Answer ID	Summary	Answer
26	Am I eligible for free prescriptions?	Medication copayments are charged for each 30 day or less supply of medication provided on an outpatient basis for nonservice-connected conditions. Exemptions from this co-payment requirement are provided for veterans service-connected 50% or more, former POWs, and for veterans whose income is less than the established dollar threshold. Also exempt from the medication copayment are veterans receiving medication for the treatment of conditions related to agent orange, ionizing radiation, Persian Gulf, military sexual trauma, and certain cancers of the head and neck Recent combat veterans are exempt from medication copayments for two years following discharge when being treated for conditions related to their military service.
30	Does VA provide for Chiropractic Care?	VA medical centers and clinics may offer chiropractic spinal manipulative therapy for problems of the spine. Eligible veterans may receive chiropractic care after receiving referral from their primary care provider; however, this service is not offered at all VA facilities. In areas distant from the locations that offer this service, eligible veterans may be able to receive chiropractic care through VA's outpatient fee-basis program after a referral by their primary care provider, and prior authorization by the department. See your primary care provider at your nearest VA medical facility for assistance. All information about health care and health eligibility can be found at http://www.va.gov/healthbenefits/
32	Are veterans of the Coast Guard eligible for healthcare?	Individuals who served in the Coast Guard are veterans and are eligible for VA health care benefits in the same manner as any other veteran who served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Air Force. All information about health care and health eligibility can be found at http://www.va.gov/healthbenefits/
38	Why doesn't VA bill Medicare?	By law, VA cannot bill Medicare. VA is obligated to bill private health insurance carriers for services provided to treat non-service connected conditions which includes health insurance companies that provide Medicare Supplemental insurance policies such as Blue Cross/Blue Shield, AARP, Cigna, etc.
41	I can't afford to make co-payments. What do I do?	There are several options: The first option is to request that a repayment plan be established for your financial situation. This will result in a lesser amount of payment due from you. The second option is to request a waiver for paying your current debt. If you request a waiver, you must submit sufficient proof that you can not financially afford to make payment to VA. The third option is to request a hardship determination to avoid future debts. You will need to submit specific financial information about your current year income. A decision will be made based on information you provide. If you are inquiring about an outstanding medical debt owed to the VA, you may contact the Billing Call Center at (866) 400 1238 You can make payments on your medical debt by calling (888) 827 4817 or online at www.pay.gov .
42	What are my specific co-payments for health care?	Co-payments are required for non-service connected and zero % non-compensable veterans whose income is above the established threshold that is set annually by VA. All information about health care and health eligibility can be found at http://www.va.gov/healthbenefits/ The best way to determine your eligibility and whether or not you would be required to make a co-payment is to contact your nearest VA facility. To find that, visit the facility page at http://www1.va.gov/directory/guide/home.asp?isFlash=1a Click on your state, and the VA medical centers will be listed along with phone numbers.
43	Are all co-payments due at the same time?	You have several options available to you if this co-pays due at the same time become a hardship. Please contact the Billing Call Center at (866) 400 1238.
45	Why does VA ask for health insurance information?	If you are a Priority 7 veteran, providing us your insurance information will allow us to bill your insurance carrier, which will offset part or all of your co-payment. The law requires VA to bill private health insurance companies for all non service-connected care a veteran receives. VA's budget and your future care could depend on the amount VA is able to collect from private health insurance carriers. By not giving us insurance information you may be limiting your future care and that of many other veterans.
46	Is this a health insurance policy or an HMO?	It is neither. VA health benefits are established by Federal law and regulations and funded through appropriations. They are not the same as an insurance contract. Also, veterans do not pay monthly premiums to receive VA health care. In addition, you are not required to use VA as your exclusive health care provider. If you have health insurance, or eligibility for other programs such as Medicare, Medicaid, or CHAMPUS, you may continue to use services under those programs. We recommend that, if you have other health insurance or HMO coverage, you should keep that coverage to provide you with options and flexibility in the future.
47	Should I keep my health insurance?	VA's ability to provide health care benefits is restricted each year to that amount of dollars appropriated by Congress for the provision of health care to veterans. That amount could, in any given year, require the VA to restrict the number of veterans enrolled for health care benefits. This means that in a given year the VA may not be in a position to enroll you, and you would have to depend on your own health insurance.
48	Should I complete an Advanced Directive?	VA encourages veterans to think about their health care options through the use of Advanced Directives such as Living Wills and Durable Power of Attorney. Treatment staff at your local facility can assist in explaining these options to you. VA staff will help you complete the required forms if you so desire.
49	What is Hepatitis C and what should I do if I suspect I have it?	Hepatitis is basically an inflammation of the liver, the organ that eliminates toxins and is important in metabolism. VA will test any eligible enrolled veteran who believes he or she has been exposed to hepatitis C. VA will also provide treatment for those who test positive and you may be responsible for a co-payment. For more information, please contact your local VA Medical Center.
50	What is a State Veterans Home?	The State Veterans Home is a home approved by the U. S. Department of Veterans Affairs which was established by a State for veterans disabled by age, disease, or otherwise who by reason of such disability are incapable of earning a living. State homes include facilities for domiciliary nursing home care, and/or adult day health care. Hospital care may be included when provided in conjunction with domiciliary or nursing home care. A state home may also provide care to veteran related family members. For further information, please contact your local VA Medical Center.
52	What is CARES?	It is an acronym that stands for "Capital Asset Realignment for Enhanced Services." CARES is a reorganization study to ensure veterans receive the right care, at the right time, at the right place. It is designed to objectively evaluate the best ways to provide quality health care and services, to more veterans, in more locations, now and into the future. VA intends to keep pace with technology and advances in the medical field not just to provide adequate care, but also to provide the finest care in the world. Measurable, consistent evaluation will enable VA to make the best decisions possible for veterans' health care today and in the future, in the most cost-effective manner. The needs of special disability groups will be addressed and remain a priority. Once CARES is completed, veteran satisfaction is expected to increase as a result of better access, more efficient programs and superior support services.

