims with developmental disabilities suffer repeated victimization because so few of the crimes against them are reported, and even when they are, there is sometimes a reluctance by police, prosecutors, and judges to rely on the testimony of a disabled individual, making individuals with developmental disabilities a target for criminal predators;

“(4) research in the United States needs to be done to—

“(A) understand the nature and extent of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(B) describe the manner in which the justice system responds to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

“(C) identify programs, policies, or laws that hold promises for making the justice system more responsive to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

“(5) the National Academy of Science Committee on Law and Justice of the National Research Council is a premier research institution with unique experience in developing seminal, multidisciplinary studies to establish a strong research base from which to make public policy.

“(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

“(1) to increase public awareness of the plight of victims of crime who are individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(2) to collect data to measure the extent of the problem of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

“(3) to develop a basis to find new strategies to address the safety and justice needs of victims of crime who are individuals with developmental disabilities.

“SEC. 3. DEFINITION OF DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY.

“In this Act, the term ‘developmental disability’ has the meaning given the term in section 102 of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 [42 U.S.C. 15002].

“SEC. 4. STUDY.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General shall conduct a study to increase knowledge and information about crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities that will be useful in developing new strategies to reduce the incidence of crimes against those individuals.

“(b) ISSUES ADDRESSED.—The study conducted under this section shall address such issues as—

“(1) the nature and extent of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(2) the risk factors associated with victimization of individuals with developmental disabilities;

“(3) the manner in which the justice system responds to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

“(4) the means by which States may establish and maintain a centralized computer database on the incidence of crimes against individuals with disabilities within a State.

“(c) NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.—In carrying out this section, the Attorney General shall consider contracting with the Committee on Law and Justice of the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences to provide research for the study conducted under this section.

“(d) REPORT.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act [Oct. 27, 1998], the Attorney General shall submit to the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives a report describing the results of the study conducted under this section.

“SEC. 5. NATIONAL CRIME VICTIM’S SURVEY.

“Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, as part of each National Crime Victim’s Survey, the Attorney General shall include statistics relating to—

“(1) the nature of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

“(2) the specific characteristics of the victims of those crimes.”

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Section 101(c) of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (Mine Act) allows the mine operator or representative of miners to file a petition to modify the application of any mandatory safety standard to a coal or other mine if the Secretary of Labor determines that:

1. An alternative method of achieving the result of such standard exists which will at all times guarantee no less than the same measure of protection afforded the miners of such mine by such standard; or

2. That the application of such standard to such mine will result in a diminution of safety to the miners in such mine.

In addition, the regulations at 30 CFR 44.10 and 44.11 establish the requirements and procedures for filing petitions for modification.

II. Petitions for Modification

Docket Number: M-2016-008-C.

Petitioner: Rosebud Mining Company, 301 Market Street, Kittanning, Pennsylvania 16201.

Mine: Barrett Mine, MSHA I.D. No. 36-09342, located in Indiana County, Pennsylvania.

Regulation Affected: 30 CFR 75.503 (Permissible electric face equipment; maintenance) and 18.35(a)(5)(i) (Portable (trailing) cables and cords).

Modification Request: The petitioner requests a modification of the existing standard to permit the use of 480-volt trailing cables with a maximum length of 950 feet when No. 4 American Wire Gauge (AWG) cable is used on roof bolters. The petitioner states that:

(1) The trailing cables for the 480-volt bolters will not be smaller than No. 4 AWG cable.

(2) All circuit breakers used to protect the No. 4 AWG trailing cable exceeding 700 feet in length will have instantaneous trip units calibrated to trip at 500 amperes. The trip setting of these circuit breakers will be sealed to ensure that the settings on these breakers cannot be changed, and these circuit breakers will have permanent, legible labels. Each label will identify the circuit breaker as being suitable for protecting the cables as listed above.

(3) Replacement circuit breakers and/or instantaneous trip units used to protect the No. 4 AWG trailing cable will be calibrated to trip at 500 amperes and they will be sealed.

(4) All components that provide short-circuit protection will have a sufficient interruption rating in accordance with the maximum calculated fault currents available.

(5) During each production day, the trailing cables and the circuit breakers will be examined in accordance with all 30 CFR provisions.

(6) Permanent warning labels will be installed and maintained on the load center identifying the location of each short-circuit protection device. These labels will warn miners not to change or alter the settings of these devices.

(7) If the affected trailing cables are damaged in any way during the shift, the cable will be de-energized and repairs made.

(8) The alternative method will not be implemented until all miners who have been designated to operate the bolters, or any other person designated to examine the trailing cables or trip settings on the circuit breakers, have received the proper training as to the performance of their duties.

(9) Within 60 days after the proposed decision and order becomes final, the petitioner will submit proposed revisions for their approved 30 CFR part 48 training plans to the District Manager. These revisions will specify task training for miners designated to examine the trailing cables for safe operating condition and verify that the short-circuit settings of the circuit-interrupting devices that protect the affected trailing cables do not exceed the settings specified previously in this petition. The training will include the following elements:

(a) The hazards of setting short-circuit interrupting device(s) too high to adequately protect the trailing cables.

(b) How to verify that the circuit interrupting device(s) protecting the trailing cable(s) are properly set and maintained.

(c) Mining methods and operating procedures that will protect the trailing cables against damage.

