MUSEUM ASSESSMENT PROGRAM OVERVIEW

What is MAP?

For over 30 years MAP has helped over 4,500 small and mid-sized museums of all types through a confidential, consultative process of self-study and a site visit from an expert peer reviewer over one year. MAP helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future and meet standards. MAP is administered by the American Alliance of Museums (Alliance) and supported through a cooperative agreement with the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS).

MAP provides $4,000 worth of consultative resources and services. MAP is available twice a year with application deadlines of July 1 and December 1. To participate, museums pay between $0 - $750.

Components of MAP: Self-Study and Peer Review

Self-Study Workbook and Activities

The Self-Study Workbook and Activities are designed to help your institution see itself systemically and prepare the peer reviewer for the visit. Self-study is a method that:

- stimulates a review of your institution's policies, procedures, and records;
- enhances institutional dialogue and openness;
- informs the peer review phase;
- encourages new ways of operating; and
- serves as a baseline against which to measure your museum's progress

Peer Review

MAP Peer Reviewers are museum professionals volunteering their time. They review your museum's self-study materials, visit the museum in a 1-2 site visit, and write a report. Peer review provides:

- the opportunity to critically review your operations with the benefit of a fresh perspective
- validation and input from an experienced museum professional
- consultative advice to help your museum improve

Benefits of MAP

MAP will help your museum reach its full potential. Participating in MAP leads to:

- an increased level of professionalism among museum staff;
- improved communications between staff, board, and other constituencies;
- a clearer focus on the museum's mission and planning;
- greater credibility with potential funders and donors; and
- national recognition of the museum's desire to achieve excellence through self-improvement.

As a MAP participant, your museum will also have access to a number of resources including:

- Alliance's Museum Essentials Webinar series
- Alliance's Information Center and online Resource Library
- MAP Bookshelf
- MAP Online Community
- MAP Grant Proposal-Writing Toolkit
- MAP Promotion Toolkit
- MAP Webinars

Assessment Types

There are three different MAP assessment types to choose from:

Organizational Assessment

Reviews all operational areas. Upon completion, a museum is better prepared to operate as a 21st century museum with a strong understanding of core museum standards and good practices that support sustainability. This assessment places significant emphasis on strategic planning as well as ensuring operations and resources align with the museum's mission.

Collections Stewardship Assessment

Focuses on collections policies, planning, access and documentation within the context of the museum's total operations. The scope of the assessment includes collections care and use, acquisitions and deaccessioning, legal, ethical, and safety issues, documentation, inventory, and emergency planning.

If applying for the Collections Stewardship Assessment, MAP staff strongly recommends that the museum has a collections management policy or draft ready before the site visit. This recommendation is based on feedback from Peer Reviewers, who find that they can be of greatest help to the museum if there is a policy or draft policy on which they can comment.

Community Engagement Assessment

Assesses the museum's understanding of and relationship with its various communities and the communities' perception of and experience with the museum. It helps museums gather better input from their constituents, develop a more nuanced view about the community's demographics and needs, respond to the changing nature of its audiences and incorporate these findings into planning and operational decisions. It helps museums form new collaborations and strengthen old ones.

If applying for the Community Engagement Assessment, MAP staff strongly recommends that the museum have a:

- A formal and approved mission statement. An approved mission statement indicates a clear institutional self-image that can be tested against the community's perception.
- Previous experience with self-study, as that helps you manage assessment logistics, which need to involve members of your museum's community and audiences.
- An established process for institutional/strategic planning, ensuring a way of using the large amount of information that will result from your museum's self-study and report.

Assessment Type Objectives

Below is a list of common objectives for each assessment, which will help you fill out and determine which assessment type is best for your museum. In your application, you will state up to 3 objectives that will inform your MAP review. Objectives can be changed during the process if needed.

Committing to MAP

For your museum to benefit from MAP, the process needs to be an institutional priority. Committing to MAP includes

- meeting deadlines
- involving the staff and governing authority for a year
- engaging the museum’s internal and external communities
- evaluating the process

The Assessment Team

The Assessment Team is a critical part of the MAP process. Participating involves a significant time commitment. Key paid and unpaid staff, members of your governing authority, and other important constituencies should be involved. The Assessment Team is responsible for conducting the assessment and integrating it into the museum’s planning and implementation process. Members of the team can change as needed during the MAP process.

Who from your organization should be on this team? People with the:

- knowledge about how things really work or don’t work at your organization, about what resources are available, about how to get things done
- authority to make decisions about policies or procedures
- responsibility for implementing decisions arising from the assessment and subsequent planning

Consider who should be the primary contact—it may be a member of your governing authority, the director, or another staff member with appropriate skills to lead a team. Generally we do not recommend having the development director or grant writer lead the team. Notify MAP staff if the primary contact changes during the MAP process.