583	Non-compensable disability	A noncompensable disability is one which VA has determined is service-connected, but does not meet the scheduler requirements for a compensable evaluation.&#160;&#160;Veterans are entitled to medical care at the VA Medical Center for any service-connected condition, but do not receive a monetary payment for a noncompensable disability.&#160;&#160;The only exception to this is if a veteran is suffering from two or more separate permanent service-connected disabilities of such character as clearly to interfere with normal employability, even though none of the disabilities may be of compensable degree under the 1945 Schedule for Rating Disabilities the rating agency is authorized to apply a 10-percent rating, but not in combination with any other rating.
589	Difference between VA compensation and severance disability?	For a full explanation of severance pay from the military versus compensation from the VA, please refer to&#160;38 U.S.C., 3.700.3 for the legislative rules governing these differences. A quick explanation of how VA compensation versus severance disability works is this: Disability severance pay from the military is granted for a disability received or acquired while in the military and is usually paid in a lump sum. VA compensation is unlike severance pay because it is not paid in a single lump sum, but is paid out over time. If the VA were to pay you compensation and severance pay for the same disability, you would be getting paid twice for the same disability. According to law, this is not allowed. If you filed for other disabilities that were not related to your disability severance, the VA could possibly pay you for those disabilities. For all current information about compensation and pension benefits and requirements, etc., go to http://www.vba.va.gov/VBA/&#160; and click on the applicable links. &#160;

