Implementing Public Health Genomics in Your State: Resources from the CDC Office of Public Health Genomics Webinar Survey

- The goal of this survey is to assess the participants' awareness, use and recommended improvements regarding the CDC Office of Public Health Genomics electronic resources presented in the webinar.
- Intended use of the resulting data is to identify and implement possible resource improvements which will enhance the utility of OPHG products and better serve its target audience.
- Data will be collected using a Genetic Alliances', online web-based survey tool.
- The population that will be studied are those participants that registered for the Office of Public Health Genomics Webinar.
- Data will be analyzed using descriptive statistics.