Evaluation

Completing evaluations are part of your museum’s commitment to MAP. Your museum will be asked to return evaluations at all stages of the MAP process: application, self-study, post site visit, and during implementation after completing the program. Your comments on the assessment process will help us to improve it for future users. Your feedback is also required as a part of MAP’s obligation to IMLS. We welcome your comments and observations at any point during the assessment.

ELIGIBILITY

Eligible institutions include aquariums, art museums, children/youth museums, general museums,¹ historic houses/sites, history museums, natural history/anthropology museums, nature centers, planetariums, public gardens, science/technology museums, specialized museums and zoos.

The applicant museum must:

- be organized on a permanent basis for essentially educational or aesthetic purposes;
- care for and owns or uses tangible objects, whether animate or inanimate, and exhibits these objects on a regular basis through facilities it owns or operates;
- be a unit of state or local government or a private nonprofit organization [501(c)3];
- have at least one professional staff member or the full-time equivalent, whether paid or unpaid, whose responsibilities relate solely to the museum's services and operations;
- be open and providing museum services to the general public on a regular basis (a museum that exhibits objects to the general public for at least 90 days a year fulfills this requirement). If a museum is not scheduled to be open to the public 90 days a year, it is still eligible to participate in MAP if it can demonstrate that it was open at least 90 days in the preceding year through a combination of scheduled days open and days open by appointment;
- be located in one of the fifty states of the U.S., the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, or the Republic of Palau; and
- not be operated by the Federal government. Federal museums can participate via our flexible participation option. Contact MAP staff for more information.

Museums with Parent Organizations

Museums that operate within a non-federal parent organization are eligible to apply and participate in MAP. A museum operated within a multi-purpose public or private nonprofit organization such as a municipality, university, historical society, foundation, or cultural center may apply on its own behalf if:

- the museum is able to independently fulfill all the requirements for eligibility listed above;
- functions as a discrete unit within the parent organization;
- has its own fully segregated and itemized operating budget; and
- has the authority to apply on its own.

When any of the last three conditions cannot be met, a museum may apply through its parent organization, and the parent organization may submit an application(s) for one or more of its museums.

Previous MAPs and Repeating a MAP Assessment (ReMAP)

Museums previously awarded an IMLS-funded MAP assessment are eligible to participate again in the same type of assessment if seven years have passed since the original assessment.

All MAP applicants that have done a MAP previously are asked to demonstrate their accomplishments since their last assessment and explain why they are seeking a new assessment by answering brief questions on page 25 of the application. Contact the MAP office if you need to inquire about your museum's previous participation.

¹ Words in bold and italicized appear in the glossary.

FUNDING AND COST INFORMATION

Through a Cooperative Agreement with IMLS, the Alliance is able to offer MAP assessments at a low cost to your institution. Use the table below to determine your museum's costs. Your museum will be invoiced for its participation fee after it is accepted into MAP.

Museum Annual Operating Expenses	Participation Costs
$125,000 or less	Free
$125,001-$400,000	$350.00
$400,001-$1 Million	$550.00
Greater than $1 Million	$750.00

Other possible costs:

- $1,350 to add a second peer reviewer (optional)
- Peer Reviewer site visit travel expenses that exceed the $950 cap set by MAP
- Costs associated with food or beverage for when the Peer Reviewer(s) is on-site
- Postage, photocopying, and long-distance telephone charges

Your MAP award includes the following, valued at approximately $4,000:

- MAP Self-Study Materials
- Approved Peer Reviewer travel expenses for one Peer Reviewer per assessment; cap of $950. Expenses include transportation, food, and lodging
- Peer Reviewer honorarium—$400
- The Alliance's Information Center and Museum Essentials Webinar Series
- MAP Bookshelf worth over $150 from the Alliance Bookstore
- MAP Online Community

Please note: while referred to as a MAP "grant," the Alliance does not directly disperse any money to your museum.

Peer Reviewer Expenses

Your museum's Peer Reviewer generally makes his/her own travel arrangements. Peer Reviewers are reimbursed by the Alliance. We encourage museums to work closely with Peer Reviewers to provide suggestions on where to stay, etc., in order to keep expenses under the $950 cap. If the museum pays for any expense on behalf of the Peer Reviewer, the museum can seek reimbursement from the Alliance. If the Peer Reviewer's travel exceeds $950, the museum may be responsible for covering the additional costs.

Number of Peer Reviewers

Each museum receives one Peer Reviewer to conduct its site visit and write an assessment report. If your museum would like two Peer Reviewers for its site visit, a second Peer Reviewer costs $1,350 ($400 honorarium plus $950 for travel expenses). The museum may be responsible for any peer reviewer costs exceeding the $950 cap.