The evidence should reflect your condition within the past 12 months and include any hospital reports and outpatient treatment records. If you do not have the evidence, be sure to provide information telling VA where the evidence can be obtained.
926	Can I have my claim reconsidered even though denied in the past?	If you have new evidence to support your previously denied claim, you should send a written request to your VA regional office to have your claim reopened. Include the new supporting evidence (or information telling VA where the evidence can be obtained). You may use VA Form 21-4138, Statement in Support of Claim, to submit your written request. You may find the form at: http://www.vba.va.gov/pubs/forms/VBA-21-4138-ARE.pdf .
927	What should I do if I think an error was made on a previous disability decision?	If it has not yet been a year since that decision was issued, you are still within the time frame to appeal the decision, and you should file a Notice of Disagreement. This must be submitted in writing and specify exactly your disagreement with the decision you received. You should refer to your decision notification letter and the attached VA form 4107, Your Rights To Appeal Our Decision, for further guidance on filing a Notice of Disagreement. You may download a copy of VA Form 4107 at: http://www.vba.va.gov/pubs/forms/4107.PDF . If you do not have a copy of your decision notification letter, VA can send that information to you. You may contact the VA regional office to make that request by going to VA's web messaging site, https://iris.custhelp.com. If it has been more than a year since VA made the decision that you believe is incorrect, that decision is now final. If you wish to have that decision reviewed, you will need to specifically identify the error you believe was made, such as the determination of service connection, the effective date, or evaluation for a claimed disability. You will also need to identify the factor(s) that resulted in an incorrect outcome, such as the incorrect application of the law. It may be best to discuss your personal situation with a VA or Veterans Service Organization representative who can advise and assist you with your claim. VA offers a web site list of most National, State and local veterans service organizations at: http://www1.va.gov/vso/ .
928	Do I need to do anything if I have a claim or appeal pending with VA?	No action is needed on your part until you receive correspondence from VA which will identify anything needed on your part. When processing your claim for benefits, VA will send a letter to you informing you if further information is needed and outlining the evidence needed to support your claim. Upon receipt of an appeal, VA will send a letter acknowledging the receipt of your appeal and asking if you would like to follow the traditional appellate process or have a DRO review your case.
929	If VA increases my disability rating or adds another disability, when will my increased benefits be effective?	The effective date for your increased benefits will usually be the date VA receives your claim for an increase or a new disability. VA may award an earlier effective date for an individual evaluation of a current service-connected disability if private medical evidence reveals that there is an increase in the veteran's disability and a claim is received within one year of the factually ascertainable increase. For example, if there is medical evidence to show that the veteran's service-connected left knee arthritis was worse on June 13, 2009, and we receive a claim for an increased evaluation for the veteran's left knee arthritis on December 6, 2009, then the effective date for the increased evaluation will be June 13, 2009. Additionally, VA will also consider treatment reports from VA or the uniform services, and the date of admission (or examination) will be accepted as the date of claim (unlimited retroactive entitlement) when increased disability is shown. For all current information about compensation and pension, eligibility, payment rates, applications, etc., go to http://www.vba.va.gov/VBA/
930	Can I get back compensation payments?	In general the effective date will be the date your claim was received by VA or the date entitlement arose, whichever is the later, however there are exceptions to this general rule. To review the regulations governing effective dates please visit: www.benefits.va.gov/WARMS/docs/regs/38cfr/bookb/part3/s3_400.doc
931	How long will it take to receive a decision on my compensation claim?	The length of time it takes to receive a decision depends on several factors, such as the complexity of your disability(ies), the number of disabilities you claim, and the availability of evidence needed to decide your claim. Currently most claims are being processed within six months, but can take longer in complex claims.

935	Are VA disability compensation and VA pension the same?	VA compensation and a VA pension are not the same thing. The simplest explanation is that VA compensation is a benefit paid on the basis of the kind and severity of a disability that happened as a result of your active duty in military service. VA pension is a benefit paid on the basis of a disability that was not a result of active service in the military, or because of age. Pension is also based on income. There are other criteria that may apply to deciding eligibility for VA pension. That's why it is a good idea to contact a representative at VA regional office to discuss your situation, or go to a national, state, or local veterans service organization for help. The VA regional office may be contacted via: Telephone at: 1-800-827-1000. The decision as to whether a Veteran's net worth is excessive depends on the facts of each individual case. All net worth should be reported and VA will determine if a Veteran's assets are of a sufficient amount that the claimant could live off these assets for a reasonable period of time. Pension is a needs-based program and is not intended to protect substantial assets or build up an estate for the benefit of heirs.

"13-Fold" Ceremony, Other Scripts Approved

WASHINGTON -- To ensure burial services at the 125 national cemeteries operated by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) reflect the wishes of veterans and their families, VA officials have clarified the Department's policy about recitations made while the U.S. flag is folded at the gravesite of a veteran.

