

Notice to N-SSATS Respondents

In response to the growing demand for treatment services, and to increase the visibility of treatment service providers, SAMHSA may share facility contact information from its Behavioral Health Treatment Services Locator (<https://findtreatment.samhsa.gov>) with commercially available search engines (such as Google, Bing, Yahoo!, etc.) to help facilitate greater access to substance use and mental health treatment services beginning later this year.

Facility contact information includes only the facility's name, location address, telephone number, and website address. Please be assured that neither SAMHSA nor its government contractors will share any other facility information reported in the N-SSATS to these commercial search engines.

We hope you find this increased visibility to be beneficial to you. Thank you for your support in making treatment available and accessible to persons living with substance abuse/addiction and/or mental health problems.

Note: If your facility is not currently listed on the Locator, your facility's contact information will not be shared.