(d) Proper procedures for examining the trailing cables to ensure that the

Dear «Salutation» «ContactLastName»:

On behalf of the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), Research Triangle Institute (RTI) International is conducting the Law Enforcement Management and Administrative Statistics (LEMAS) survey. This letter is to inform you that your agency is invited to participate in this survey. Since 1987, BJS has successfully implemented nine waves of LEMAS surveys. The 2016 LEMAS survey captures information about resources, functions, personnel, salaries, training, information systems, policies, and use of technology. It will include items that are relevant to all law enforcement agencies – regardless of agency size. The reliability of the study's results directly depends on the participation rate among the selected agencies; your agency cannot be replaced.

BJS will use the data collected in this survey only for research and statistical purposes, as described in Title 42, USC §3735 and 3789g (enclosed). The data will assist Federal, State, and local officials in their efforts to assess the impact of past funding programs, as well as help them assess the current and future needs of law enforcement agencies. Findings from the survey will be available on the BJS website at <http://www.bjs.gov/>.

I understand that you receive a number of data requests throughout the year; however, I would greatly appreciate it if you would please take the time to complete our survey. Your responses will allow us to examine trends in law enforcement agencies over time.

You may access the survey at <<URL>>, using your survey access code: <<access code>>. You may also download a copy of the survey from the website. Downloading the survey will also facilitate sharing it electronically with others at your agency who might be asked to provide some of the requested information. Please complete this survey by [DATE].

If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact Shelley Hyland, BJS Program Manager, at <<phone>> or <<e-mail>>. If you have questions about the LEMAS survey, need to change the point of contact at your agency, or need to update your contact information (including e-mail address), please contact Michael Keating, the RTI data collection task leader, via phone or e-mail at (800) ###-#### or xxxxxx@rti.org.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to our continued work together.

Backside

What is LEMAS?

The LEMAS is a survey conducted by the Bureau of Justice Statistics approximately every four years. It is presently the most systematic and comprehensive source of national data on law enforcement. Approximately 3,500 agencies are randomly selected to participate in this survey.

What information do the LEMAS surveys collect?

The LEMAS core collects important information on personnel, expenditures and pay, operations, equipment, computers and information systems, and policies and procedures. This information is used to create national estimates for all law enforcement agencies in the U.S. The LEMAS supplements will collect in-depth information on a specific topical area. The first supplement focuses on body-worn camera usage.

Why is LEMAS important?

LEMAS is the only survey of law enforcement agencies that gathers nationally representative information about agencies on key factors like personnel, policies, and agency activities and trends over time. LEMAS data are widely used by researchers, policy makers and law enforcement agencies to understand law enforcement at local, county, state and national levels.

Why have I received multiple LEMAS surveys recently?

The LEMAS is moving to a new core + topical supplement model. Topical supplements will cover emerging issues in law enforcement and will change over time. You have just completed the first LEMAS topical supplement which covered body-worn camera usage. You may also be invited to participate in the 2016 LEMAS core this fall. In 2017, you may be invited to participate in the 2017 Body-Worn Camera Supplement as we will be using this survey to assess changes in attitudes towards and usage of BWCs over time.

Do I need to complete the LEMAS if I recently completed a different LEMAS survey?

Yes! The LEMAS core and supplements are critically important to understanding characteristics, policies and procedures of law enforcement agencies across the country. Each agency that was selected to participate is crucial – each agency's responses are important. We need responses from all selected agencies for each survey sent to ensure that the results are representative of law enforcement agencies across the U.S.

What will I be asked to do?

The chief executive will be asked to designate a staff member to complete the survey (i.e., point of contact). The agency point of contact will be provided information on how to access the online survey (or request a paper survey if desired). The website will be secure and will allow respondents to save and close the survey at any time. The survey can be reopened later to enter or edit responses until the final responses are submitted. Agencies will also be provided a paper copy of the survey if they prefer to submit the survey by mail, email or fax.

Dear (NAME):

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), working with RTI International and the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF), is fielding the next iteration of the Law Enforcement Management and Administrative Statistics (LEMAS) survey in 2016. Conducted periodically since 1987, LEMAS collects data from more than 3,000 general-purpose state and local law enforcement agencies.

You probably are familiar with LEMAS. This survey draws on a nationally representative sample to collect data on agency responsibilities, budgets, staffing levels, policies, equipment, and other information. The results are used to identify trends in police training, hiring standards (such as educational requirements and salary levels for new officers), involvement in various types of task forces and community policing activities, use of technologies (such as body-worn cameras, various less-lethal weapons, and computer equipment), policies on use of force and other matters, and many other measures.

LEMAS is the only nationally representative source of this kind of information. With the LEMAS results, your agency will be able to learn how agencies of similar size and characteristics to your own conduct business, and where your agency stands in a national framework. In addition to providing valuable information to law enforcement agencies, LEMAS findings are of interest to researchers and the general public.

I write to strongly encourage you to complete the survey when it arrives. Your agency has been specifically chosen as part of a national sample to obtain a representative picture of law enforcement in the U.S. All information that you share will remain confidential; study reports will only present findings at a national level and no information will be publicly linked to your agency by name. The receipt of information from each agency will greatly improve the quality of data and analysis of results. We appreciate your agency taking the time and effort required to complete the LEMAS. Any questions about the LEMAS can be directed to (BJS/RTI contacts TBD).

This is a critical survey to help understand trends in policing, and PERF is pleased to have the opportunity to work with BJS and RTI on this important project.

Sincerely,

Chuck Wexler