"Honoring the burial wishes of veterans is one of the highest commitments for the men and women of VA," said William F. Tuerk, VA's Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs. "A family may request the recitation of words to accompany the meaningful presentation of the American flag as we honor the dedication and sacrifice of their loved ones."

Traditional gravesite military funeral honors include the silent folding and presentation of an American flag, a 21-gun rifle salute, and the playing of "Taps."

Volunteer honor guards are authorized to read the so-called "13-fold" flag recitation or any comparable script;

Survivors of the deceased need to provide material and request it be read by the volunteer honor guards; and

"This online feature is intended to reach out to all Veterans who may or may not be enrolled in the VA health care system and provide them with online access to the Crisis Line; it is meant to provide Veterans with an anonymous way to access VA's crisis prevention services. Veterans retain anonymity by entering whatever names they choose once they enter the one-on-one chat. They are then joined by a counselor who is trained to provide information and respond to the requests and concerns of the caller. If the counselor decides the caller is in a crisis, the counselor will encourage the Veteran to call the Crisis Line , where a trained crisis or suicide prevention counselor will determine whether crisis intervention techniques are required.

1851	I have already obtained one VA loan. Can I get another one?	Yes, your eligibility is reusable depending on the circumstances. Normally, if you have paid off your prior VA loan and disposed of the property, you can have your used eligibility restored for additional use. Also, on a one-time only basis, you may have your eligibility restored if your prior VA loan has been paid in full but you still own the property. In either case, to obtain restoration of eligibility, the veteran must send a completed VA Form 26-1880 to our Atlanta Eligibility Center. To prevent delays in processing, it is also advisable to include evidence that the prior loan has been paid in full and, if applicable, the property disposed of. This evidence can be in the form of a paid-in-full statement from the former lender, or a copy of the HUD-1 settlement statement completed in connection with a sale of the property or refinance of the prior loan.
1852	Can I get my eligibility restored to use for a new loan?	In this case the veteran's eligibility can be restored only if the qualified assumer is also an eligible veteran who is willing to substitute his or her available eligibility for that of the original veteran. Otherwise, the original veteran cannot have eligibility restored until the assumer has paid off the VA loan.
1853	My prior VA loan was assumed, the assumer defaulted on the loan	In either case, although the veteran's debt was waived by VA, the Government still suffered a loss on the loan. The law does not permit the used portion of the veteran's eligibility to be restored until the loss has been repaid in full.
1854	Only a portion of my eligibility is available at this time	Yes, depending on the circumstances. If a veteran has already used a portion of his or her eligibility and the used portion cannot yet be restored, any partial remaining eligibility would be available for use. The veteran would have to discuss with a lender whether the remaining balance would be sufficient for the loan amount sought and whether any down payment would be required.
1855	Surviving spouse of a deceased veteran eligible for the home loan benefit	The unmarried surviving spouse of a veteran who died on active duty or as the result of a service-connected disability is eligible for the home loan benefit. 1856	List of VA Approved Appraisers	The Construction and Valuation Sections at each of the VA Regional Loan Centers maintain a list of approved VA fee appraisers within their jurisdiction.
1857	Time for Appraiser to complete appraisal	Fee appraisers must complete VA assignments as quickly as appraisals for conventional loans are completed in the area where the property is located as determined by VA market surveys; Extenuating circumstances may justify a delay; Refer to the Lender's Handbook, Section 11.03.
1858	How are appraisers added to the VA fee panel?	Fee appraiser panels are maintained by the Construction and Valuation section (C&V) at the VA Regional Loan Center (RLC) having jurisdiction over the area in which the appraisals are performed; Qualified appraisers are added to the panel on an "as needed" bases; Inquires should be made to C&V at the appropriate RLC.

