MANAGEMENT HIGHLIGHTS:

The MI-SBDC built upon a strong 2014 with full metrics achievement right into a similarly productive and momentum filled 2015. The transition to the new year included the new State Director stepping into place. The team has also been focused on many other areas including:

- Working closely with the state (MEDC) on various forms of adding clarity, visibility, and funding-to-value mapping. Michigan briefly faced pressure from some quarters to eliminate the MEDC entirely due to ancillary issues (road funding and other Michigan unique challenges). The MI-SBDC's small business success was one part of a successful effort to educate on the contribution of this work to the state, and the budget pressures eventually subsided for the MEDC.
- The MI-SBDC forged new levels of synergy, collaboration and communication with the Michigan District SBA. Although the District SBA and MI-SBDC have always collaborated in various ways, there was much focus on driving new value to the state's small businesses through increased teaming on various programs. These collaborations have been viewed as a success by all involved.
- A new Regional Director was hired for the Northwest Region, an area where there had been some historical challenges in reaching full impact. The MI-SBDC Headquarters management has worked in very positive fashion with the Host and Regional management to drive forward some new processes, collaborations and approaches that have been positively received and are making an impact.
- A microloan program spearheaded by a Regional Bank and Opportunity Resource Foundation, targeted to the underserved, was significantly expanded from Detroit to ten counties in West Michigan and to Pontiac in Eastern Michigan, working in conjunction with the MI-SBDC.

- Partnerships were refreshed across the state between MI-SBDC Headquarters and a variety of partners including SBAM, Mi-Quest, MEDC, SBA, and many more. The SBDC’s 2015 message of visibility, clarity, complementary nature of services, and collaboration was well received and has led to many increased collaborations that map to impact.
- Continued to strengthen the usage of technology: maintained strong usage of GoToMeetings and Webinars for client counsel, effective network project management, and professional development:

International Trade Assistance

In 2015 the MI-SBDC strengthened its partnership with the Michigan State Trade Export Promotion (STEP) program, and was included as a key service provider in the approved proposal. The MI-SBDC continued focusing its efforts on delivering international business assistance as well as developing its Export Assistance Team. The team consists of the following:

- Nine business consultants with Certified Global Business Professional (CGBP), and
- Five business consultants with SBA Intermediate International Trade Certifications

The MI-SBDC Export Assistance Team members include Business Growth Specialists, Regional Directors, Senior Business Consultants, and State Headquarters personnel. The team members are integrated within other teams and located across the state, which allows widespread easy access to export assistance. The Export Assistance Team uses a number of tools:

- Export Diversification Planning: This process helps companies prioritize export opportunities by analyzing international customer segments; key international partners and resources; risk factors, etc. Profitability potential is evaluated for each opportunity and serves as key factor in deciding next steps. This tool was developed specifically to fit the needs of the Michigan STEP program.
- Early Stage Export Assistance: This is a multi-stage client engagement including but not limited to export readiness assessment, export planning, export financial assessment, export marketing, etc. The MI-SBDC Export Assistance Team works with them to get their product ready for export and guiding them on best market selection while involving appropriate partners.

- International Search Engine Optimization (SEO) Analysis: The MI-SBDC developed a new International SEO report specifically for STEP companies who are evaluating their website’s effectiveness in target markets abroad. The report identifies areas of website strengths and areas of needed enhancements to improve international trade communications.
- Fiscal Fitness and Profitability Assessments: A company’s financial health is key to its export success. Companies often need expert advice on how to best proceed with financing their export efforts. A MI-SBDC Financial Specialist works with the company’s CEO to assess the company’s financial health and, when needed, prepares a loan package and/or investment proposal.

In 2015 the MI-SBDC has provided the following assistance to international business clients:

Service Areas	2015
Companies Assisted	91
International SEOs Completed	36

- Attending numerous export assistance events across the state.
- Creating awareness of the MI Export program with clients and partners through quarterly and weekly eMarketing distribution.
- Creating awareness of the MI Export program with clients and partners through the MI-SBDC active social media presence

MI-SBDC Final Budget Narrative

January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015

Grand Valley State University is in its 16th year serving as Lead Center/Host for the Michigan network of MI-SBDCs. The Michigan Small Business Development Center utilized over 90% of its calendar year 2015 year funding and once again significantly over-matched the Federal budget allocation. We are submitting a 2015 carryover request for the remaining funds of $339,518.65. The under-spending in 2015 was a result of a few important factors, which are explained in the carryover budget proposal.

Explanation of Cost Overruns by Category:

- Consultants - Federal Budget ($22,211), 16.83%; Non-Federal budget ($104,765), 60.99%
 - Cyber-Security initiative cost overruns and strategic planning initiatives due to the change in State Headquarters leadership in 2015.
- Travel - Federal Budget ($7,148), 13.62%
 - Actual travel needs required to fulfill program obligations were slightly higher than initially forecasted.

Fund Development Efforts
(Please comment on outside funding)

The MI-SBDC HQ will use over-matched funds from CY 2015 to match the carryover award.

Explanation for Unspent CY 2015 Funds

January 1 – December 31, 2015

The Michigan Small Business Development Center utilized over 90% of its calendar year 2015 year funding and once again significantly over-matched the Federal budget allocation. The unspent calendar year 2015 funding will be used as noted in the CY 2015 Carryover funding proposal and will help support the projects and activities described in the program narrative submitted with the calendar year 2016 proposal.

We are submitting a 2015 carryover request for the remaining funds of $339,518.65. The funds were not expended in the year awarded because of a few important factors, which are explained below.

- The MI-SBDC State Director who had served as the leader of the statewide network since 2001 retired at the end of 2014. Transition in leadership, reorganization of the strategic direction of the organization and other facets related to the leadership change, delayed many projects and initiatives causing unexpected surpluses in funding for those projects;
- Very conservative budget planning and spending due to the uncertainty caused by the change in executive leadership. Many initiatives that were planned were delayed until the new State Director had a chance to review and adjust the strategy to fit the vision that he has for the organization moving forward;
- Reduced personnel and contractual costs at the Lead Center and Regional Offices because of the personnel losses.