Large, complex museums or museums with multiple sites may want to consider having a second Peer Reviewer. Benefits of having more than one Peer Reviewer include:

- Multiple perspectives on complex situations

- Ability to meet with more staff and governing authority members face-to-face because Peer Reviewers can split up the duties
- Peer Reviewers with different areas of expertise can concentrate their focus on those areas, matching their expertise to the needs of the participating museum
- Museums preparing for accreditation or reaccreditation may benefit from multiple perspectives

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

Application Format

The application is available in two formats: a simple open Word document with no formatting and a Word version with defined fill-in fields (See the Apply section of www.aam-us.org/map).

In the open Word format, you have the flexibility of formatting the document as you please, having the option of spell check and you have full access to all Word functions. However, in this format, you do not have the convenience of box-checking, which may expedite your completion of the application.

Required Application Materials

The application takes an average of 5-7 hours to complete.

DUNS

Organizations must provide a Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number. Organizations can receive a DUNS number at no cost by calling the toll-free request line at 1-800-526-9018 or by visiting www.dnb.com.

TIN or EIN

A TIN or EIN is a nine-digit number that the IRS assigns to business entities. The IRS uses this number to identify taxpayers who are required to file various business tax returns.

Proof of Non-Profit Status

If your organization is incorporated as a non-profit, you must submit a copy of the Federal IRS letter indicating your organization's eligibility for nonprofit status under the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended. A letter of state sales tax exemption is not accepted as proof of nonprofit status.

Letter from Parent Organization

If your organization operates as part of a unit of state or local government or other tax-exempt multipurpose organization such as a university, you must submit an official document identifying the museum as such and supporting participation in MAP. The certification must be on the parent organization's letterhead, and must refer to the relationship between the parent organization and the applicant, and it must be signed by an official of the parent organization.

Withdrawal Policy

Sometimes museums need to withdraw from the Museum Assessment Program due to unforeseen circumstances that impact availability of staff and governing authority, or because the Alliance staff determines that the museum is not moving forward in the program.

GLOSSARY

Best Practices: Commendable actions and philosophies that successfully solve problems, can be replicated, and demonstrate an awareness of standards.

Dual governance: a governance structure in which two separate legal entities share governance of the museum. This involves dividing or sharing basic governance responsibilities such as determining mission and purpose; hiring, supporting, and evaluating the director; strategic planning; obtaining and managing resources; and monitoring the organization's programs and services. For example: a museum jointly governed by a city government, which owns the collections and the building and hires the staff, and a private nonprofit, which determines museum policy and operates the museum. Does not automatically include museums that have separately incorporated friends organizations, unless the friends organization has significant responsibility for governance of the museum.

General museum: a museum that addresses two or more disciplines to a significant extent; for example, a museum that interprets both art and history, or both history and science.

Governing Authority: the body with legal and fiduciary responsibility for the museum and for approving museum policy (e.g., Board of Commissioners, Board of Directors, Board of Managers, Board of Regents, Board of Trustees, City Council, Commission).

Governing Authority: The executive body to which the director reports/is responsible. It is charged with the fiduciary responsibility for the museum and for approving museum policy.

Names of Governing Authority include: Advisory Council, Board of Commissioners, Board of Directors, Board of Managers, Board of Regents, Board of Trustees, City Council, Commission.

Head of Governing Authority: The elected or appointed head of the executive body (governing authority) to which the director reports. For institutions that are part of a larger non-museum parent organization, the head of governing authority is considered to be the individual within the institution's larger parent organization to whom the director reports/is responsible (e.g., dean or provost of a university, director of parks and recreation for a city government, military post commander, etc.)

Museum system: two or more museums or museum facilities that share a common parent organization. The component parts of a museum system may be museums operating independently or quasi-independently with distinct budgets and governing authorities, or may simply be separate, distinguishable sites all managed by the same organization.

Operating income and expenses: income generated by or expenditures supporting the museum's general operations in a given fiscal year, including exhibitions, education, conservation, collections management, collections acquisitions, research, training, development, and administration. Includes any portion of income from the endowment that is applied to operating expenses in a given year. Does not include capital expenditures.

Parent organization: a larger organization within which a museum operates. Examples of parent organizations are: colleges or universities; tribal, municipal, state, or federal government; state historical societies supervising multiple sites; corporate foundation, etc.

Specialized museum: a museum that does not fall into or combine any of the other discipline areas listed in question 14 of the application—for example, a quilt museum, clock museum, and stamp museum.

Standard: Generally accepted level of attainment for use as a basis of comparison in measuring or judging performance.

Tangible objects: any three-dimensional objects that are used in any way at the museum. Collections managed by virtual museums are not considered to be tangible objects.