1861	Are the children of a living or deceased veteran eligible for the home loan benefit?	No, the children of an eligible veteran are not eligible for the home loan benefit;
1862	What if I don't agree with the value on the appraisal or NOV?	Any party of interest to the transaction can submit a request (written) through the lender to the fee appraiser on whose appraisal the current VA valuation is based, for a reconsideration of value; Requests other than to change value will be submitted through the lender to the VA office of jurisdiction; Although there is no requirement that comparable sales or other real estate market information be submitted with a request for a change in value, such supporting information will greatly assist the VA in reviewing the request; Lender Appraisal Processing Program (LAPP) cases should also include a recommendation by the Staff Appraisal Reviewer (SAR).
1863	Process to Convert FHA Appraisal to VA	You must contact the Construction and Valuation section at the Regional Loan Center having jurisdiction over the location of the property; Generally a HUD appraisal cannot be converted for VA use, but there is one exception as explained in the VA Lender's Handbook, section 10.11.
1864	Automated Valuation Model	No; All VA appraisals must be performed by VA fee panel appraisers, assigned on a rotational basis.
1865	What is a VA Guaranteed Home Loan?	VA guaranteed loans are made by private lenders, such as banks, savings & loans, or mortgage companies to eligible veterans for the purchase of a home which must be for their own personal occupancy. The guaranty means the lender is protected against loss if you fail to repay the loan. The guaranty replaces the protection the lender normally receives by requiring a down payment allowing you to obtain favorable financing terms.
1866	Asbestos Insulation	VA does not address asbestos related issues specifically, however, deteriorating asbestos insulation within the confines of a home may be considered hazardous to one's health; Chapter 12 - Minimum Property Requirements VA Pamplet 26-7, Revised states: 12.06 Hazards and Defective Conditions The property must be free of hazards which may adversely affect the health and safety of the occupants, adversely affect the structural soundness of the dwelling and other improvements to the property, or impair the customary use and enjoyment of the property by the occupants. If an appraiser notices this condition, he/she should make a note on the appraisal report and require an inspection with corrections as needed by a professional in that field with full disclosure to the veteran.
1867	What is pre-purchase counseling and why is it helpful?	Pre-purchase counseling gives a person information on (1) the process of buying a home, (2) the key players in the home buying process, and (3) debt management. The goal is to create a better informed homebuyer. While VA does not require such counseling, we strongly recommend it. There is usually no charge for the housing counseling. An excellent online source of information for first time homebuyers is provided by Ginnie Mae. To locate a housing counseling office call (800) 569-4287 or visit HUDs website. The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) maintains both the phone number and website.
1868	Does my entitlement guarantee that I will get a home loan?	No, VA cannot compel a lender to make a loan that would violate their lender policies. Lenders must also comply with VA income and credit standards. If a lender is unwilling to make a loan to you, we can only suggest that you try other lenders.
1869	How much is my entitlement?	Your basic entitlement is $36,000. For loans in excess of $144,000 to purchase or construct a home, additional entitlement up to an amount equal to 25 percent of the VA county loan limit for a single family home may be available. VA county loan limits, which can change yearly, are available at this link. The loan limits are the amount a qualified veteran with full entitlement may be able to borrow without making a downpayment.
1870	How do I obtain a VA Home Loan?	Here are the steps: Select a home and discuss the purchase with the seller or selling agent. Sign a purchase contract conditioned on approval of your VA home loan. Select a lender, present them with your Certificate of Eligibility if available, and complete a loan application;The lender can also obtain a Certificate of Eligibility on your behalf. The lender will develop all credit and income information. They will also request VA to assign a licensed appraiser to determine the reasonable value for the property. A Certificate of Reasonable Value will be issued. Note: You may be required to pay for the credit report and appraisal unless the seller agrees to pay. The lender will let you know the decision on the loan. You should be approved if the established value and your credit and income are acceptable. You (and spouse) attend the loan closing. The lender or closing attorney will explain the loan terms and requirements as well as where and how to make the monthly payments. Sign the note, mortgage, and other related papers.

