TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION: Evaluating Worker Protection Standard (WPS) Agricultural Pesticide Safety Information Poster

PURPOSE: A WPS Agricultural Pesticide Safety Information Poster (“poster”) is being developed under an EPA cooperative agreement with the University of California, Davis and Oregon State University (the “Pesticide Educational Resources Collaborative (PERC)).”

Agricultural employees across the U.S. have many different cultural backgrounds with various levels of language and literacy challenges. Therefore, it is important that the poster presents the information in a visual, culturally acceptable manner that appeals to a multicultural audience, with few written words. PERC and EPA would like to use focus group testing to ensure that agricultural employees understand the information that we intend to convey. In the focus group sessions, we will ask them to answer questions about two versions of the same poster: one with text and one without. This will help PERC determine the extent to which text is necessary to understand the information.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS: Participants will be adult agricultural employees across the United States and will meet the following criteria:

- At least 18-years old
- Currently employed to work in agriculture on a farm, orchard, forest, greenhouse, vineyard, and/or nursery
