*A host organization is the organization or agency that coordinates the various aspects of evidence-based program delivery. The host organization is often responsible for training master trainers and leaders/facilitators and for planning and monitoring the implementation of programs. Often (but not always) the host organization holds the program license. Sometimes a host organization is also an implementation site.

An implementation site is the physical location where the evidence-based program takes place in the community. An implementation site may be identical to a host organization, or it may be a different location where the host organization arranges to hold a program.
