[Programming note: text for when father responds with something other than the number corresponding to a response: Sorry, your response did not match any of the options for this question. Please try again.]

Fielding Assumption:

Our goal is to use information we download from nFORM -- about treatment assignment, enrollment, and attended which sessions -- to target when someone is eligible to receive the first module. All subsequent modules will be assigned in a random order for the subsequent weeks, except for Module B. A father must be absent during a given week to be eligible for Module B. The response options for all questions may need to be tailored to the control group.

To be eligible for text surveys, fathers must either have a smartphone or an email address for the purpose of incentive delivery.

MODULE A: ENGAGEMENT DURING PROGRAM

Sample/Frequency: This module could be asked of any cohort in any week, for program and control group participants in any site. To test whether receiving these questions primes either group, we suggest sending the module to a portion of the sample at one time and then sending it to the other portion a week later. This way we can still capture the responses of the full sample, but can eventually look at the MIS data to determine if we see an uptick in participation in the week or two that follows the message receipt.

Hello!

Welcome to the Building Bridges and Bonds study (B3) website. You may remember agreeing to participate in this study when you enrolled in services at your local parenting and/or employment services provider. One part of the study is answering a few questions sent to your cell phone to learn about your opinions of the program. The questions will be sent to you by text message and you can choose from multiple answers to best describe your experience.

You will be asked to answer one short survey about once a week for no more than 5 total surveys. Each survey includes no more than 8 questions and answering the questions will take no more than 5 minutes each time. You will receive $5 for completing a survey, getting up to $25 total for completing all of the surveys. You will receive the money with an electronic Visa gift card either by text message or email, your choice, after completing the surveys. You can redeem the money for up to one year.

Answering the survey is your choice. There are no penalties if you decide to not take the survey. You can text "STOP" to opt out of any survey you receive. Standard messaging rates apply. Your participation in this survey is completely voluntary.

Your name will not be included in any written reports and your responses will be kept private to the extent permitted by law.

MDRC is conducting the B3 study on behalf of The Administration for Children and Families (ACF), a division of the Department of Health and Human Services. ACF obtained Office of Management and Budget approval for the collection of this information.
