Cohort V Client Initial Request Script
Telephone Script for Obtaining Client's Approval for Research Re-contact

"Before we hang up, I'd like to describe a telephone research survey that is being conducted with people who receive follow-up from a crisis line. The reason for doing the interview is to find out how people are doing in the weeks after we talked to them and to see if crisis centers are providing effective services to their clients. Our center is working with researchers at Columbia University to do this telephone assessment. For purposes of consent, the study has to be limited to people who are 18 years of age or older."

1) Are you 18 years of age or older? Yes (18 years or older) No (younger than 18 years)

IF CLIENT IS YOUNGER THAN 18 YEARS OF AGE, PLEASE DO NOT REQUEST PERMISSION FOR RE-CONTACT

"Right now, we would just like to find out whether it is okay for the research/evaluation team from Columbia University to call you to tell you more about the study. They would be calling you about 6 weeks past the time you were referred to us for follow-up. May someone from Columbia University call you to see if you might be interested in participating in the telephone research survey? Only some clients will be re-contacted for the survey. The selection of the clients will be random (like flipping a coin) and has nothing to do with you personally. If they call you they will give you all the details about the research. While they need your name to call you back, your name will not be connected to any of your answers on the survey or any reports that come out of the evaluation project. The survey will take about 30 to 40 minutes and you will be paid $50 for helping with this evaluation."
