B&B:16/17 Field Test Brochure Text

What is B&B?

The Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study (B&B) Field Test is a national study of approximately 2,000 graduates from U.S. colleges and universities to find out about their experiences since completing a bachelor's degree.

The study will collect information on graduate and other education, experiences in the labor market, earnings and expenses, family status, and personal and professional goals. In addition to survey responses, we collect related information from sources such as student loan and enrollment databases. There is a particular focus on careers in teaching and other employment outcomes.

Why am I being asked to participate?

You have been asked to participate in B&B because you completed the requirements for your bachelor's degree during the 2014-2015 academic year.

Why is my participation important?

Your survey responses help educators, researchers, and policymakers at the local, state, and national levels understand the experiences of recent college graduates. Your experiences are unique, and if you choose not to participate in B&B, no one else can be substituted for you.

What have we learned from previous rounds of B&B? In 1994, 79 percent of bachelor's degree recipients had a full-time job after graduation, compared to 78 percent in 2001, and 64 percent in 2009.

What happens to the results?

Results from the current study are scheduled to be released in 2019 and will be posted on the NCES website (<https://nces.ed.gov/surveys/b&b/>) along with results from previous B&B studies. Your responses will be combined with those of other students and will be presented in summary form only. No individually-identifying information will be published.

Who is conducting B&B?

The 2016/17 Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study is conducted by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), in the U.S. Department of Education's Institute for Education Sciences, with data collection being carried out under contract by RTI International, a nonprofit research organization based in North Carolina. NCES is authorized to conduct B&B by the Education Sciences Reform Act of 2002 (ESRA 2002, 20 U.S.C. § 9543), and to collect students' education records from educational agencies or institutions for the purposes of evaluating Federally supported education programs under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA, 34 CFR §§ 99.31(a)(3) and 99.35). Data collected from or about individual students are used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed or used, in identifiable form, for any other purpose except as required by law (ESRA 2002, 20 U.S.C., § 9573).

How will my information be protected?

NCES is required to follow strict procedures to protect personal information in the collection, reporting, and publication of data. All individually identifiable information supplied by individuals or institutions may be used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed or used in identifiable form for any other purpose, except as required by law (20 U.S.C. § 9573).

Data security procedures for B&B are reviewed and approved by NCES data security staff. Your answers are secured behind firewalls and are encrypted during internet transmission using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) protocol. All data entry modules are password protected and require the user to log in before accessing the data. Project staff is subject to large fines or imprisonment if individual responses are disclosed.

How do I participate?

You can complete the B&B interview online or over the phone.

Dear «Parentfname» «Parentlname»:

The U.S. Department of Education’s National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) is conducting an important study of students who earned a bachelor’s degree during the 2014-2015 school year. The Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study (B&B) will help educators, researchers, and policymakers better understand how earning a bachelor’s degree affects students’ lives and choices about further education and work. Out of all the 2014-2015 college graduates in the United States, <<fname>> was selected to participate in B&B. The enclosed brochure provides information about the study and our strict confidentiality procedures.

We will be contacting <<fname>> to complete the B&B survey in <<month year>>, but before data collection can begin, we need your help to update our records. Please take a few minutes to update the contact information online, or complete the enclosed Contact Information Update Form and return it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

To update contact information for <<fname>> online: Go to https://surveys.nces.ed.gov/bbxxxx/ Enter Study ID number «caseid»

If you would like more information about B&B, please review the enclosed brochure, visit <http://surveys.nces.ed.gov/bb/>, or call the RTI study director, Natasha Janson, at 1-xxx-xxx-xxxx.

We sincerely appreciate your assistance and thank you in advance for helping us conduct this important study.

Sincerely,

Dr. Peggy Carr, Ph.D.

Dear <<fname>>,

You have been randomly selected to participate in the Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study (B&B), conducted by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). <<You may recall participating in the National Postsecondary Student Aid Study (NPSAS) last year.>> B&B will collect education, employment, and other information from you and others like you who earned their bachelor's degree during the 2014-2015 school year. Data collected from B&B will help educators, researchers, and policymakers better understand how earning a bachelor's degree impacts choices about further education and work. Your participation in B&B is critical to the success of the study.

When B&B data collection begins in July, we will contact you again with specific information about how to participate. In the meantime, we need to update our contact information for you. Please help us now by providing your mailing address, telephone number(s), and e-mail address(es) online at <https://surveys.nces.ed.gov/bbxxxx/>. You will also find out more about B&B at this website.

SUBJECT LINE: The Baccalaureate and Beyond Study Needs Your Participation

[Fname], we still need you for B&B to be a success!

I noticed that you haven't yet participated in the 2016/17 Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study (B&B). As a recent college graduate, your participation is critical to the success of the study, so I hope you will participate soon. As a reminder, the survey is mobile-optimized and can be done completely online, and you'll receive $<<incamt>> for participating, payable by PayPal or check.

I understand that you may have questions or concerns about B&B – and we can help! The answers to some of the most frequently asked questions about B&B are:

How can I participate in B&B?

It's easy! Just [click here] to start the online survey, or go to <https://surveys.nces.ed.gov/bbxxxx/> and log in:

Study ID: [caseid]

Password: [password]

Or, complete the survey over the phone at 1-xxx-xxx-xxxx.

What if I don't have time to complete the entire survey right now?

No problem! You can start the survey now and finish it later – you'll pick up right where you left off.

If you have other questions, please contact the B&B Help Desk at 1-xxx-xxx-xxxx or email us at bbxxxx@rti.org. Thank you in advance for making B&B a success.

READ VERBATIM:

Recently, we sent you material about the U.S. Department of Education's Baccalaureate and Beyond Longitudinal Study. (This survey is being conducted to better understand the education and employment experiences of recent college graduates.) As a token of our appreciation, you will receive <<INC_AMOUNT>> once you complete the survey.

The survey takes about <<time>> minutes and may be monitored or recorded for quality assurance purposes. Your participation is voluntary and you may skip any question or stop the survey at any time. If you would like to learn more about your rights as a participant, let me know. [PAUSE] May we begin the survey now?

(At your request, we can remail the material to you. For questions about your rights as a study participant, please contact RTI's Office of Research Protection at 1-866-214-2043.)

If sample member indicates they would like to learn more about their rights as a participant:

READ UNTIL SAMPLE MEMBER INTERRUPTS:

In addition to your survey responses, we are authorized by law to collect other information, such as financial aid data, student records, and related information from colleges you have attended and sources such as student loan databases and admissions testing agencies. Your responses, combined with other data sources, may be used only for statistical purposes and may not be disclosed, or used, in personally identifiable form for any other purpose, unless otherwise required by law. (You are one of approximately <number> recent college graduates selected for this study.)

Your participation is voluntary and will not affect any financial aid or other benefits that you may receive. You may decline to answer any question or stop the survey at any time. The risk of participating in this study is small and relates to data security. However, there are strict security procedures in place. If you would like us to remail the material to you, please let me know. May we begin the survey now?

(For questions about your rights as a study participant, please contact RTI's Office of Research Protection at 1-866-214-2043.)