1871	Benefits of a VA home loan	There are many benefits of a VA Home loan: Equal opportunity. No down payment (unless required by the lender or the purchase price is more than the reasonable value of the property). Buyer informed of reasonable value. Negotiable interest rate. Ability to finance the VA funding fee (plus reduced funding fees with a down payment of at least 5% and exemption for veterans receiving VA compensation). Closing costs are comparable with other financing types (and may be lower). No mortgage insurance premiums. An assumable mortgage. Right to prepay without penalty. For homes inspected by VA during construction, a warranty from builder and assistance from VA to obtain cooperation of builder. VA assistance to veteran borrowers in default due to temporary financial difficulty.
1872	What can VA not do?	Guarantee that a home is free of defects. VA guarantees only the loan. It is your responsibility to assure that you are satisfied with the property being purchased. The VA appraisal is not intended to be an "inspection" of the property. You should seek expert advice (a qualified residential inspection service), as necessary, BEFORE legally committing to a purchase agreement. If you have a home built, VA cannot compel the builder to correct construction defects although VA does have the authority to suspend a builder from further participation in the home loan program. VA cannot guarantee that you are making a good investment.&#160;&#160;VA cannot provide you with legal services.
1873	Radon	While Radon testing is not required, it is encouraged. For information on Radon and how to test, please read the Environmental Protection Agency guide found at this link.
1874	Is a guaranteed loan a gift?	No, it must be repaid, just as you must repay any money you borrow. If you fail to make the payments you agreed to make, you may lose your home through foreclosure.
1875	Can I get a loan for a home outside of the United States?	Unfortunately, the law only allows VA to guarantee loans on property in the United States, its territories, or possessions.
1876	bankruptcy	The fact you and/or your spouse have been adjudicated bankrupt does not in itself disqualify you for a VA home loan. The following rules apply: If the bankruptcy was discharged more than 2 years ago, it may be disregarded If the bankruptcy was discharged within the last 1 to 2 years, it is probably not possible to determine that you and/or your spouse are a satisfactory credit risk unless both of the following requirements are met: you and/or your spouse have reestablished satisfactory credit, and the bankruptcy was caused by circumstances beyond your and/or your spouses control (such as unemployment, medical bills, etc.) If the bankruptcy was discharged within the past 12 months, it will not generally be possible to determine that you and/or your spouse are satisfactory credit risks.
1877	VA funding fee	The VA funding fee is required by law. The fee is intended to enable the veteran who obtains a VA home loan to contribute toward the cost of this benefit, and thereby reduce the cost to taxpayers. The funding fee for second time users who do not make a down payment is slightly higher. The idea of a higher fee for second time use is based on the fact that these veterans have already had a chance to use the benefit once, and also that prior users have had time to accumulate equity or save money towards a down payment. First and second time users who make a down payment of at least 5 percent pay a reduced funding fee of 1.5 percent, the same as first time users making the same down payment. For a 10 percent down payment, the fee drops to 1.25 percent. The effect of the funding fee on a veteran's financial situation is minimized since the fee may be financed in the loan. National Guard and Reservist veterans pay a slightly higher funding fee percentage. To determine the exact funding fee percentage, please review the funding fee table.
1878	Do I need to occupy the property	The law requires that you certify that you intend to occupy the property as your home. This requirement is considered satisfied if you actually intend to occupy the property as your home and in fact so occupy it when the loan is closed or within a reasonable time afterward.
1879	I am a single veteran stationed overseas and want to buy a home in my home town	The law specifically provides that occupancy by the veteran's spouse satisfies the personal occupancy requirement. The law makes no provision for occupancy by any other relatives as a substitute for personal occupancy by the veteran.
1880	May a veteran join with a non veteran who is not his or her spouse in obtaining a VA loan?	Yes, but the guaranty is based only on the veteran's portion of the loan. The guaranty cannot cover the nonveteran's part of the loan. Consult lenders to determine whether they would be willing to accept applications for joint loans of this type. Lenders that are willing to make these types of loans will likely require a down payment to cover risk on the unguaranteed, nonveteran's portion of the loan. Unlike other loans, the lender must submit joint loans to VA for approval before they are made. Both incomes can be used to qualify for the loan. However, the veteran's income must be sufficient to repay at least that portion of the loan related to the veteran's interest in (portion of) the property and the nonveteran's income must be adequate to cover the rest.
1881	If a veteran dies before the loan is paid off, will the VA guaranty pay off the balance of the loan?	No. The surviving spouse or other co-borrower must continue to make the payments. If there is no CO-borrower, the loan becomes the obligation of the veteran's estate. Mortgage life insurance is available but must be purchased from private insurance sources.
1882	My home was appraised by VA and now I am having problems with its condition. Wasn't the appraisal an inspection of the property and can't VA help me with these problems?	Although the VA fee appraiser must view the property from both the exterior and interior to determine its overall condition, the appraisal process is not intended to be an "inspection" of the property. While the appraiser is an experienced observer, and is required to recommend needed repairs based upon his or her observations while completing the appraisal, the appraiser is not expected to recommend cosmetic repairs, ensure that mechanical, electrical and plumbing systems work properly, climb on the roof, etc. VA cannot guarantee that all defective conditions will be seen by the appraiser, or that the property will otherwise be satisfactory to the buyer in all respects, and we have no authority to assist veteran homeowners with the correction of defects in existing homes. VA encourages homebuyers to satisfy themselves that the home they intend to purchase is in a condition that is acceptable to them.
1883	correct construction defects	If the new home was inspected by a fee compliance inspector assigned by VA or HUD during construction, VA has complaint processing procedures that are used to attempt to get the builder to correct construction defects which the VA determines are the builder's responsibility. A complaint must be registered with VA within the first year of ownership. Ultimately, VA does not have the authority to force a builder to make corrections to a property. Also, some problems about which a veteran complains may be determined by VA to be within minimum standards of acceptable building practice. In such cases, VA will not look to the builder for correction. However, when builders refuse to correct items which VA determines are their responsibility to correct, VA will take administrative sanctions against them and refuse to do further business with them. In the end, some veterans may still need to pursue legal action against the builder.
1884	escrow account for taxes and insurance	VA does NOT require lenders to maintain escrow accounts. VA does require that lenders ensure that the property is covered by sufficient hazard insurance at all times and that property taxes are paid. Most lenders decide to use escrow accounts to do this, but they are not required by VA and VA has no standards governing them. They are governed by RESPA which is administered by the US Dept. of Housing and Urban Development. For more information, click here.
1885	Does having a VA loan limit a veteran's right or ability to sell the property?	No. A veteran may sell the property to a veteran or non-veteran at any time. However, if the loan was closed after March 1, 1988, and it will be assumed, the qualifications of the assumer must be reviewed and approved by the lender or VA.

