To establish the marital relationship please complete Form G-124 and have your marriage partner (if alive) complete a separate Form G-124.

You must also have one of your blood relatives complete Form G-124a and your marriage partner must have a blood relative complete a Form G-124a.

If the G-124a cannot be obtained from a blood relative of one party, it should be obtained from a relative of the other party. If a G-124a cannot be obtained from blood relatives of either party, you must furnish this office with a written explanation why it could not be obtained.

If, however, you feel that securing the Form G-124a from a blood relative would be detrimental to you, your marriage partner, or any children born of the marriage, then you must furnish this office with a detailed explanation, in writing, of why it would be detrimental.

Please know that all information furnished on Forms G-124 and G-124a, and in documentary evidence submitted to establish the marital relationship, is confidential and protected by the Privacy Act (see detailed explanation on the forms).

If you have any questions or if you need assistance in completing Form G-124 or securing Form G-124a, you may telephone a Railroad Retirement Board representative at the telephone number shown above.

Sincerely,

Enclosures