1886	Assume existing VA loan	No. If the loan was closed after March 1, 1988, the lender or VA must be notified and requested to approve the assumer and grant the veteran release from liability. If the loan was closed prior to March 1, 1988, the loan may be assumed without approval from VA or the lender. However, the veteran is strongly encouraged to request a release of liability from VA in order to avoid owing a debt to the Government if the loan assumer (or a subsequent assumer) fails to pay the loan.
1887	veteran obtains a release of liability	No. The assumer must not only qualify from a credit and income standpoint, but he or she must be a veteran with sufficient entitlement to substitute for that used by the original veteran in obtaining the loan and meet occupancy requirements.
1888	trouble repaying the loan	It is best to talk with the lender as soon as possible to explain why the payments are late and when and how those late payments will be made. If there was a job loss, divorce, or other serious problem, and the regular monthly payments cannot be made, then it may be best to sell the home to avoid foreclosure. VA may be able to assist in arranging a repayment plan or other alternative to foreclosure. VA offers home loan counseling through its 9 Regional Loan Centers (RLCs). Call our toll-free number (800-827-1000) to request a call-back from a Loan Service Representative or click here for the phone number and address of the RLC closest to you.
1889	What is VA refunding?	When VA refunds a loan, the loan is purchased from the private lender. VA only refunds a loan when the veteran has had problems making the payments due to circumstances beyond his or her control, the problems have improved so that payments can now be made or will be in the near future, but the loan holder is not willing to wait before taking action to terminate the loan. Refunding is rare because most lenders prefer to work out the problems, if at all possible, rather than selling the loan to VA and thereby giving up the right to future income from that loan.
1890	compromise claim payment	When a veteran attempts to sell his or her home and the expected proceeds from the sale are not enough to pay off the existing loan, and the veteran has no other source of funds to complete the transaction, a VA compromise claim pays the difference. As with any claim payment by VA, the veteran usually remains liable to VA for the amount of the claim payment. However, the compromise claim is usually less than the claim which would have been payable if the sale had fallen through, the veteran had failed to make the loan payments, and the lender had foreclosed on the loan.
1891	If a veteran dies before the loan is paid off, will the VA guaranty pay off the balance of the loan?	No. The surviving spouse or other co-borrower must continue to make the payments. If there is no co-borrower, the loan becomes the obligation of the veteran's estate. Mortgage life insurance is available but must be purchased from private insurance sources.

1925	Notifying VA of returned short payoff as a partial payment	Servicers are required to submit the Partial Payment Returned event when they return a partial payment to the borrower. A partial payment is a remittance by or on behalf of the borrower on a loan in default of any amount less than the full amount due under the terms of the loan and security instruments at the time the remittance is tendered. Funds submitted for paying off the loan are not considered a partial payment as they were not remitted for the purpose of bringing the loan current; therefore, the servicer would not be required to submit the Partial Payment Returned event.

1930	If the customer is a cease and desist customer should the letter still be mailed?	 If the customer has a court order prohibiting contact or collection actions, then it would appear that the letter should not be sent. However, that issue should be reviewed with servicer's counsel for more definitive guidance.
1931	Loss Mitigation letter be mailed to deceased borrower	Most servicers change account names to read "Estate of..." in such a situation. The letter would be appropriate in that case to provide information to the executor of the estate, or the heirs who may be receiving information on the affairs of the deceased.
1932	If the property is vacant, should the Loss Mitigation Letter still be mailed?	Yes. The borrower may simply not have provided the servicer with a forwarding address, but the letter will be forwarded if the borrower filed such a request with the Postal Service. The borrower may also have made other arrangements (with a neighbor or relative).
1933	If the customer is active bankruptcy should the Loss Mitigation Letter letter still be mailed?	This should be discussed with your counsel. However, VA expects that in most such cases the letter will not be sent, as it probably could be viewed as a prohibited collection action.
1934	Loss Mitigation Letter Questions be ing mailed to a chapter 7 discharge non-reaffirmed borrower	We understand some servicers send special letters under these circumstances. Those special letters have been designed with the assistance of counsel to provide the status of the loan and list potential actions by the servicer, without specifically asking for payment. If such a letter contained advice that the loan was guaranteed by VA and provided the VA website address, that might be beneficial to a veteran, as well as the servicer.
1935	Can the VA loss mitigation letter be blended with another letter?	Yes. The regulation contains two paragraphs of specific language. VA expects that most servicers will blend the letter with a particular VA identification so that it can be sent in the required situations.
1936	Is Loss Mitigation Letter Questions required on VA Vendee Loans and Mobile Homes ?	The letter is not required and would not be appropriate for vendee loans. For manufactured home loans guaranteed under Title 38, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 3712, the letter is not required, as such loans are governed by the regulations at title 38, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), sections 36.4201 through 36.4287, inclusive. However, loans for manufactured homes that are permanently affixed and are guaranteed under 38 U.S.C. 3710, do fall under the new rules and the letter must be sent. Servicers must exercise due caution in reviewing manufactured home loans in their portfolios to ensure that they are properly designated as guaranteed under 3710 or 3712, and if guaranteed under 3710, that the homes are permanently affixed to the lots in accordance with current State laws.
1937	Can the Loss Mitigation Letter be sent on the 45th day of delinquency on all loans regardless of previous modification or date of origination? 1941	If a property is in probate would it be best to proceed with a liquidation option, or wait for probate to be completed?	You would need to consult with your attorney but prompt termination of the loan is in the best interest of all parties.

1943	May the servicer take verbal financial information when considering a loan modification?	This is an internal process. It is not a VA requirement. VA only requires supporting documentation that was used to complete the underwriting of the loan to complete the loan modification at the time of a post-audit.
1944	Should the compromise sale purchase be "arms length?"	Every case needs to be reviewed but the bottom line is that the net proceeds of the sale must not be less than net value.
1945	Is it allowable on compromise sale if relative purchases the house and allows the current homeowner(s) to live in the house.	Every case needs to be reviewed but the bottom line is that the net proceeds of the sale must not be less than net value.
